

Weak Girls

Parents, look to the health of your daughters as they approach that perilous period of their lives when they undergo that marvelous transformation from girlhood to womanhood. Guard them closely, their whole future depends upon the care you give them.

The system is weakened by the changes that are taking place, and it is often at this stage that the deadly consumption fastens upon its victims. The cause of the majority of weaknesses of women can be traced to this critical period of the girl's life.

"About two years ago my daughter, who was then in her sixteenth year, was in bad health. She was pale and thin, without strength or vitality. In fact her condition was that which is generally called all run down. We were, of course, worried about her, and employed the best physicians to attend her. They studied her case and although they did everything possible, gave her no relief which was permanent. The late Dr. Angel had first called my attention to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and my wife had heard they were fine pills, so we decided to try them for my daughter. We did so, and inside of eight weeks the primary cause of her trouble was removed and she showed a decided gain in health, strength and flesh."

"A great many people will buy a medicine and take a few doses. Then if they are not cured they throw it aside as no good, or take it spasmodically. We believed in a fair trial in strict accordance with directions and our faithfulness was rewarded, for she was greatly benefited by them. Her color came to her cheeks and she continued to gain in weight and strength. So you see both myself and my wife believe in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and have found them a wonderful medicine. We have told a great many people about them and have been glad to do so."

BRYAN VOTE IN COLORADO. It Shows a Falling Off of $1,000,000.

Denver, Col., Nov. 10.—The Rocky Mountain News today prints practically complete returns from every county in the state on the vote for presidential electors and governor. Figures for most of the counties are complete returns. In a few others one or two precincts are missing.

The figures tabulated show that Bryan's plurality is 23,385, which will be slightly increased by the returns not received.

Orman's plurality over Goudy appears as 23,722, which will likely be increased by the returns still to come.

Compared with 1896, in round numbers the Bryan vote fell off about 41,000, while the McKinley vote increased about 64,000.

Notre Dame "Gym" Burns.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 10.—Fire which started about 3 o'clock this afternoon in the gymnasium at University of Notre Dame destroyed the structure. Two alarms were sent in, but all the firemen could do was to protect adjoining buildings.

The building was of steel and brick and was one of the largest college gymnasiums in the world. It was erected in 1898 and 1899. It was large enough to permit football and baseball practice; had a track, baths, and in every way was perfectly equipped. While the flames were still raging the university trustees held a session and voted to replace the structure with another gymnasium.

If you carry a vial of "77" (it fits the pocket and pocket-book) and use it freely, you will be protected and will not take Cold.

PHILIPPINE CENSORSHIP.

Mail Will Be Censored Only When Necessary.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Recent developments in the postal service in the Philippines are reported by Director General of Posts Vailie in communications just received by the postoffice department.

Regarding the censorship of the mails, the director general says Gen. MacArthur is fully in accord with him in his contention that the censorship shall be resorted to only in case of absolute necessity. He says there has been and will be no friction between the postal and military authorities on this question. He recognizes, however, that occasions may arise where censorship is absolutely necessary and has given instructions that officers of the postal service shall in every way assist the military.

R. G. DUN IS DEAD.

Mercantile Agency Owner Dies at Age of 74.

New York, Nov. 10.—R. G. Dun, head of the mercantile agency firm of R. G. Dun & Co., died in this city today of cirrhosis of the liver.

Robert Graham Dun was born at Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1828. He received his education in the district schools and at the academy.

At the age of 16 years he became a clerk in a store, during which time his rise was rapid, soon becoming a partner in the business. In 1850 he removed to New York city where he accepted a position as clerk for the Mercantile Agency then conducted by Tappin & Douglas. In 1854 he became a member of the firm by buying out Mr. Tappin. The firm was known as R. Douglas & Co. In 1859 Mr. Douglas retired and the business has since been owned and conducted by Mr. Dun, under the firm name of R. G. Dun & Co.

Mr. Dun was at the time of his death 74 years old.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S HUNT.

He Dodged the Rabble This Year to Escape Insults.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—This week Emperor William held the St. Hubert's hunt in the military grounds at Doberitz. Here, before the hunt had been held annually in Grunwald near Berlin. Of recent years, however, the rabble had grossly insulted the emperor's guests by shouting profane epithets and making offensive jests. This explains the choice of Doberitz.

Thousands of Berlin excursionists, however, did not heed the warning admission to view the hunt but they were roughly driven off.

French and Russians Object.

London, Nov. 10.—Dr. Morrison, writing to the Times from Pekin, on November 8, says: M. DeGiers and M. Pichon, the Russian and French ministers, alone opposed the British proposal to deal with the question of the revision of the commercial treaties in a preliminary treaty and the excellent American proposal to dismiss the officials under whose jurisdiction the outrages were committed.

WAS VERY GOOD.

"The Burgomaster" Pleased a Large Audience.

Gustav Luders' Music Is a Decided Success.

MAYOR DREW'S LETTER

An Accidental "Hit" in a Sapho Burlesque.

The Omnipresent Cake Walk Is Produced.

