POLITICAL GOSSIP

Judge F. W. Sturges of Concordia in Topeka.

Preparing Papers in the Caldwell-Moore Contest.

SEAT IN THE SENATE.

Issue to Be Checked Up to Contest Court.

N. A. Yeager Will Try to Prove He Was Elected Judge.

Judge F. W. Sturges of Concordia is in Topeka preparing the papers to be filed in the contest case of W. W. Caldwell against William M. Moore for the job of state senator from the Thirty-second district, composed of Cloud and Republic counties. On the face of the returns, Moore was elected by 29 votes, and was given the certificate.

The method of procedure will be for Mr. Caldwell to file a formal notice on Mr. Moore stating that he expects to contest the election. He will file a similar notice with the secretary of state. When the legislature convenes, the secretary of state will communicate to the senate the fact that Mr. Moore's seat is contested, and the senate will appoint a committee to take up the case. The contest will involve a recount of all the votes cast in the district.

Judge Sturges said today: "When there about 8,000 votes cast, a majority of 29 is very small, and there are quite likely to have been enough mistakes in counting ballots to turn the election the other way. We simply say that Mr. Caldwell has a good chance to win on a recount. We think that there may have been a good many railroad votes miscounted, and a good many Caldwell votes thrown out which should have been counted. We do not charge any fraud, but simply hold that the possibility of error is so great that a contest is justifiable. I do not think that Mr. Caldwell is especially anxious to make a contest, but the people of Cloud county will back him in the fight. We think that we ought to have the senator from that district if he was legally elected."

"No contest has yet been started by Mr. Caldwell, but I am free to state that I think there may be one in due time. I am here simply posting myself on the forms of procedure in such cases."

James Malone, the Democratic member of the house recently elected to represent Rawlins county, is a candidate for the job of "baby of the house" held at the last session by Edgar G. Fisher of Chautauqua county, and at the 1905 session by Ed Kerns of Logan county. Malone is said to be 32 years old, which is rather well along in years for anyone to hold the job to which he aspires. Fisher will not give up the place without a contest. Mr. Malone is in partnership with Peter Wenzel in the ownership of the Beaver Valley Roller Mills at Herndon. They also own an elevator, and are said to be making money hand over fist. Wenzel is the brother of the Catholic priest at Herndon, and both Wenzel and Malone are popular and rising young men.

It is reported here that N. A. Yeager of Augusta, Butler county, who was beaten for judge of the Thirteenth judicial district by G. P. Aikman, the Republican candidate, will contest the election. The official count shows that Yeager was defeated by only 18 votes. This brings to light a peculiar fact concerning Mr. Yeager's political experience. Mr. Yeager was a candidate for the office of county attorney of Butler county some years ago, and was defeated by 15 votes. He was not discouraged. He became the Democratic candidate for representative from Butler county, and was defeated by 19 votes. Thinking that the third time might be the charm he tried to get the job of district judge, and lost it by only 18 votes.

C. H. Brillhart, of Elk county, who was assistant chief clerk of the house at the 1907 session, and chief clerk at the special session of 1908, is in Topeka starting his boom for chief clerk of the house at the coming session. Thus far Mr. Brillhart has no opposition, and the old members of the house will probably line up pretty strongly for him, as he was well liked by everyone. He made an excellent record as chief clerk, and thoroughly understands the duties of the office.

HE REMEMBERS THE GIRLS. Rich Man Leaves a Number of Legacies to Young Women.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Three graduates of the Illinois Training School for Nurses who receive legacies left them by Walter E. Ammon, a former patient. The nurses and the amounts left to them are: Miss Nellie G. Miller, $500; Miss Freda B. Pines, $500; Miss Alice L. Vail, $1,500. Mr. Ammon was a manufacturer of butterine in Jersey City, N. J. Six years ago he came west on a business trip and while at the Auditorium hotel in this city he was called in by Doctors J. H. Herrick and Frank Billings, who were attending him. The patient was taken to the Presbyterian hospital, where he was attended for three months by the other two nurses. After his recovery he showed his gratitude

LIFE OF A PIMPLE

Complexions Are Cleared and Pimples Disappear Overnight Without Trouble.

