

MARY AND HER LITTLE LAMB

Torpedoes had Mary and hid them away,
For Percy might find them and with them get gay.

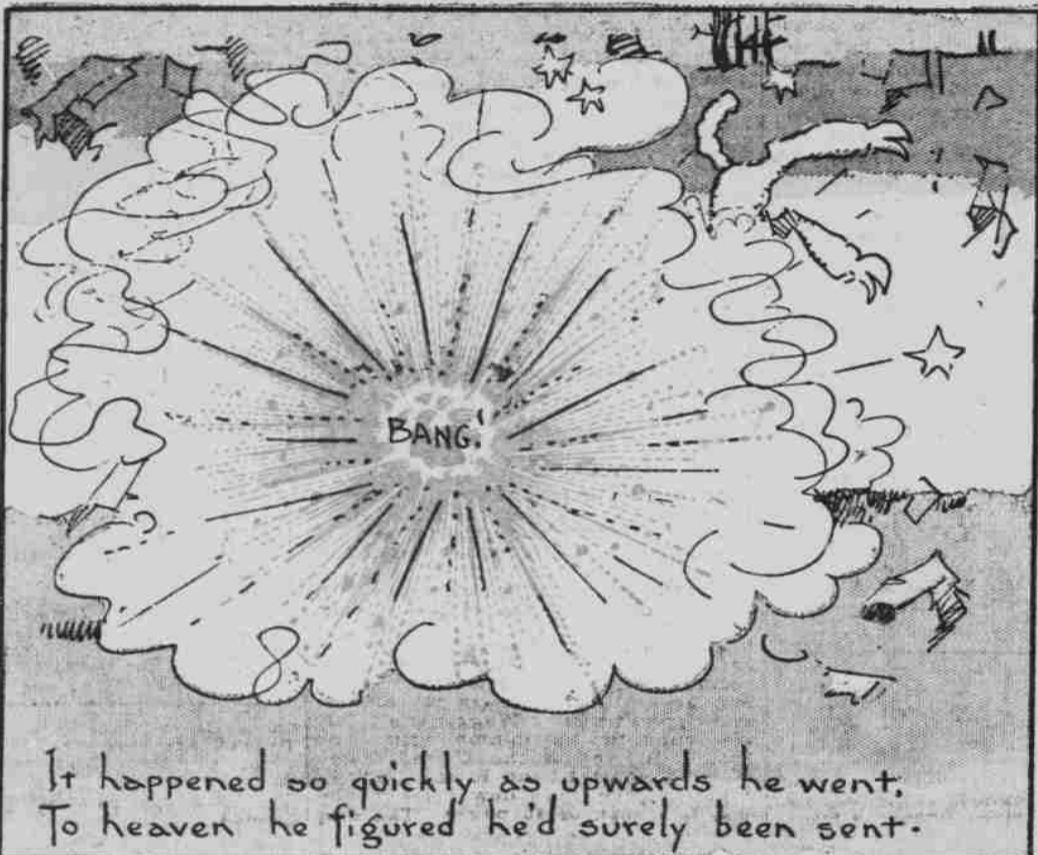

But Percy had been peeping as often he did,
And soon found the package right where it was hid.

He thought it was candy but try as he might,
He couldn't get at it, as it was tied tight.

In wrath he then placed it in front of a tree,
Remarking with headwork, he'd bust it by gee!

It happened so quickly as upwards he went,
To heaven he figured he'd surely been sent.

And when he saw Mary without any scars,
He wanted to know if she'd come by the cars!
