NEXT BASEBALL MOVE.

"Big Five" Holds Key to the National League Reorganization.

Philadelphia, Nov. 30.—One week from next Monday the National league baseball club owners will hold a meeting in New York, which is expected to be of importance to the game. Interest is just now centered in what will be done at this meeting. Many believe that the circuit will remain as it is, but it is, however, will depend on the action of Freedman, Brush, Soden, Dreyfuss and Robison, the "big five" of the league. These five men by their combined votes can control league affairs, and they will be the dictators in the coming reorganization. The "big five" will probably have a meeting some time this week to decide what is to be done. Freedman has often proclaimed that Johnson is not a major league city, and John T. Brush is known to have snuff up his sleeves for the Philadelphia club owners.

Just what will happen cannot be foretold, but it is evident that some scheme is being concocted to get even with old-time enemies. When such a combination has on "gun shoes" it will bear watching. Barney Dreyfuss is the only one that has been heard from, and he has merely suggested a change in the rules so that each club can carry 17 players instead of only 15 as now stipulated in the rules. Brooklyn Dolan, who recently signed a Brooklyn contract for 1902, at an advanced salary, is authority for the statement that Joe Kelley may jump Brooklyn and sign with the Baltimore club. Manager Hanlon evidently feels certain that some of his old men are going to jump the Brooklyn team. He is trying his utmost to sign John Anderson, who formerly played with Brooklyn, but has for the last two years been a reasonable member of the Boston club of the American league. The Boston club is also after Anderson, and Brooklyn to watch for him. Hanlon refuses to do so, and is trying to induce Anderson to come more into the Brooklyn fold.

WILL BUILD FINE STABLE.

J. H. Haggin Contemplates a New Home For His Thoroughbreds.

New York, Nov. 30.—J. H. Haggin, the millionaire breeder and owner of many thoroughbreds, established at Easton, N. J., is contemplating building a new home for his horses and extending his racing affairs. Mr. Haggin has purchased four acres of land in Neck Road for the erection of the new stable and when it is completed it will be one of the finest in the country. The work of building the stable will be begun soon and it is expected that it will be finished before the racing season opens next year. The colors of Mr. Haggin were not seen on the local tracks for some years until this year, when he raced Waterloo and others. The plans of Mr. Haggin, however, are that next year his horses will be prominent in all the stakes.

TO FIGHT AGAIN.

McGovern's Manager Posts $2,500 For Another Bout With Corbett.

New York, Nov. 30.—In sporting circles here nothing is talked of more than the defeat of Terry McGovern by "Young Corbett" in Hartford. That McGovern was beaten by a two handed rushing fighter like himself was conceded by everybody before the fight. The only doubt of the opinion that should the boys meet again McGovern will regain his lost laurels.

Friday afternoon Sam Harris, McGovern's manager, posted $2,500 to bind an answer to a 20-round fight with Corbett. "In order to get a return match with 'Young Corbett' Terry will agree to knock him out before the fight is over. If 'Young Corbett' thinks he is McGovern's equal he will be offered a fight which I have placed in reputable hands, and if he refuses the public can easily see who is the better fighter."

"I don't wish to take away any of the credit which is due to Terry for his great victory, but I will insist that the result of the fight was due to a fluke, and that the record of the fight was not a true record. My man McGovern, who was all the time in the ring, and who had the ring padded there would have another story to tell. In order to show the public that he did not realize himself that he had hit Terry with effect, as his head was down and he was in a daze, I will give him a 20-round fight with me. It was lucky enough to be a winning blow and what I consider a chance one."

He showed his intention to show his true form in this contest, and I am willing to accept the proposition of the manager of the fight. The matchmaker of the Twentieth Century Athletic club, who has been offered a purse of $10,000 for the men to meet again at his club."

JENKINS A PUGILIST.

Big Wrestler Issues a Challenge to Jim Jeffries.

Cleveland, Nov. 30.—Tom Jenkins, the champion wrestler, intends to turn pugilist and issue a challenge to meet James J. Jeffries in a glove contest for the world's championship. Jenkins has been known by the public only as a wrestler, but he is equally skillful with the gloves, and he believes that the greater financial emoluments accruing from the ring would warrant his turning to pugilism. He does not intend, however, to give up wrestling entirely, but will meet all bona fide challenges in both wrestling and boxing. The manager of the fight is Tom Jenkins. Items of Interest to Secret Society Workers.

The officers of the Ancient Order of Pyramids are confident of being successful in gaining the larger portion of the policy holders in the defunct National Aid association, despite the fact that at the convention recently held in Topeka, the delegates voted to join with the Bankers' Union.

"E. E. Post and H. S. Landis are out in the field now," said A. K. Rodgers today to a State Journal reporter. Mr. Rodgers is a member of the executive committee of the Pyramids. "They have also had to lodge in 32 lodges and have secured the decision of each lodge to unite with the Pyramids. We have already secured 60 per cent of the membership of the now defunct order. We have not been successful in one instance where the matter has been presented to the lodge. Mr. Post and Landis have appeared before the members of each of the lodges and stated the propositions submitted by the officers of the Bankers' Union and the Pyramids and have made comparisons which seem to have resulted favorably for us."

Mr. Rodgers says that in the following towns the lodges have voted to join the Pyramids: Osgue City, Chapman, Beverly, Wichita, New Cambridge, Teacott, Winfield, Lincoln, Sylvan Grove, and all the lodges of the order.