The dispensers of poison, a new skin discovery, ask that notice be given that no one is urged to purchase it without first obtaining an ex-perimental package. Those who have tried it will find that the fifty-cent box, on sale at Fred A. Snow's and all drug stores, is sufficient to cure the worst cases of eczema, where the surface affected is not too large. The itching ceases on first application. It will also cure, in a matter of days, scaly scalp, hives, barber's and every other form of itch, including itching feet. Being flesh-colored and containing no grease, the presence of poison on exposed surfaces, such as the face and hands, is not perceptible. Water and soap cannot be used in conjunction with it, as these irritate and prolong skin troubles, sometimes evening causing them.

As to the experimental package of poison can be had free of charge by mail of the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York. It alone is sufficient to clear a most complex complexion overnight, and to rid the face of pimples in twenty-four hours.

NEWS AT WASHINGTON.

Captain Frederick I. Dean, Formerly of Kansas, Passes Away. Washington, Nov. 18.—Captain Frederick I. Dean, former resident of Kansas and Missouri, died here Tuesday. He remains were interred at Arlington National Cemetery, and with military honors and the ceremony of the Grand Army of the Republic.

In 1857, Captain Dean engaged in newspaper work as city editor of the Daily Express of St. Louis. While in St. Louis he connected himself with the National militia, becoming a member of Company A, Second regiment, Missouri state infantry. In 1860 he went with his company into a brigade of volunteers under Brigadier General Bowen, the command proceeding to the Kansas border, ostensibly to suppress General Lane and Dr. J. M. Neill's militia, but in reality to support the Union cause. He served in the civil war, and finally located in eastern Kansas, where he lived until 1893, when he came to Washington to reside. Here he was prominently identified with the Grand Army organization.

"What is the Kansas legislature going to do this winter?" was asked of Samuel G. Harris of Kansas City, Kan., who is in the city today. "Most anything," was the brief and comprehensive reply of the son of the Sunflower state. His reply not being sufficiently elucidating, in his opinion, he addressed the Representative Mitchell would try to secure an enactment of law prohibiting the drinking of liquor on railroad trains.

"I think also that Kansas should have a law providing for the taxation of inheritances. Taxes upon inheritances are becoming a very general throughout the state and are providing for nearly all of them."

H. M. Johnson, a former Kansas educator, has been appointed supervising principal of the eighth division of the public schools of the District of Columbia. This division includes eight of the schools in Washington.

For seven years Mr. Johnson was connected with the Holton schools, a part of the time being principal of the high school and four years was superintendent. He was second president of the Northeast Kansas Teachers' association, and engaged in institute work for a number of years in the state, conducting the Jackson county institute the year before coming to Washington.

Kansas postmasters appointed: Homer Pollett at Wheeler, Cheyenne county, vice J. G. Schell, resigned; Helena Schuetz at Germantown, Brown county, vice H. Trumpeter, resigned; William Stephens at Ogden, Riley county, vice W. Foster, resigned.

DINNER FOR ALL.

Provident Association, Schools and Churches Make Poor Happy. To the Editor of the State Journal: This is one day of the year when those whose pathway is strewn with many thorns and whose groans are heard by big public consideration and the necessities of life can forget their many heartaches and other aches and pains and drink and eat merrily with the other and larger class of humanity. The Topeka Provident association makes no grand stand play on such a day, but a big public dinner is given, quiet, systematic way sees to it that every deserving family in the city is supplied with a large basket full of good eatables.

The First Christian and Central Congregational churches and the Philo Reading club have greatly assisted by taking several families to care for. Sunday school and Bible classes have done the same. Several contributions in cash have been received from individuals to be used in bringing up to some sad heartache.

