ALASKA'S WANTS.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The wants of Alaska as summarized in the recommendations made in the annual report of Governor Brady, are extension to Alaska of all the federal land laws, survey of the lands for immediate settlement, a delegate in congress without territorial organization, a cable between Alaska and the United States, representation at the Louisiana Purchase exposition in 1902, the appointment of a commissioner of mining and enactment of a game law for the district. Governor Brady says the agitation for a territorial form of government has gained very little headway with those who have any property to tax. In the Cape Nome gold fields the uncertainty in the execution of the laws by the court established there, according to the governor, has led to the refusal of many persons to develop their claims and to capitalists withholding their investments on account of this fear of insecurity.

A CHINESE LOBBYIST.

He Comes Over to Defeat Re-enactment of Exclusion Law. San Francisco, Nov. 27.—The Chronicle says that some excitement has been caused in Chinatown by the arrival on the steamship Dorice of a special emissary of the Chinese government in the person of Chen Kiat Yul. Ostensibly Chen Kiat Yul's mission to the United States is that of joining the Chinese embassy at Washington, but it is rumored in reality he is here to bring about if possible the defeat of the proposition to re-enact the Chinese exclusion act, and his arrival is therefore a matter of more than ordinary importance to his fellow countrymen, not only in San Francisco but throughout the country.

Rock Island May Build a Bridge.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 27.—There is a strong probability that the Missouri river at St. Joseph within a few years will be spanned by a double tracked steel bridge, owned and operated by the C. & P. R. R. Co. The Rock Island renewed its notice of a few months ago to the Grand Island company to the effect that unless the Grand Island took immediate steps to strengthen and enlarge the bridge across the Missouri at St. Joseph the Rock Island would arrange a certain state bridge in Missouri under contract and make other arrangements. These arrangements contemplate the building of a new bridge at St. Joseph. It is the desire of the Rock Island officials to cross through trains by way of this point, thereby saving mileage and expense.

Lodge Is Against Chinese.

Boston, Nov. 27.—The Post will print the following telegram from United States Senator Lodge at Washington: "I favor the Chinese exclusion act, any attempt to introduce a bill for its extension."

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank Gonsaulus in the presence of several hundred guests, about fifty of whom were from Kansas. WOULD SELL AN ISLAND

Where Kansas Can Raise Potatoes For Penitentiary.

W. R. Thompson, formerly deputy warden of the penitentiary, who is acting as agent for the owners of Steiger's island in the Missouri river in the proposition to sell it to the state for coal mining purposes, believes it can also be made valuable to the state for farming. There are three thousand acres in the island, but a portion of it is subject to overflow. It is proposed to dyke the island, using convict labor for the work. Dredging has no effect on the island—the trouble is to keep the water off. It is claimed that if the island were dyked and planted to potatoes, three thousand acres would raise an immense crop, whereas the state is now buying potatoes from the north to supply the state institutions.

QUEER PRACTICE INDEED.

Griggs "Smallpox" Case Still Under Quarantine.

The "smallpox" case in the family of P. W. Griggs still continues with unabated fury, according to the board of health. The board keeps the family in the house, one day and one night, and maintains a strict quarantine. A. Griggs, who is charged with having introduced the disease, has been entirely well for two weeks. He was released from quarantine once two weeks ago, and then put back again, by order of the board. Dr. Hamilton, who has been attending the case, insists that there is nothing the matter with the patient, and that he has not been exposed to anything like it. Apparently City Physician Judd was of the same opinion at first.

STILL MORE PAVEMENT.

Movement to Have East Fourth Street Improved.

The latest street proposed for pavement is East Fourth street, from the Santa Fe railway tracks to the Shunganunga creek, a distance of seven and one-half blocks. The pavement will be of brick, 20 feet wide. Councilman Joseph Griley is backing the movement, and has made plans which will likely develop into a pavement petition at the next council meeting. Mr. Griley states that he has talked to most of the property owners affected, and feels confident that he can secure a majority for the pavement. Mr. Griley also had an interview with E. J. Cain, chief clerk of General Manager Mudge. Mr. Cain says that the Santa Fe will offer no opposition to the pavement, so far as the road is affected. The Santa Fe owns two blocks on the south side of Fourth east of the depot.

