Governor Wilson seems to be waiting until after his inauguration to start an Ananias club.

Soon there may be enough deposed presidents of American republics to hold annual reunions.

Billy Sunday is reported to have cleaned up $21,000 at Columbus, O.

Going to prison seems to have become so common with the London suffragists as to have lost its attractiveness.

The Nebraska Journal extends sympathy to Sylvia Fankhurst, but absolutely refuses to endorse her methods.

It was one of the fair sex who suggested that Hiram Maxim invent a woman silencer.

Now that the Mexican revolution is ended the country can again take up the work of providing Mr. Wilson with a cabinet.

Mr. Hearst tried pretty hard, but he failed to stir up a war this time.

In London a bishop has appealed to his flock not to observe Lent too strictly.

President-elect Wilson's inaugural address will contain only 2,000 words.

Mr. Carnegie, if he still has the desire to die poor, might devote some of his wealth to pensioning deposed presidents of American republics.

A West Virginia lawyer referred to a wealthy widow in court as a modern Cleopatra.

Woodrow Wilson has been given passes to all the league games in Washington next season.

The suppression of polygamy in Utah was accomplished only with the greatest difficulty.

Considering some of the snapshots of Mr. Wilson that have been published, it ought not to be wondered at that he told a photographer who was trailing him that he was no gentleman.

A New York hotel man proposes to solve the tip problem by making a 10 per cent reduction on his restaurant and table checks.

The decision of Vincent Astor to become a farmer has brought forth much comment from press and public.

A bill introduced into the Illinois senate abolishes capital punishment and provides that a murderer shall be fined not more than $25,000.

Oysters come nearer in composition to cods than do most other meats.

The plan to lend money to the farmer which has passed the stage of suggestion in this country is almost ready to be put in operation in the Philippines.

The two whales display a lordly indifference to everything except herring.

Whales herd herring. From Prince Rupert comes the report that two herring whales have been engaged to herd the shoals of herring into that port for the benefit of the fishermen.

The situation as follows: Every man wears what is right in his own eyes, and there is no ridicule. A banana goes jauntily down the street followed by a fur-covered brim cap. Felt hats of scarlet and verdigris green follow along with grays and browns that really do the amateur hatmaker credit.

THE NEW PORK BARREL. For many years the rivers and harbors appropriation bill has been the scandal of congress, but people have grown so accustomed to the outrage that they have almost ceased to make a fuss about it.

Out of that silence, perhaps, has grown something worse. It is the public buildings bill passed by the present congress, carrying $25,000,000. A complete list of those places benefited by the system of log rolling employed in order to pass the measure would be interesting reading.

For instance, there is an appropriation of $20,000 obtained by Representative Campbell of Kentucky for his native village of Georgetown. The census of 1910 gave Georgetown 3,823 inhabitants.

That appears to have been a low basis for Mr. Campbell's Kentucky appropriations. Paintville, allowed $5,000, has 541 inhabitants. The appropriation is a little over $9 per head. Pikeville does still better. It gets $5,000 for a population of 508—almost $10 per head.

RIEDMANN MUST MAKE GOOD. Doubt and disputed claims and assertions must soon give place to certainty in respect to the Friedmann cure for tuberculosis.

Friedmann must give and urge the fullest publicity or stand discredited. He must prove his case or lose his reputation and whatever prestige he has gained by the widely heralded claims made in his behalf.

THE CARNEGIE FOUNDATION. Somebody in the past said: "Beware of the Greeks when bearing gifts." Congress and the country at large seem inclined to apply the same sentiment to the Scots—to one of them at least—Mr. Andrew Carnegie.

first observed the efforts of the leviathans to corner the herring market in a rocky cove near Prince Rupert. The whales drove the herring close to shore, and after opening their mouths to the wide angle they went to work on the shoals of fish at such speed, with the result that many of the herring were missing from the shoal.

KANSAS COMMENT

JUGGLING A PLEDGE. The Democratic, Republican and Socialist parties in Kansas are all pledged to hold long legislative sessions, and referendum, yet it appears to be a remarkable fact that the present session of the legislature is liable to close without effectually fulfilling that pledge.
