LUTHERAN OFFICERS.

Prof. E. Philbald, of Lindsborg, is President.

The Lutheran League convention which has been in session in this city for the past two days has closed. Part of the meetings of the league were held in the Swedish Lutheran and part in the English Lutheran church. The election of officers last night for the ensuing year resulted in the following:

Professor E. Philbald, of Lindsborg, Kan.; first vice president, the Rev. I. H. Heisey, of Waterville, Kan.; second vice president, the Rev. A. W. Lindquist; third vice president, Miss Anna S. Hutt, of Kansas City, Kan.; secretary, Miss Margaret Maxwell, Topeka; treasurer, the Rev. C. A. Engstrand, Walsburg, Kan.

Following is the executive committee: The Rev. L. S. Keyser, Atchison, Kan.; the Rev. A. M. L. Herenius, Topeka; the Rev. J. W. Bam, Kansas City.

EXPOSITION 1904 STICKERS

They Are Being Used by Mr. Coburn and Are Unique.

F. D. Coburn, secretary of the state agricultural society does not allow any mail to leave his office unless it bears a little sticker advertising the Kansas Semi-centential exposition to be held in Topeka in 1904.

Mr. Coburn had a quantity of the labels printed for his own use. They are quite unique. The words "Kansas Semi-Centennial Exposition, Topeka, 1904," appear in black over a background of gold. The sticker is round and the edge is scalloped like the edge of a seal.

The idea is a good one and some effective advertising will be the result. The design may be adopted by the committee on publicity and the stickers furnished in quantities to those desiring to use them on their mail matter.

Anarchist Plot In Brazil.

New York, Oct. 18.—The police of Rio Janeiro, according to a dispatch to the Herald, have arrested an Italian named Angel Manetti, who is known as the friend of Caesario, who assassinated President Carnot of France, and of Bresci, who killed King Humbert, of Italy. Manetti, it is charged, was plotting to take the life of President Campos Salles of Brazil.

RAILROAD NEWS.

Freight Car Famine Extends All Over the Country.

Lines Compel Odd Re-shipments to Hold Own Cars.

COAL IN DIRT CARS.

Santa Fe Hauls It in Grade Reduction Equipment.

All the Roads Have Full Use For Their Cars.

Railroad companies all over the country are complaining of a shortage of freight cars. The lines find great difficulty in furnishing all the equipment their patrons desire. The situation has reached such a stage that the officials of many companies have stopped trying to furnish the foreign line demand.

Ordinarily the big companies are well satisfied to rent out their surplus cars to the smaller lines, rather than have them idle. On the other hand when cars are scarce and there are not enough to move traffic of their own origination they refuse to let them go off their own tracks.

The present situation has reached this point. Some time ago the Cotton Belt and Kansas City Southern made such refusals. At their terminals such loads as lumber have been transferred to cars of connecting lines. Lines in the south seem to have suffered most by the car famine. In and around Nashville there is a great shortage. One line that enters that city was nearly five hundred cars short in one day, besides having big demands made upon it by officials of other roads, which were therefore refused.

Car service on the Santa Fe is admittedly pressed hard by heavy traffic. Box cars, flat cars and coal cars especially are short. Some of the dumping cars that have been purchased for work on grading the roadbed have been utilized to haul coal. The Rock Island also reports that there is something to do for all available freight cars and other roads have their equipment in full demand. Rush conditions usually prevail in the fall of the year, but the present season eclipses all previous pressures.

RUNS ON THE BRANCH.

Trust In Providence to Get Over the Division.

An official of one of the roads running into Topeka had occasion recently to enter into correspondence with yardmasters and switch-light men along the line regarding the signal lamps used within their jurisdiction. He wanted to know whether they were looked after by railroaders or people living near the stations. If by the latter, whether the farmers took them to light their way to bed, and a number of other facts looking to the improvement of the service.