Special mention should be made of the Wanamaker school, located five miles west of the city, the Sabrook school and the school near the Boys' Industrial school, each of which sent in a large wagon loaded with pumpkins, potatoes, apples, canned fruit, live chickens, and clothing to be given to the poor. The teachers of these schools have caught the spirit of the age, that of consideration and sympathy for our brother in distress. The spirit of the good Samaritan. They are teaching their pupils to become strong, useful citizens, true Americans. May other teachers catch the spirit by next year.

Million Turkeys for New York. New York, Nov. 18.—One million turkeys, according to Thanksgiving statisticians, will be eaten in Greater New York today. Thousands of baskets of food had been distributed among the poor.

Most of the smaller football teams of the city are playing football today, games being pulled off on almost every corner lot.

The city schools are closed until next Monday, and the school population of the city is enjoying the temporary relief from books.

A new fire alarm box has been installed on the east side of Van Buren street between Sixth and Seventh streets. It is No. 46.

Several of the Washburn students whose homes are in nearby towns left last night for their homes and a big Thanksgiving dinner.

The state board of railroad commissioners will next week resume their work of inspecting the Missouri railway tracks in Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wood of Eureka are visiting Attorney General and Mrs. S. Jackson this week. Mr. Wood is manager of the Eureka telephone system.

Shungaunga Ray, a well known Topeka character was married Wednesday. The name of the bride was not learned as the license was secured in Hutchinson.

The Washburn second team left this morning for Holton, to oppose the Campbell college team in a game this afternoon. Manager W. W. Stahl accompanied the team.

The Topeka-Southwestern has commenced the first steps of securing a right of way through Topeka. It is planned to start the construction work within the city in about two months.

W. H. Kemper, grand master of the Odd Fellows, is making a week's trip through the western part of the state, visiting lodges and making public addresses to Odd Fellows and their friends.

E. B. Jewett, the former warden of the state penitentiary, who was in Topeka recently, thinks that John Collins is guilty, but says that he won't oppose a pardon. He says Collins is a model prisoner.

John Q. Royce, former state bank commissioner, has purchased the A. A. Godard residence at 616 Taylor street. Mr. Godard has purchased the property formerly owned by E. H. Blake, at Sixteenth and Boswell avenue.

Some astonishing facts about the tuberculosis situation in Topeka will be presented to the football game today by W. J. V. Deacon, the statistician for the state board of health. The state convention will be held Dec. 3 in representative hall.

A beautiful country town effect was produced when two cement sidewalks were built across Tenth and Jackson sts. to the southeast corner of the state house grounds. When a city has to build sidewalks over its pavements it means that the pavements are inadequate to say the least.

There was a big celebration at Washburn last night. It was not to gain enthusiasm for the football game today but because of the new "owl" car which the street railway railway is running to the college. It used to be a hardship for the students to take a 11:30 car back to the college or else make the two mile walk.

J. F. Snyder, George E. Joss, George T. Mattingly, and David Funston have called a meeting at the Central Park Christian church for Friday night at which all residents on Lincoln and vicinity who are opposed to the change of the name of that street to Burlingame street as proposed by the special committee of the council, are urged to be present.

Inspector Keyes, recently appointed by the mayor and council to take charge of all work of excavating and filling the pavements of the city, is still on the job. After working on the rough places on East Eighth street he has turned his attention to the depressions on South Kansas avenue where the gas company did a lot of work this year laying pipes for gas service. From the beginning Inspector Keyes has made there is hope of a smooth pavement in Topeka by next summer.

It is not likely that the council will take action this winter in the matter of another arch for the Melan bridge, but there is a plan on foot to organize a drainage district for the south side of the river that will take steps to widen the arch of the Kaw at this point. It is stated that both the Rock Island and the Santa Fe are willing to widen their bridges as recommended by the recent report of the war department. Engineer Rodgers is figuring on a plan to cut out the banks on the south side without adding another arch.

Carnegie Is 71. New York, Nov. 18.—Andrew Carnegie's 71st birthday passed quietly, happily and uneventfully. He celebrated the anniversary with a quiet little dinner to a number of intimate friends last night at his residence in East Ninety-first street. Only fourteen guests were present. Many telegrams and messages of congratulation were received by the ironmaster during the day.
