

One Woman to Another.

From one who has suffered to all who are suffering. The words of Mrs. Nellie Cameron, of Lockport, N. Y., convey a broad meaning to every thoughtful woman. Mrs. Cameron says: "In the fall of 1898 I was in a deplorable condition. I had stomach trouble in the very worst form. Nothing at all would stay on my stomach, and I had to almost starve myself. My side pained me constantly. The lack of nourishment caused me to lose flesh rapidly; I dropped from 128 to 97 pounds, growing weaker all the time. There was not the slightest color to my face. I was simply a shadow of my former self. Able physicians treated me, but failed absolutely. I was a complete wreck when a friend told me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. One box greatly improved my condition; it was astonishing how quickly they built me up. I believe

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People saved my life.

I was enabled to sleep, and in the morning I felt refreshed and rested. My stomach was strengthened, what I ate benefited me, my weight increased, and I soon regained all I had lost. I feel now as strong as ever. I can do my usual work as highly as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. NELLIE CAMERON.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 24th day of March, 1900.

HE LINGERED LONG.

Bank Cashier Beaten With a Hammer in September Expired Last Night.

Chicago, March 24.—Frederick J. Filbert, former cashier in Patton's bank at Palatine, who was attacked with a hammer by Dr. William Lewis in the bank September 20, died at his home last night as a result of his injuries. Dr. Lewis, who was believed to be insane, was shot down after the assault and died the next day in the county jail hospital.

During the six months that have elapsed since the tragedy, Mr. Filbert was unable to leave his home and was under the constant care of a physician. Six days ago, however, his condition took a turn for the worse and he grew steadily weaker. He was sixty-two years old and well known in G. A. R. and Methodist church circles.

The attack on Cashier Filbert never was explained satisfactorily. He was alone in the bank when the stranger entered, set upon him with a hammer, knocked him down and beat him savagely. He was rescued from his assailant by Henry Plazge, a farmer, who had heard the commotion from the street. In the three-handed struggle that resulted the assailant was shot.

For several days the identity of the man and the cause of the deed were mysterious. It was thought that robbery was the

CHARGED TO STRIKERS.

One Man Killed and Another Badly Hurt in Chicago.

Chicago, March 24.—The record says: Two men who are supposed to have been assaulted by strikers yesterday were taken to the county hospital in a serious condition. One of them died later.

THE DEAD.

Gustav Smith, 28 years old.

August Hasterok, 35 years old, concussion of the brain; serious.

Mystery surrounds the manner in which Smith received the injury. He was picked up at Madison and Jefferson streets in the afternoon in an insensible condition by the police. He was found lying on the street. It was thought that probably he had been struck by a cable train. This theory was abandoned after a canvass of the neighborhood and inquiry of the railway employees.

Smith's skull was badly fractured. His nose was broken and his lips cut and bleeding. The hospital physician said the injury to the head had not been caused by a fall. In his opinion it had been inflicted by a heavy blow from a club.

Police Inspector Shea detailed several detectives on the case.

Hasterok's manner of receiving his injury is also shrouded in mystery. He was picked up at Noble and Cornell streets in an unconscious condition by the police. The latter was said to be suffering from concussion of the brain. Hasterok was unconscious at a late hour last night and his condition was said to be serious. He is an iron worker.

The police claim to have witnesses who will testify at the inquest over the body of Smith that the latter was knocked down by a cable train, thus receiving the injuries from which he died. They will also aver that Hasterok was not attacked by strikers but was injured by falling against a curb stone. No witness to this version of the story has yet been found, but the police declare that had strikers set upon the man it could not have failed to attract attention as Hasterok was picked up before there were many people on the street.

TRUST PLAN FAILED.

Scheme to Combine Sugar Refineries Not Brought About.

New York, March 24.—The Herald publishes the following:

It was disclosed yesterday (Friday) that the recent stories of an "impending settlement of the sugar trade war" were based upon an attempt to bring about a combination of the several independent refiners. With the disclosure comes the announcement that all negotiations have failed.

James R. Post, of B. H. Howell & Son, the agents of the National and Mollinhaber refineries, was the active man in the effort to combine the refiners. In speaking of the matter, he said that at no time were the negotiations extended to the sugar combine. "They were confined," said Mr. Post, "to the independent refiners, because I thought, and am still of the same opinion, that a combination of all interests is impossible. I believe that the independent refiners could protect themselves better by working together than by acting separately. All negotiations are now off, so far as I am concerned, and I see no settlement in sight, at least not for this year."