The information requested came along in installments, the monotony of which was finally broken by the following letter from a functionary on one of the small branches in western Kansas:

"Dear Sir—We do not have any signal lights on our branch. We do not need or require any. By the light of the moon, the gleam of the stars and the help of God we manage to get over our division. Yours truly, ——."

STOCK SHIPMENTS HEAVY.

Santa Fe Moving Many Feeding Cattle From the Southwest.

W. A. Combs, assistant general live-stock agent of the Santa Fe, with headquarters at Kansas City, has this to say about the live stock business of that system: "The movement could not be very much better than it is at present. September was the best live stock month ever enjoyed by the Santa Fe, and thus far in October we are keeping up the September average. Cattle are coming out of the southwest and are being taken to Iowa, where they will be fed from the bumper corn crop of that state. The ranges of the southwest have more cattle on them than anyone can estimate and they will nearly all be moved to the feeding stations of the corn belt. The outlook is certainly flattering for a continued good movement of all kinds of live stock, especially cattle and hogs."

O. R. T. TO MEET IN FRISCO.

Telegraphers Select Coast City For Meeting Place Next Year.

St. Louis, Oct. 18.—The Order of Railway Telegraphers, which has been in grand council for ten days, has adjourned to meet in San Francisco the second Monday of October, 1901.

The work of revision of the constitution was completed and several grand officers were directed by the convention to remain here till the various modifications could be printed and other details completed.

Arrangements were made to have one of the representatives of the O. R. T. cooperate with the Commercial Travelers' association and assist that body in increasing its membership.

NEWTON AND PURCELL.

Missouri Pacific Proposes to Put On a New Train.

Several superintendents have expressed themselves as favoring a new local passenger train on the Missouri Pacific between Newton and Purcell, leaving Newton at noon and arriving at its destination at 4 p. m. It is probable that it will be put on November 7. The traffic is too heavy for the present service on the Oklahoma division. By leaving Oklahoma City on the new train at 10 a. m. and connecting with the east-bound fast mail at Newton, passengers can be put into St. Louis at 7 o'clock next morning, which about equals the time made by the Frisco from Oklahoma.

NEW BRIDGE AT COTTONWOOD

Two Deck Girder of Steel Supersedes Howe Truss.

The Santa Fe is putting up a new steel bridge over the Cottonwood river at Cottonwood Falls, on the Bazar branch. New abutments and a new pier have been built, and the structural work is now under way.

The new structure is a two deck girder bridge, 75 feet in each span. It replaces a Howe truss of 150 foot span.

Missouri Pacific Ballasting.

The Missouri Pacific is taking all the rock turned out by the Waggener quarry and is using it in ballasting its track between Atchison and Kansas City and on the Central Branch. A new crusher has just been put in operation at the quarry, and it is turning out 40 cars of rock a day.

FROM NEWTON.

Conductor J. J. Cash is in Topeka this week on a little grievance work of his own.

Resident Engineer Earl has departed for Minneapolis, looking up a little work pertaining to his department.

Engine 284 was equipped with a Leeds coupler and accompanying pilot, and is now eligible to passenger work.

Emil Ingold has returned from his western trip, and has taken up the burden again in the inspector's department.

John Wilson has been transferred to the paint shop from the round house, and now constitutes one of Foreman Worth's gang.

Ed Young sent in a request for his time and will look for a job more to his liking than railroading—perhaps soldiering.

Joe Williams has gone for a visit to his old home in Canada, where he will remain several weeks.

Supt. Avery Turner came in from Chicago Tuesday night on train No. 1, and has assumed active charge of the Middle division. He was warmly welcomed by his old friends who were at the station. Mrs. Turner did not accompany him.

FROM EMPORIA.

John Bogardus, section boss, is sick with typhoid fever.

C. F. Kaufer, traveling engineer of the Santa Fe, was in town inspecting the engines here, and returned to Topeka last night.

One of the stock cars that was in the Neva wreck is being loaded onto a flat car on the rip track.

The patent blow-off has not been a success so far. The funnel is too small and the barrel is not large enough to hold the steam as it evaporates.

