Ann Arborites "Size Up" Chicago and Home Players.

Wolverines Can See Nothing But Victory Thanksgiving.

SAY STAGGS IS CLEVER.

They Think Eckersall, Too, Is to Be Watched Closely.

Overconfidence Is Feared by "Hurry Up Yost."

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 27.—It's up to Michigan to make good the Wolverines' claim to be the gridiron champion of the west. Fully realizing all the advantages and disadvantages in the situation, the Michigan roster expects the team he believes is impregnable and irresistible to make good against Chicago next Tuesday afternoon on Marshall field.

Coach Yost has laid stress all week on Chicago's advantages. He has endeavored to get the maize and blue rosters to looking at the situation sanely, and as much as possible, without prejudice. He has succeeded in a greater measure than is apparent today. The real fear of Chicago will probably begin to manifest itself by the time the team puts on its final coat of polish on Tuesday, said Stagg.

All Michigan firmly believes Stagg's clever is the wily Alamo's best. Further, it is believed the strong maroon will have as many, if not more, than the usual number of tricks, ready to spring on the Wolverines. Any one here who could catch a "wily," the adjective most often applied to Stagg, is just the proper word.

Michigan is willing to say, too, that Eckersall is wonderfully fast, both in shifting himself over ground and in running his eleven. It is well known here that he never showed in as good form in accurate kicking as he did in the game at Ann Arbor.

Beadek is conceded to be an excellent plunging full back, and De Tray a powerful half. Walker is given the credit of having made the best tackle of the year, and Clark on far this year. In the backfield, Michigan agrees the Wolverines is fully equipped—on paper at least. Callahan and Farrar are more experienced.

Garrels a First Year Wonder. On the other hand, Johnny Garrels, at left end, has proved himself a wonder for a first year man on the eleven. He is the team's punter. In the Wisconsin game the youngster even got a little better of Bush, the Badger veteran. It was seen in the yards were all credited to Harry Hammond, right end, the junior member of "The Hammond-best trust," is a veteran, heavier than ever, and well tried this year. All fall Michigan has had its "one o'clock stop outs." Yet each game has shown the team to be right there at all times. Chicago ends, though, may get down under punts faster than Garrels and Hammond. Wisconsin's ends are the best.

At one tackle in Joe Curran's great of bulk and great in football ability. Few are the tackles who can say they have held Curran's plunges this year. He is playing in his third year. It is better than ever. Rhinechild, at the right tackle, seems to be striving to rival Currie. The tanky Californian has been making a name for himself.

Woodson Heard From. After that case Woodson stepped on one of his quarters in his work and did not play for the rest of the season. weak, Schulte and Graham will probably be the men to bias the way in the game. Schulte is looked upon as a reliable snapper of the ball, since he handled himself well in the encounter with Stagg. Wisconsin's crack center is Captain Norcross, at quarterback, is a speedy passer of the ball, believed to be a field general without peer in the west. His work in the march for Michigan's touchdown in the Minnesota game of 1903 is claimed to show—his tackle in the game. He is held in high esteem on the Michigan side.

A GREAT BIG SURPRISE.

Was the Victory of Sullivan Over Gardner.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—The result of the fight was a terrible bolt for the San Francisco sports, who insist on betting on sentiment. There was no reason for making Jimmy Gardner 2 to 1 favorite over Mike (Twin) Sullivan. The local fight fans argued that Sullivan had not gone the 20-round pace for a long time, and that Jimmy's youth and superior ability would wear out the older, half-headed boxer.

Wealth Produced on Farms of the United States.

In 1905 Reached a Value of $6,415,000,000.

NEW HIGH RECORDS.

Made by Corn, Hay, Wheat and Rice Crops.

Farm Values Growing at Rate of $3,400,000 a Day.

Washington, Nov. 27.—"Wealth produced on the farms of the United States in 1905 reached the highest amount ever attained in this or any other country—$6,415,000,000."

In the first annual report of his title, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson presented an array of figures and statements representing the products and profits of the farmers of the country, which he admits "dreams of wealth production could hardly equal."

Four crops made new high records as to value—corn, hay, wheat and rice—although in amount of production the corn crop is the only one that exceeds previous yields. In every crop the general level of production was high, and that of prices still higher.

Behind the enormous yield of wealth, the secretary estimates that the farms of the country have increased in value during the past five years to a present aggregate of $6,415,000,000.

"Every sunset during the past five years," he says, "has registered an increase of $2,400,000 in the value of the farms of this country." This increased value, the secretary suggests, is invested better than in bank deposits or even in the gilt edged bonds of private corporations.

In dealing with the crop report "leak," Secretary Wilson, after referring to the "gross breach of trust of wronging on the part of its own officials, but we have no evidence of disciplinary or preventive action, at the traders' end of the line, where gamblers and speculators are to be seen."

Horses Increase in Spite of Auto.

The method of handling crop reports, he says, has been thoroughly recast during the year. There has also been a decided change in the methods of preparing the field reports. Each agent is now confined to a definite group of states, with which he becomes familiar by travel each month.

is connected. After the frost is thawed from the ground down a distance of about six feet we are able to dig a space about it several feet square. It used to be that the miners would thaw out the ground in the winter and then work it over in the summer, but this is not necessary now as the ground, after being thawed by steam, seems to fall apart like sand.

The New Gold Country. "Tanna, on the American side, is the coming gold country. There are thousands of miles of land where not a shovel full of dirt has been turned. About $4,000,000 were taken out of there during the last year.

February 14 with the thermometer 63 degrees below zero several of us started for this country. We traveled thirty-three days. We took along 800 pounds of provisions for every two men, but when we got there were nearly out. A fellow here had taken out 175 buckets of stuff during the summer, such stuff as could not be sold in Dawson, charged us $1 a pound for everything we needed, chains and ropes included. Fairbanks, a town of about 8,000, is the largest in this district. It is a better country than that in which I am located."

Work by Moon's Light. "How can you work in the winter time, with no sun?" was asked.

"We have a moon. The moon shines when there is no sun. The moon shines almost as brightly as does the sun here at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. But not every day. We get our moonlight only on long days when the sun shines for about six months and can easily tell when it is time to go to bed. We get used to it."

"I would rather use Moon's Light than the thermometer 50 below zero than to spend another wet day such as Thursday was here. I have heard more thunder and seen more lightning the few days I have been here than I have struck lightning during the summer. We never have thunder and lightning up there. And it does not snow so heavily. Two and one-half feet is about as deep as it gets."
