MR. NEILL PLEASURES

His "An American Citizen" Is Altogether Satisfactory.

Strong Company Presents Nat Goodwin's Famous Comedy.

PLOT IS WHOLESOME.

Nothing Displeasing or Unnatural in the Play.

Company Will Be Seen Tonight in Another Goodwin Comedy.

Topeka had its introduction to "An American Citizen" last night, and the first impression was pleasing. To be sure Nat Goodwin was not here, but James Neill, a young western actor, appeared in his part of Beresford Cruger, and in many respects he was excellent. Mr. Neill has a peculiar voice, which at first appears unpleasant, but the audience becomes accustomed to his deep tones after awhile, and last night his work was for him many rounds of applause. In fact, the demonstration at the end of the third act was quite as spontaneous and the reception just as hearty as that accorded to Francis X. Burt or any other of the top-notchers. Again and again the curtain went up revealing the young actor in his most graceful poses, but he steadfastly refused to appear before the curtain and make a speech.

WHERE WAS HIS HOME.

Much Depends on the Answer in the Case of W. L. Winans, Deceased.

London, Nov. 28.—The lord chief justice's court is occupied at present with determining whether the late William L. Winans, formerly of Baltimore, Md., was a domiciled resident of Great Britain when he died in 1897. This question is being tested on account of a legacy of $200,000 which the late Winans left by will to his sister-in-law, Ellen Delaney on which the executor claims a legacy duty. As the attorney general smilingly remarked, the decision of course, will affect the whole of Winans' millions, and counsel for the crown proceeded to recount the estates and shootings leased by Mr. Winans on St. Louis, Mo., and in fifteen months' money, including $70,000 on the shooting leased from Lord Lovat, "constituting" contended the attorney general, "ample proof of his settlement in this country." Walter Winans testified that his father always regarded Baltimore as his home.

EXPOSITION IS ENDORSED.

National Good Roads Association Approves of Kansas' Celebration. Resolutions endorsing the Kansas Semi-Centennial Exposition in Topeka in 1904 were introduced by Robert Stone in the conventional of delegates to the National Good Roads and Irrigation congress which met in Chicago last week. They were received enthusiastically and passed unanimously. The resolutions follow: "Whereas, The year 1904 will be the semi-centennial of the admission of Kansas to the union, and time and money of more than ordinary significance to the nation, because of its intimate connection with the terrible struggle with slavery; and "Whereas, The said state of Kansas proposes to celebrate her birth by an exposition in 1904, be it "Resolved, That we commend said state in her worthy undertaking, wishing her the greatest success, and pledge her our individual support."

WAS WITH THE BOERS.

Kansas Man Returns From Service in South Africa. Lawrence, Nov. 28.—John Williams, of this city, returned home today after a year's service in the Boer army. Williams went from Lawrence with Ernest Criss, formerly a member of the Twentieth Kansas volunteer regiment. They were together during that time and Williams says they enjoyed the service, which was without restraint of military rule. Williams declares the Boers have been in the field for a long time, and he does not believe the war will end for at least a year. On leaving for home he says he and other foreigners who had served in the Boer army were paid for their services in gold and given free transportation to New York. Criss remained in the Transvaal.

EVERY MAN AND WOMAN SHOULD READ THIS ABOUT

Dr. Greene's Nervura

Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Weak, Despairing, Utterly Prostrated by Ill Health, Mr. D. R. Wood

Used Dr. Greene's Nervura, and Now Looks and Feels Like Another Man.

Dr. Greene's Nervura Made Him Strong, Vigorous and in Perfect Health. Gained 48 Pounds.

"Dear Sir: I can't say enough for Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I am the proprietor of the barber shop, and I was all broke up, my nerves being almost gone. I was so bad with nervous prostration that I could hardly eat or sleep, at any time, and whenever I would lie down at night I felt as though I should choke. I was so short of breath, I was so weak I could hardly stand at my barber chair. At night I felt as though I was being smothered. I went to doctors by the half dozen to find out about my case, but got no relief, and took medicine until I hated to see a bottle and patent medicines of almost every description. But they could not cure me and I had given up in sorrow and despair and prepared to meet my Creator sooner or later. But I was like a drowning man and would cling to anything I could grasp hold upon. By chance a pamphlet of Dr. Greene's Nervura came into my possession and I read every word therein and all the testimonials, and it came to me like a dove so gentle and true, telling me to try this great remedy and I did. I think the maker of this great remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura and hope no one will ever hesitate to take this remedy. I weighed 120 pounds when I commenced using the Nervura, and in fifteen months I weighed 168 pounds. All who wish can write me or call upon me personally. There is no better remedy made than Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I am a well man now. Yours truly, D. R. WOOD."

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

All suffering people are cordially invited to consult Dr. Greene in confidence, personally or by letter, at his office, 35 West 14th Street, New York. Each case submitted is carefully diagnosed and given special attention. There is no charge for consultation, whether you call personally or write, and under Dr. Greene's skillful treatment the cure of all nerve and blood diseases is practically certain.