The stock business Tuesday was not as heavy as was expected, but was heavy enough to keep everyone busy.

One of the swiftest little trains on the Santa Fe is the Howard branch local. When it leaves the west end yards in the morning the wheels are hot before it reaches Commercial street, and it stands at the freight house sometimes till 10:30 o'clock letting them cool.

RAILROAD NOTES.

November 20 is the date set for Sedgwick county to vote for the $80,000 of Orient bonds.

The America, Mexican & Pacific Railway company has let a contract to construct a road from Tucson to Calabasas, a distance of 65 miles. Bradbury & Co., of Denver, are the contractors.

The case of Daisy Dawson against the Rock Island is on trial at Leavenworth before the United States circuit court. Mrs. Dawson sues for $10,000 damages for the loss of her husband, a brakeman for the company who was killed at Narka, Republic county, in November, 1898, while trying to make a coupling. The hand-hold gave way, throwing Dawson under the wheels. The contention is that the company was negligent because the hand-hold was out of repair.

The Santa Fe depot was a sight Wednesday noon, when the homeseekers reached it. No. 5 and No. 1, both double-headed and late, came in together. The crowd crushed up to the lunch counter and before so many famished people the waiters were badly flustrated. No. 114 went east about the same time and added to the confusion.

The Union Pacific is going to build a new coal shute at Salina. It is to be a double feed affair so that engines can take in supply from a side track instead of from the main track, as now.

E. A. Austin, of Wellington, is the new trainmaster on the Santa Fe's Oklahoma division. F. J. Easley, of Cleburne, Texas, succeeds Mr. Austin.

Capt. Elliott Surprises and Captures a Filipino General.

Manila, Oct. 18.—Under cover of a stormy night, Captain Elliott, of the Fortieth infantry, surprised the rebel headquarters near Oroquista, Island of Mindanao, and captured without fighting General Alvarez, with his staff and twenty-five soldiers.

The capture is important, and will tend to pacify the district. Alvarez had been for a long time provoking hostilities in Mindanao. It was he who effected the disastrous attack on Oroquieta some time ago and he was preparing another when he was captured.

Detachments of the Twenty-second and Eighteenth regiments engaged the rebels near Tubuagan, in Southern Panay, routing them, killing twenty and wounding many.

WHAT THE SIGN SAID.

A store in 121st street, with a laudable desire to satisfy customers, had the following sign painted and hung in several conspicuous places: "Money refunded or you can exchange for anything in the store."

The regular customers nodded approvingly when they saw this, as the rule of the house had been previously that no goods could be exchanged.

The first day the signs were up several sums of money were refunded. When the store opened the next morning the signs were gone and a literary man was engaged to write one less ambiguous.

There was a reason for this. Late in the afternoon of the day the signs were used a young fellow from down town bought a pair of 50-cent suspenders in the store and a few minutes afterward approached a floorwalker and said they were unsatisfactory, relates the Philadelphia Item.

"Very well," said the floorwalker, affably. "Do you wish your money back?"

"No," replied the purchaser; "I believe I'll exchange."

"Just as you please," said the smiling floorwalker. "Will you have another pair of suspenders?"

"I think not; I'll just look around and let you know when I find something that suits me."

In less than half an hour the down town young man called the floorwalker to the counter and said: "That's what I want; those with the silver back." And he pointed out an expensive toilet set, which comprised military hair brushes, silver mug and shaving brush, razor, manicure set, soap box and a fine leather case to keep them in.

"But you are joking," said the floorwalker. "They are worth twenty pairs of suspenders."

"I can't help that," replied the other. "I'm taking you at your word. There is 'you sign, 'Money refunded, or you can exchange for anything in the store.' It's optional with me, and I wish to exchange for 'anything in the store.' This is the 'anything' that suits me."

They wrangled for awhile and the proprietor was called. He read the sign several times, and then said: "You are a very bright young man. It's on us this time."

Turning to the floorwalker he said: "Make the exchange as he desires, and haul down those signs before he has time to buy anything else."

