A Double Funeral.

The death angel made two visits to home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hutchinson Wins Saturday.

The ball game Saturday was another victory for the Salt Jacks, they defeating Hoisington 8 to 1. Some way Hutchinson plays better at home than away from home, as they are doing about the same things to Hoisington they did to Great Bend. The battery for Hoisington, Saturday, was varied but ineffectual, Wayne tried his hand at pitching, but was taken out and Holme put in the box. Then when Holm failed to make good, Wind was put in, but Hutchinson had 'em going south, and made six tallies in the last inning.

A TIMELY HINT.

From A. Washful Great Bend Boy.

Com' boys, now get your finger up. 'Tis time to do and dare; And take that pretty girl of yours To the Barton County Fair.

The papers all describe the Fair As something just splendidness And the lad who does not take his girl Is a non-computer in a cinch.

No, no; I really don't mean that: He may be by a "bashful baby", Also he's covered up a bit His case more hopeful may be.

Just hint a little gentle like, And smooth for him the way, The arts and wiles of 'G-man' craft: Will win, most any day.

But if, with patience long and tried, Your courting don't avail, Take a Washful Great Bend boy's advice And seek another male.

Then as joyously to the fair grounds You run in arm and hand, Just scratch your head and carefully The following moral ponder:

O, woman! 'Tis your lot to him; While you must pop the question, So, you should love him all you can, When he lacks in amputation.

Did you ever notice what a difference it makes to walk down the street with a bright, smiling countenance, instead of a sour, hate all man-kind expression? When you wear the happy smile it seems that everyone you meet greets you in a like manner and is your friend. But when you have the "cranks" and do not care to look your friends in the face, the disease seems to become contagious instantly and even your best friends pass with an unfriendly glance. It surely has a great affect to look happy, not only on ones self but on every one you come in contact with.—Hollywood Banner.

Like a Ship in Rough Sea.

31 Fountain St., Worcester, Mass.
I suffered from heart disease for five years, so that I often felt as if the top of my head came off, and my legs seemed to go into the ground, so that I acted like a drunken man or a ship on a rough sea. Before this would have been my end, I was very little and was always afraid that something unusual would happen. But I thank God for taking only two bottles of Foster's Kidney & Bladder Tonic. I am well again, after being so long in the grave, and though people thought I would get a relapse, it is six months now and I have not noticed any symptoms of it. W. H. ETCHEY.
Mrs. Brown, from Liberty St., in the same city writes, that she was cured by Foster's Kidney & Bladder Tonic from heart disease and liver complaint, after she suffered 12 years.