Chicago, March 24.—A contract was signed today by a syndicate of capitalists for the purchase of the new issue of $2,000,000 bonds of the Ogden Gas company. The stockholders will meet April 10 and consider the question of its ratification.

Simultaneously with the partial consummation came the announcement that the $5,000,000 realized from the bonds of the company will at once extend its present plant to the west and south divisions of the city. The plans involve a probable fight with the Peoria Gas, Light & Coke company as to territory and gas prices.

HEALTH FOOD FACTS!!

People hesitate at the statement that the famous food Grape-Nuts yields as much nourishment from one pound as can be absorbed by the system from ten pounds of meat, bread, wheat or oats. Ten pounds of meat might contain more nourishment than one pound of Grape-Nuts, but not in shape that the system will absorb as large proportion of, as the body can make up from one pound of Grape-Nuts.

This food contains the selected parts of wheat and barley which are prepared and by natural means predigested, transformed into grape sugar, ready for immediate assimilation. People in all parts of the country can testify to the value of Grape-Nuts food.

H. G. Carpenter, 1425 Oak St., Kansas City, Mo., says: "I have gained ten pounds on three packages of Grape-Nuts food. I can truly recommend it to this people." He had been eating meat, bread, etc., right along, but there was no ten pounds of added flesh until Grape-Nuts food was used.

One curious feature regarding true health food is that its use will reduce the weight of a corpulent person with unhealthy flesh, and will add to the weight of a thin person not properly nourished. There is abundance of evidence to prove this.

Grape-Nuts balance the body in a condition of true health. Scientific selections of food elements makes Grape-Nuts good and valuable. The food's delicious flavor and powerful nourishing properties have made friends that in turn have made Grape-Nuts famous. Sold by all grocers. Cleveland, O., March 24.—More than 5,000 women registered in Cleveland yesterday in order to be eligible to vote for a director of schools at the spring election. The indications are that fully as many more will register today. Heretofore the number of women voters has been confined to a few hundred. The unusual registration by the women is the result of agitation in favor of keeping the public schools out of politics.

FIGHTING IN SAMOA.

Natives Are Again Warring Among Themselves.

Chicago, March 24.—A special to the Chronicle from Victoria, B. C., says: The warring native factions in Samoa have apparently not forgotten their differences and it was feared when the last advice brought by the Warrington left the island that there would be another outbreak of hostilities. The Maitotoa people are paying their taxes into the government treasury at Apia, while the Matafao followers demand that payment shall be made to their government by Leulumeoa. Those who declined to comply with this demand were driven out of their villages and took refuge in Apia. To the German authorities the Matafao people said they simply wished to collect taxes and send them in a lump sum to Apia. Some of the followers of Matafao who went to the village of Leone were attacked by the natives and badly wounded. The reason for the attack was that the village had been given to understand that the Matafao people proposed to enslave them.

POLITICS AND PORTO RICO.

[From the Indianapolis News.]

It is virtually admitted that the senate will devote its energy to devising some scheme for uniting the Republican party on the Porto Rican tariff question. One proposition is that there should be no "hasty" action, but that the matter be held open long enough to allow public discontent to wear itself out, in the hope that a "safe" adjustment may be made. In other words, the interests of a starving people are to be sacrificed to the necessity for party harmony.

We would remind the senators that the people, in both parties, are of the opinion that there has been too much politics in this business already. What they want is a decision that will benefit the helpless people of Porto Rico, and they want it promptly made. To them it seems monstrous that any political expediency should be allowed to stand in the way of a wise and speedy settlement of the question. They see no reason for a protracted debate. We, in this country, have sacrificed much to the demands of political parties—much more than we ever ought to have done. Tariffs have been constructed for the purpose of strengthening the party that made them with the interests to be benefited by them. Financial measures have been enacted to appease the demands of certain classes, which the people of Porto Rico to wait until the Republican leaders can find some way out of the present tangle which they can travel safely. We do not believe that the people will patiently submit to the policy of delay. The senate should act promptly. There ought to be free trade between the United States and Porto Rico. And the Republicans will suffer less politically from a complete backdown than they will from the trifling policy that has been suggested. And even a Republican victory next November is less important than the adoption of a just policy toward the Porto Ricans.
