

REED AND CRISP.

Speaker and Ex-Speaker Clash in the House.

Much Hostile Feeling is Shown by Both.

HEARS NO APPEALS.

Speaker Crisp Refuses to Hear Republican Protests.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—When Speaker Crisp ascended the rostrum yesterday he was given a rousing reception from members on both sides of the house, the demonstration lasting fully a minute. The battle of Thursday was promptly renewed by Mr. Reed on a challenge of the correctness of the journal in failing to show Mr. Payne's point of order on the question of but one teller voting. On a rising vote the journal was approved and on a call of yeas and nays the previous question was ordered and debate limited to fifteen minutes on either side. After a speech by Mr. Reed regarding the speaker's ruling, Mr. Reed's motion to amend the journal was voted down. This vote on approving the journal showed a quorum voting.

Mr. Reed's motion to adjourn was decided out of order and the speaker declined to entertain an appeal, and again refused to state the ground of refusal, holding that no member has a right to inquire the grounds of a decision any more than a lawyer has to demand the same thing of a judge on the bench.

"That looks very much like tyranny," remarked Mr. Reed, sarcastically. The next episode was the overruling of Mr. Boutwell's point of order that the president's message vetoing the seigniorage bill could not be read, the house having made the contested election cases the special order. Again the speaker refused to entertain an appeal. The veto message was then read and Mr. Reed gave notice that he would move to amend the journal to pass the bill over the veto.

During the roll call on Mr. Burrows' motion to reconsider the vote by which the house had declared Mr. Joy not entitled to his seat, Mr. Reed, standing near the clerk's desk, and he would like to be permitted to see the roll call taken. This was resented by the speaker, who simply ordered Mr. Reed to take his seat and directed the sergeant-at-arms to enforce the order, as Mr. Reed did not move fast enough to sit.

"This is entirely unnecessary," said Mr. Reed, looking the speaker in the eye.

"It is not," replied the speaker. "In stead of taking your seat you respond every time."

"Certainly I do, because the chair has attacked me," said Mr. Reed, now thoroughly aroused.

There seemed to be an element of personal hostility between the two house leaders. Later on the speaker protested that he did not understand Mr. Reed to prefer a request to stand by the clerk's desk, and with this semi-apologetic explanation the incident closed. The roll call now disclosing the lack of a quorum, the house took a recess.

DEALERS ORDER GOODS.

Not Seigniorage Veto But Spring Trade Does It.

New York, March 31.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "The more active tone in business this week is, in part, due to be belief no disturbance of the currency will be permitted, but other causes helped forward improvement. Slowly, but yet quite perceptibly, the force at work increases. The approach of spring compels the dealers to replenish stocks and the aggregate of orders is smaller than usual at this season. It is distinctly larger than in January or February. Except in speculative markets, prices do not recover, and in some instances have gone lower, but the absence of sensational records inspires hopes that the market may have been reached. Business, though small, is exceptionally cautious and safe and its slow gain is more encouraging than a heavy expansion.

"Wheat rose briskly, with reports due every year about April 1, that great injury has been sustained. Larder accounts were better and prices fell, closing two cents higher for the week.

IN THE NICK OF TIME.

The Supreme Court Prevents a Renewal of the Denver Muddle.

Denver, Col., March 31.—The controversy between the old and the new police boards is again in the supreme court. Yesterday Judge Glynn of the district court notified Judge Allen, a second-grade judge, that he had dissolved the latter's injunction, restraining the new board from interfering with the actions of the old members. Mr. E. Taylor, attorney for the old board, immediately obtained from the supreme court a writ of prohibition restraining Glynn from taking any further action in the matter whatever. This writ makes the Glynn injunction against the old board inoperative, and also makes his action in dismissing Judge Allen's injunction void. The latter injunction is still in force, and Judge Glynn punished any violation of his injunction, as was expected, such action would have been made void by the writ of prohibition.
