When Mr. H. C. Bowen and wife returned Sunday noon from their visit to relatives in Richmond, Ind., they found their home at 1019 Quincy street soiled and decorated in honor of the event. Their son-in-law, Mr. Frank Berry, and their neighbors, Mr. E. S. Gresser and Mr. Miller took it upon themselves to see that everything was in condition for the return of the travelers, and had the house appropriately decorated. In the front window hung a large picture of W. J. Bryan, while the porch and the railing were wrapped with yards of red, white and blue bunting. While Mr. Bowen and his wife appreciated the thoughtfulness and kindness of their friends, they did not approve of their taste in the selection of the picture and this part of the decorations was speedily consigned to oblivion.

FLOODS AND CYCLONE.

Portions of Alabama Suffer From Rain and Wind.

Birmingham, Ala., June 25.—A cyclone which originated near Blossburg, Jefferson county, today swept the county for 15 miles westward into Walker county. Its path was a quarter mile wide, and the greatest damage resulted around Democrat, where a score of houses were wrecked and a number of persons injured, but none seriously. Crops were ruined and hundreds of trees uprooted. The heavy rains throughout the county continued to work havoc. The Black Warrior river has overflowed its banks in Walker county, and hundreds of acres of cotton and corn lands are inundated. Many cattle have been drowned and great damage wrought. Near Demopolis both the Warrior and Tombigbee have left their banks and people are moving out of the lowlands.

AS TO SENATOR HILL.

Pennsylvania Democrats Not Unfavorable if New York Is Willing.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 26.—Democratic State Chairman John S. Rilling met with National Committeeman Guffey here today and completed arrangements for taking the Pennsylvania delegation to Kansas City.

"Pennsylvania has no candidate for vice president," he says. "The course of the Pennsylvania delegation will not be decided until it reaches Kansas City. We will be there early and in a position to size up the situation before taking any action."

Concerning Senator Hill's candidacy he said:

"Well, Senator Hill's availability depends largely upon his ability to unite the New York delegation. If he can do that he would look like a strong candidate."

SUCKER DEMOCRATS.

Illinois State Convention Meets at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—The Democratic state convention was called to order at 12:15 o'clock by Chairman Watson, of the state central committee. Elmore W. Hurst, of Rock Island, was introduced as temporary chairman.

Mr. Hurst said in part:

"The greatest danger which threatens our institutions today is to be found in the incoming group of incorporators. These vast and powerful interests fully realize that their safety lies in the continuation of a Republican administration which has failed to enforce the laws now on the statute book or enact more stringent laws against them and they will oppose with all their power any change of administration and unless the mass of the people is aroused to the danger which confronts them, the time will soon come when it will pass or honor be conferred without the consent of these powerful and interested combinations which are speedily becoming the government of the state by usurpation of the authority of the people. If you think this an overdrawn picture look at their national convention at Philadelphia where the delegates of these interests named the candidates and dictated the policy, a convention to which the great state of Illinois chose two of its delegates the ruling spirits of the barbed wire trust, a trust, which to advance the interests of its officers, recently closed its doors for the year, without any warning whatever, deprived more than 6,000 laboring men of employment."

"The Democratic party wages no war on property or property rights. The true Democrat glories in the opportunity for individual advancement and success, but such success as it achieves is not its own success, but the success of the man who, when rightly administered and has only admiration for the man who, asking nothing from his government, but equal rights, carries out his own success, be it financial or otherwise, but the true Democrat demands that the history of the government shall fall, like the rain from heaven on the rich and poor alike, and demands that his government shall not grant special privileges to any class."

"Under the influence of plutocratic interests, the McKinley administration is writing one of the darkest chapters in our history and in its lust for trade and empire is losing the hearts and confidence of liberty loving people throughout the world."

"With subject provinces governed by force is not a republic and where plutocracy reigns Democracy becomes merely a name."

"The voice of wisdom to learn from experience the real tendency of things and shun the rocks upon which other nations have been wrecked. It is the duty of the policy of the administration in relation to those islands has met with opposition from some of the best and purest men in the Republic and the opponents of the policy of imperialism have urged that if the doctrine of righteousness and freedom and human rights dictates our course in Cuba, that the same doctrine demanded a like course in dealing with the Philippines, they have met with the answer that the maintainers of the administration have said that there were great stores of coal there and that the streams and valleys were full of gold."

"The doctrine of freedom and human rights weigh as nothing with these men against dollars and cents and so our soldiers are laying down their lives not as a war policy which makes it a matter of conquest, that trade may be extended."

"There are others who attempt to defend this policy of imperialism by insisting that we must protect the honor of our flag."

"We yield to no party in our devotion to the country's flag, but we protest against a policy which makes it an emblem of that hypocrisy which seeks to cover a war of conquest with the cloak of humanity and religion an emblem of that hypocrisy which makes it an emblem of our national honor, the integrity of our institution and the peace and character of the republic as a mere matter of dollars and cents. An emblem of the imperialistic ambition which mocks the noblest of our present and stamps the greatest national heroes of our country as hypocrites or fools."

"There is great danger to the Republic in this policy of imperialism—this reaching out for distant islands to be governed by the subject provinces. A colonial system destroyed all hopes of republicanism in olden times. It can exist in no free country, because it supports the doctrine of the basest of republican institutions that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed."

"The question presented to the American people is not the question of expansion of the republic or contiguous territory to which we extend the blessings of our institutions, a policy which would welcome if accomplished peaceably and honorably; no; the question for your consideration is the question of the republic and the struggle between liberty and slavery, between the declaration of independence and imperialism, between the doctrines of Jefferson and the doctrines of Theodore Roosevelt and Lord North and with a firm reliance in the love of liberty which God has planted in the hearts of the American people, we firmly believe the people will hurl aside those who, in the delirium for trade and conquest seek to destroy the character of our institutions."

"The task of leading the democratic hosts of pleading the people's cause and of teaching the gospel of the true Democracy should be given to that greatest exponent of Democratic principles since the day of Jefferson—William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska."

"The illustrious Bryan was made the occasion of a wild demonstration."

"After receiving the reports of the various Congressional delegations and standing committees, the convention took a recess till 5 p. m."

Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after months induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. FELL INTO THE RIVER.
Fatal Accident Caused by Broken Railing at Paris Exposition.

New York, June 26.—A dispatch to the Times from Paris says:

A fatal accident has occurred at the exposition in the show known as "Old Paris." This structure is built over the river, and as a university professor, his wife and daughter were bending over one of the top stories the balustrade gave way and all three were precipitated into the river. The professor and his wife were fished out alive, but the girl was dead. It was noted that not a single Paris paper mentions the affair, because the show is a heavy advertiser.