Merchants cannot be too careful in the use of this wonderful language of ours.

Watertown, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Adlai E. Stevenson, who is making a tour of the state arrived in this city yesterday afternoon. He was met at the station by a large and enthusiastic crowd and escorted to the Woodruff house by a committee of leading Democrats. Last night he was the leading speaker at a big Democratic meeting held in the state armory. Mr. Stevenson was greeted enthusiastically. He spoke on trusts and imperialism.

PHENOMENAL

In Size and Enthusiasm Were the Crowds

That Turned Out to Hear Bryan at Albany and Troy.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 18.—William J. Bryan ran around two sides of a triangle yesterday from Hudson to Albany, inclusive, and probably spoke to as cosmopolitan a lot of people as he has addressed during the campaign. At Hudson he spoke to a gathering of business people of all classes; at Troy to the capacity of an opera house and with an overflow meeting of collar factory and laundry employes; at Mechanicsville to railroad people; at Cohoes to the mass of the employes of the cotton and woolen mills and at Albany to two immense meetings, one in the opera house and one outside composed of the best element of the city. The great meetings of this trip were held at Troy, the home of ex-Senator Murphy and Albany, the home of ex-Senator Hill. Mr. Hill is absent in the west. At both Troy and Albany the meetings were phenomenally large and enthusiastic, immense overflows having to be held to accommodate those who desired to see or hear Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Bryan alluded to many things which he has not mentioned at many other places during the campaign.

At Hudson he said:

"I believe that Mexico is far better off because we took our flag down from the capital when the Mexican war was over and brought it back to the Rio Grande. I think Mexico is better today and we are better than if we held a carpet bag government in place there by means of bayonets and I think that self-government in Mexico, half Spanish and half Indian, has developed the people more and has brought them further than would have been the case had we held them under our domain and if you doubt it look at Mexico and compare Mexico with India. Under 30 years of self-government Mexico has made more progress than India has made in 150 years, oppressed by an Anglo-Saxon soldiery. They only have 100,000 English in India out of 300 million, and it takes an army of 70,000 British soldiers to take care of the British population and it takes a native army of 140,000 to help the British army of 70,000 in its work of protection."

At Troy he said:

"I know that you are a persevering people, for in this town you gave me a majority four years ago, and your zeal seems to have lasted for four years."

At Cohoes Mr. Bryan said:

"I recall a trip here only three years ago, and I remember your cordial greeting at that time and I was much impressed by the falls that have been of so much value to your industries. I have been sorry to hear that water has been scarce in the Mohawk and I suppose that if the Republican party can claim credit for the abundance of rain in the west it is responsible for the lack of water here. Certainly it is a poor rule that does not work both ways, and if a farmer ought to vote the Republican ticket because he got rain you ought to vote the Democratic ticket because you did not get any here.

"We will soon find the army here demanding the punishment of an innocent man, as the army in France demanded the punishment of Dreyfus, a man so innocent that the president felt that he must pardon as soon he was convicted because of the outraged sense of justice expressed throughout the world."

He paid a high tribute to Lafayette and his service to the American colonies in their war of freedom, and spoke of the gift of the statue of liberty in New York harbor from the people of the French republic, and asked: Shall we take that statue down and send it back to France and tell the people of France that we are not in the liberty business an more? Shall we send over to England and get a statue of William the Conqueror and place it in New York harbor to indicate the change that has taken place in our national ideas?"

