ELEPHANTS.

The republican party deserves.

As a vote for the republican party is a vote for the continuance of the war and a vote for the prolongation of the suffering of the people. It is a vote for the continuance of the slave system and a vote for the destruction of the republic.

The time is come when the people of this country must decide whether they will have peace or war. They must decide whether they will have freedom or slavery. They must decide whether they will have a republic or a monarchy.

The republican party is the party of peace and freedom. It is the party of the people. It is the party of the working man. It is the party of the farmer. It is the party of the laborer. It is the party of the citizen.

The republican party is the party of the future. It is the party of the progress of society. It is the party of the development of the individual. It is the party of the advancement of the race.

The republican party is the party of the republic. It is the party of the republicanism. It is the party of the republican constitution. It is the party of the republican government.

The republican party is the party of the people. It is the party of the people's rights. It is the party of the people's liberties. It is the party of the people's interests.

The republican party is the party of the people's future. It is the party of the people's country. It is the party of the people's home. It is the party of the people's life.

The republican party is the party of the people. It is the party of the people's heart. It is the party of the people's soul. It is the party of the people's spirit.

The republican party is the party of the people. It is the party of the people's life. It is the party of the people's destiny. It is the party of the people's purpose.