Moore-Woodin Nuptials.

Wednesday at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Woodin, about a mile north of town, the wedding of their daughter, Miss Anna, to Mr. Frederick B. Moore, was solemnized. There were close to 200 guests present and Rev. Maclean of the Methodist church performed the ceremony. Numerous handsome presents were received by the young people, who for the present will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Woodin, but will build in town next spring.

Miss Anna Woodin is well acquainted both in Iola and over the county and her host of friends who have learned to love and admire her wish for her every joy and happiness. Mr. Moore is a comparative stranger here but those who know him respect and esteem him as an industrious and upright gentleman. He has charge of the shoe department at Ramsay & Co.'s store in this city.

The Register extends to Mr. and Mrs. Moore its sincere best wishes and congratulations.

Two Filipino boys are soon to enter the state university and learn in the same place that Fred Fustard did.

LARGER SUPREME COURT

Almost Certain That the Constitutional Amendment Carried.

Topeka, Nov. 8.—While no tabulation has been kept by the Republican committee, it is almost certain that the constitutional amendment to increase the membership of the court, the proposition is to increase the number to seven. The court of appeals expires by limitation on January 1. If it should develop that the amendment is defeated, then the legislators will likely re-establish the court of appeals to relieve the supreme court.

Ratify Saturday Night.

Some Iola Republicans were so warmed up and enthused that they wanted to ratify the election Wednesday night, but there were too many sleepy heads who preferred to wait a few days, catch up sleep and go at it with all their strength. By mutual agreement everybody seems to have decided to hold off until Saturday night and then tear the lining out of things and whop it up in a big public demonstration on the square.

We have the largest and best selected stock of Groceries in Iola, bought for cash and our prices are lower than any quality considered. #### Lee Solves Patent.

Members of the REGISTER have been kept posted on the affairs of W. L. Lee, the little man who opened and conducted a Racket store in the Apple building on West Madison avenue, which was burned down last year. Lee shifted around here for some time and then patented a shoe fastener. It now develops that he has succeeded in selling that patent to a Detroit, Mich., shoe firm for $3,000 cash, which is a pretty good realization on an idea.