At Albany, meetings were not begun as promptly as some that had taken place elsewhere, a parade keeping the assemblages in the street and theater waiting. The theater was filled to repletion and a large overflow on the outside commanded Mr. Bryan's attention. Mr. Bryan's voice showed palpable signs of wear. He said in part:

"I remember in 1896, your state Republican convention adopted a platform something like this: 'We demand that a government shall be conducted by business men on business principles and in the interest of the business interests of the country,' or words to that effect, but the trouble is that the men who talk that way so limit definition of a business man that very few are included. Is a farmer a business man? Well, I think not. He does work. That is all he does. He commences in the morning and works all days, commences in the spring and works all summer, and if at the end of the summer he is able to show enough as the result of his labor to realize a small per centage on the investment he thinks he is doing well. But he is no business man. Who is? The business man who goes on board of trade at 9 o'clock and makes before noon betting on the price of what the farmer raises more than the farmer can make raising it. Is the laboring man a business man? No. He simply converts raw material into finished products. He is not a business man. Who is? The man who trades in what this producer produces. I believe that every man who by his muscle or his brain adds to the greatness, the wealth or the glory of this nation is a business man and of the best. Production day is the most important business day of all the year.

"The Republican party goes on the theory that society is built from the top. They say take care of the well to do and they will take care of those who are not well to do, and when you tell them of the story of Lazarus and Dives they say: 'What a lucky man Lazarus was to have a Dives near so he could get the crumbs that fell from Dives' table.' A man in our state in 1896 said that the prosperity of the laboring man and the farmer depended upon the prosperity of the banker and the business man. He got it just reversed. The prosperity of the business man depends upon the prosperity of the farmer and the laboring man for until wealth is produced there is no wealth to exchange. And yet the Republicans, if they built a house as they built society, would build the roof first and then hang the house to the roof. They go on the theory that a man who has a place to work ought to be under an obligation to his employer. No man employes another unless the man employed can make enough to pay his own wages and a profit besides to the man who employs him. And yet when election day comes the employer sometimes thinks that the man who works for him sells his citizenship when he sells his labor. And often the employer tries to coerce the laboring man. If it is right for an employer to vote the votes of his employe, then I insist that the law should be changed so as to give every employer as many votes as he has employes. As it is now they sometimes get two votes, that of the man who belongs to the citizen and not the employer then every citizen who prizes his ballot and appreciates the responsibility of citizenship should speak out against the intimidation that is often practised against those who are in the employ of others."

Mr. Bryan then took up the questions of trusts and militarism along the usual lines. He called attention to Governor Roosevelt's argument that the people were not afraid of a large standing army and said if any one asked who was afraid of a larger standing army to tell him Governor Roosevelt was, as evidenced by his recent statements that a large army would be unnecessary, but for the war in the Philippines. Speaking of the claim of the Republicans that our presence in the Philippines was due to destiny, Mr. Bryan said:

"Destiny is the subterfuge of the invertebrate. It is the coward's excuse for failing in with that which he has not the strength to resist."

Mr. Bryan referred to Mr. Hanna's speech yesterday in which he said the people ought not to swap horses in crossing a stream and said:

"Mr. Hanna is mistaken; the Republican party is not crossing a stream, but an ocean. It is going back to European ideas and you had best swap horses and come back, instead of crossing the ocean."

COMING DRAMATIC EVENTS

"A Runaway Girl," with Arthur Dunn as "Flipper," will be seen at the Crawford tonight.

Venice and Corsica are the locations in which the plot and action of the London and New York success, "A Runaway Girl," take place. No doubt these places were selected by the author so as to afford the opportunity to consistently exhibit some very handsome and picturesque costumes which are worn by the male and female characters in the play. Corsican brigands, Venetian gondoliers and flower girls, peasants and soldiers, dancing girls and strolling musicians—these are all seen in the play and all of them dressed in the rich and picturesque dresses that are appropriate to their respective characters. This feature lends a brilliant and pretty effect to the production.

"The Star Boarder" will be at the Crawford Saturday. The mirror is correctly "held up to nature" in the representation of boarding house life and a star boarder. Charles H. Boyle appears in the title role and infuses into the character all the peculiar action and merriment it requires. A galaxy of pretty girls in gay gowns, songs, medleys, dances and specialties form a magnetic combination.

SHAFTER'S REPORT.

Deals With the Military Situation in Hawaiian Islands.