The man who carries off the honors of "The Burgomaster" does not have his name in the printed cast on the programme. He is not an actor. He is a performer, though, and performed last night at the Crawford on the piano, leading the orchestra. He is the composer of the music, Gustav Luders. His work enjoys the distinction of at once meeting with popular favor. He has certainly outdistanced all other composers in their output for the year. He is assisted by Frank Pixley, who wrote the songs.

When the audience left the theater last night all who could whistle, and some who couldn't, were whistling "The Tale of the Kangaroo," the song hit of the piece. Up and down Kansas-avenue, on the side streets, in the street cars and restaurants could be heard the tune, and even after you went to bed there was a chance that some belated "gally god" might be trudging home a little later than the partridge people, and he too would be whistling the tune. Even a "bus driver who did not see the comedy heard the peanut boy, who ran out between acts to restock his basket, whistling about the kangaroo and the driver took it up. He traveled north and before the performance was finished he had spread it through Smoky Row, across the river and to North Topeka. The policemen were whistling it, the watchman at the railroad crossing whistled his flag keeping time as he whistled, and "worked tonight" for you, moterner heard it and whistled it into South Topeka. And so it traveled. By this morning everybody in Topeka who could pucker his lips properly was whistling "The Tale of the Kangaroo" on his way down town. There are other songs which are popular also, "I Drink from my Heart to You," "One of the Working Girls," "The Liberty Girl," and "The Gripman," which has been pirated by dozens of companies.

"The Burgomaster" is a freak. It is called "an original musical comedy." It is certainly original and also funny. There is a prologue and two acts. The prologue is like a comic opera. The two acts are like nothing ever heard of before. The prologue represents New Amsterdam at the time when the Dutch flag waved over the port. The two acts represent New York and Chicago of today, very much up to date. Harry Davenport is "Pater" in the evening. The leading part. Davenport is supposed to be funny. He is as much as the part will allow, but the character admits of very little save a few puns. William Norris played the part during the Chicago engagement and Davenport is Dan Norris, although his songs suffered last night on account of his cold.

Knox Wilson as "Doodles" makes the hit of the piece in his specialty. He got music out of an accordion while he writhed all over the stage. He was called back several times after his saxophone solo.

William Riley Hatch, whose home is Wichita, and Laura Joyce Bell, burlesqued "Sapho" in a way that brought the longest laughs of the evening. Hatch as "Jean" made Miss Bell as "Fanny" read the letters which revealed her "past." "Sapho's" hair was the red known only in hair and the aurora borealis. She was bedlammed from her waist up. Her dress of wine colored silk was strangely and wonderfully puffed and flounced. "Jean" wore a short waist and knickerbockers. He forced "Fanny" to read. The first letter she read was as follows:

"Miss Fanny Le Grand.

"I must request you to secure other apartments as this hotel is equipped with automatic fire sprinklers in the attic and every time you rehearse your part the hotel is flooded.

"Of the Third Floor."

"R-r-r-r-r-read the next," commanded Jean in a very melodramatic manner.

"Oh, Jack—I mean Jean, please spare me," wailed "Sapho."

"N-n-n-never, r-r-r-read."

She read.

"Mrs. Fanny LeGrand.

"Dear Madame—I will furnish you a closed carriage to ride to and from the theater as some nervous idiot always sees your hair and turns in a fire alarm."

"G. O. WILMARTH."

"Fire Marshal."

"Jean, must I read any more?" weeped Fanny.

"Yes! R-r-r-read."

"Miss Fanny LeGrand, your performance of 'Sapho' is not fit for people to see. Please reserve me a box for Friday night."

C. J. DREW, Mayor.

Then "Jean" said he would carry "Sapho" up stairs. She made a flying leap into his arms. A man appeared on the side of the stage and held a step-ladder for "Jean" to climb—and the lights went out for the change of scene.

The musical attraction has not been here this season that did not have a cake walk. In "The Amero" it has been stepped in Afghanistan, in "A Black Sheep" it was walked in Arizona. In "A Runaway Girl" it was done in Corsica and Venice and in "The Burgomaster" a cake walk step was done by the Indians in New Amsterdam 200 years ago. Richard Mansfield as "Henry VIII" may not have to come to it. Perhaps "Sherlock Holmes" will try it. Who knows? But the cake walk in "The Burgomaster" was good.

The costumes were very good. Little special scenery was used. The names of 75 people appeared on the programme while the company only carried that number was sufficient. The stage would not be large enough for many more. Here "The Burgomaster" here, the production of "The Amero" here, was better than in Chicago at the Dearborn theater last spring. The performance "went" better and several changes were made which improves the piece.

CHINA POSTAL SERVICE.

Found Necessary to Divide the Mail Facilities.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Superintendent Robinson, in charge of the United States military postal station in China, reports that owing to the impossibility of securing a central location with sufficient space, the office force has been divided, the main station being centrally located in the United States marine barracks, with facilities for money orders, registry, stamps and general delivery.

The mailing and dispatching departments are four or five blocks distant, in the house the force occupies as a residence. One clerk has been stationed at Tong Ku, in charge of a branch office and another on September 21 was awaiting transportation to Peking. Each of these offices furnishes facilities for handling ordinary and registered mail matter, sale of stamps, etc.

Several other countries have established military stations in China to supply relief troops with mail.

The superintendent asks authority to dispatch mail to the United States on all available ships.