COFFEE IMPORTER

Tells Some Plain Facts

One of the heaviest importers of coffee in America, and who requests that his name be kept from the public in connection with the following subject because of the effect it would have on his business, says: "I have used coffee for over thirty-five years, but about a year ago was compelled to discontinue its use. Since that time I have used nothing in its place but Postum Cereal Food Coffee and properly prepared, it is simply delicious with cream and sugar. In connection with this I have also used Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food. While in Florida this winter I carried a package with me all the time so if I was unable to get what I wanted for breakfast I could rely on my own supply. Any one who could have known of my condition a year ago, and the very great improvement now, would have no change from the old fashioned diet to the present." This cereal is one of the best known coffee experts in the world, and his testimony regarding the favor of Postum Cereal Food Coffee is noteworthy. Now and then a person gets Postum Food Coffee served under boiled and consequently almost tasteless. A chemical change takes place in 12 or 15 minutes; the change brings out the food value and the delicious taste. It does not answer to simply leave it on the stove 15 minutes. It must stand on the stove until boiling commences, then be allowed to bubble 15 minutes. These are the ones which now hang in Secretary Coburn's private office. After they were brought to Topeka and hung in the Bennett mansion and removed to his residence was sold to the state, when Mrs. Bennett requested that they might hang in the department of agriculture temporarily. The central figure in the equine group is an animal for which Mr. Bennett is said to have refused $3,000 at one time.

DEAD NUMBER 28.

Eighteen Victims of Detroit Disaster Still Unaccounted For.

Detroit, Nov. 27.—When day broke today a great force of men was still delving in the ruins of the Penberthy Injector company's plant, which was wrecked yesterday by a boiler explosion, causing the loss of 28 lives. By morning the laborers had searched through the greater portion of the debris and had rapidly gone over the part which had not been inspected. During the early morning, two of the injured at Emergency hospital, Ignatius Brock and William Eggers, a boy died, making the total number of deaths 28.

Although the president has practically completed his message, it is, of course, subject to possible change at any time between now and Saturday.

It will go to the printer for the first proofs, and he is receiving all sorts of advice as to what he should and should not say.

FINE OLD PAINTINGS.

They Tell of Days When E. Bennett Was at His Zenith.

Hanging in the rooms of the department of agriculture in the state house are two fine oil paintings. They are immense affairs, and each is enclosed in a beautiful massive gilt frame. Both are rural scenes, and represent a drive in a horse-drawn carriage and the other a half dozen fine cattle in a pasture on a drowsy summer day. The pictures were painted originally from life near Topeka and are valued at $1,200 each.

Mr. Bennett erected his mansion at Eighth and Buchanan streets several years ago. The house which is now the Kansas executive mansion, he was making money out of dealing in fine horses. He imported a fine pair of racing horses ever brought west of the Mississippi river. He was a very successful breeder of them and of some of his fine cattle for his new home. An artist was taken to Paris and painted the large scale and the large ones were exhibited at the salon in Paris. These are the ones which now hang in Secretary Coburn's private office. After they were brought to Topeka and hung in the Bennett mansion and removed to his residence was sold to the state, when Mrs. Bennett requested that they might hang in the department of agriculture temporarily.

The central figure in the equine group is an animal for which Mr. Bennett is said to have refused $3,000 at one time.

BY WATER'S PLEA.

Asks Grace Cathedral People to Treat New Dean Hospitably.

Dean J. De Kaven Kaye, the newly appointed dean of Grace Cathedral, will come to Topeka this week and will be installed by Bishop Millsbaugh at the morning service at the Cathedral Sunday.

In an introductory to his sermon at the Cathedral last Sunday Canon Bywater exhorted the parishioners to be more charitable in their treatment of the new dean than they have been in the cases of the past three men who have filled the position.

Next Sunday is Advent Sunday in the calendar of Holy Days of the Episcopal church and Canon Bywater called attention to the fact that the day will have a two fold significance. "It will be the celebration of the advent of the new dean in addition to the usual Advent Sunday ceremonies," he said.

"I earnestly hope," Canon Bywater continued, "that each and every one of the parishioners will throw off their inhospitable attitude that has characterized previous experiences and open their doors to the new dean. I hope that you will not be too hasty in forming opinions or in criticizing any action of the new dean."

"I know that some of our parishioners are very caustic in their sarcastic remarks, and I hope they will refrain from uttering any comment until after becoming well acquainted with our new dean, and then I feel sure there will be no cause for comment, except favorable comment. We are all human and are apt to fall short in many things. I hope you will not lose sight of that fact always."