Washington, Oct. 18.—In the annual report of Major General Shafter, commanding the department of California, there is a report from Major George Ruhlen, depot quartermaster at Honolulu. The garrison at Honolulu consists of two batteries, Sixth artillery, who are in quarters at Camp McKinley, four and a half miles from the business center of Honolulu. He says that the troops should be quartered in plain frame buildings, rather than in canvas, as the climate along the seashore is very destructive to the latter.

No action has been taken looking to the selection of a permanent site for a military post in the Hawaiian islands.

Speaking of the bubonic plague, Major Ruhlen says that no person connected with the military service was exposed to or took the disease. The only effects of the plague were that the quarantine restrictions prevented for a time the use of Honolulu as a port for the transport service.

The transport service has used the port of Honolulu quite extensively during the year. During the year there stopped at Honolulu, enroute from San Francisco to Manila, fifty-three transports with troops and supplies; one with supplies only, thirteen with horses, mules and supplies, and one hospital ship.

In addition to the land required for military reservations the report advocates the purchase of about 30 acres more in order to make it desirable as a military site. One reservation contains 1,345 acres and another 14,400 acres. The latter is 18 miles from Honolulu and is about seven miles from the railway station at Pearl City. Major Ruhlen thinks this site is very well adapted for a military reservation. A considerable portion of both these reservations was leased in 1882 for thirty years and these leases will not expire until 1912. The lands are mostly used for grazing purposes.

A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE WRITES FROM CHICAGO, ILL.

"I Was Greatly Troubled With a Cold Which Settled on My Lungs and Left Me With Catarrh."

THEN HE TRIED PERUNA

"It Has Come Fully Up to My Expectations, Completely Curing My Catarrh—Leaving No Trace of It."

[Special News From Chicago, Ill.]

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 18.—Hon. E. A. W. Johnson, Justice of the Peace, writes from 607 Sheffield avenue, Chicago, Ill., the following:

"I was greatly troubled with a cold which settled on my lungs and left me with a disagreeable catarrh. As your medicine has come to my notice several times, I determined to see what it would do for me. It has come fully up to my expectations, completely curing my catarrh—leaving no trace of it."

E. A. W. JOHNSON.

Nearly all the chronic ailments to which the human family is liable, either begin or end with catarrh, or else are in some degree complicated by catarrh.

If this fact were better understood by the medical profession than it is today, it would save a great amount of anxiety and suffering, and prevent numberless deaths.

HON. E. A. W. JOHNSON,
Chicago, Ill.

Catarrh is catarrh wherever located. Catarrh is essentially the same everywhere.

The remedy that will cure catarrh in one situation will cure it in all situations.

It does not require one remedy to cure catarrh of the head, and another to cure catarrh of the lungs, and still another to cure catarrh of the stomach, and another to cure catarrh of the kidneys.

A remedy that will cure catarrh anywhere will cure catarrh everywhere.

The phrase that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located has become almost as axiom throughout the civilized world.

Brings Action In Georgia For False Imprisonment.

A special dispatch from Savannah, Georgia, says:

"W. T. Sallade of Topeka, Kan., filed in the United States court a suit against W. C. Wylly of Darien, Ga., for $15,000 for false imprisonment. Sallade says that he is a traveling man, representing a Kansas City (Mo.) firm. He was engaged in August, 1899, in selling clocks and other articles in Darien by sample only. He did not deliver any of the articles disposed of, but had them sent on from the headquarters.

"While at Darien Mr. Wylly questioned him as to his business. Sallade explained the nature of his business to Mr. Wylly and was told that he was not violating any law. Later, however, a warrant was issued for the drummer, charging him with selling goods without a license. This warrant was sworn out by W. C. Wylly, and Sheriff Blount of McIntosh county took Sallade before Justice S. A. Way at Darien. The justice committed him to jail and he was compelled to remain there for ten days until bail could be procured.

"During his incarceration Sallade claims to have suffered the greatest mental torture because of the presence of a large number of armed negroes that surrounded the jail threatening to burn it unless a negro prisoner was given up to them. Sallade was acquitted before a petit jury."

The man named in the dispatch is not known in Topeka.
