While playing a game of "pull-away" last Friday afternoon at school Earl Rosebush accidentally ran against a tree and dislocated his leg at the knee. Dr. Lemon was called and dressed the wound.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.

Frank O. Mannush, Erie, aged 22
Dora G. Basler, Erie, aged 19
Frank N. Nichols, Elk Co., Kan., aged 21
Rosa Wright, Big Creek, aged 18

Leanna.

Leanna, Jan., 19.—Larkin Snodgrass of Butler county, paid his relatives a visit last week. Lark is as big and handsome as ever and the chances are that he will be one of our married people before many weeks roll around.

Anthony Alford lost a valuable horse last week.

Mr. A. Mendenhall and Miss Alice Baer were united in marriage last week.

There is some hog cholera reported in the country, but none in this immediate vicinity.

The first of March will soon be here when a number of changes in tenants will take place.

There will be a singing school or class, organized Friday night. Prof. Booe is the music director.

We are glad to state that Dr. Courtney is some better and chances are good for his ultimate recovery.

Our genial friend, Scott Hartzog is at his post once more behind the counter at the store. Scott has lots of friends and is the right man in the right place.

We have failed in our efforts so far, to secure a black smith for our shop at this place, but we are going to keep trying until we secure the right man.

The lads and lasses are tripping the light fantastic at Widow Browns' tonight and will assemble for the same purpose at Mr. Baer's tomorrow night.

The mail carrier between Stark and Chanutte is having a hard time of it this weather. He got as far as Leanna Saturday night and laid over till Sunday when he finished the trip to Stark. He earns every cent of money he gets.

We took special pains to distribute the sample copies of the Times sent us by Mr. Nation, the editor and have heard complimentary remarks from nearly all who received a copy and several are going to subscribe at once and others as soon as their time expires to other county papers.

Miss Edie Smith of Stark was buried at this place Monday. Death was caused by that dreaded disease, consumption. She was a sister to Gertie Smith, who was buried on the 30th of November. This makes six of the family lying side by side in the cemetery, nearly if not all dying of consumption. The deceased was about 18 years old.

Florence Snodgrass' long eared caliope got loose last Friday and proceeded to make things lively. He has a dislike for mules it seems and as Lonnie McCracken was passing with one hitched to a cart he proceeded to annihilate it with the result that the cart and harness were sadly disfigured and Lonnie and his mule nearly scared to death, but the ever present Pearl Troutman rushed to the rescue and the battle was over.

St. Paul.

St. Paul, Kan., Jan. 20.—Several of St. Paul's young men attended a social hop at Walnut last Wednesday night.

The A. H. T. A. of this city have purchased two blood hounds.

J. W. Riny and U. S. Snider were in Girard on business last Tuesday.

Charley Cooney and Charles Morarty were up from Parsons last Sunday.

Mrs. Wentzug, of Neosho Falls, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Hackman.

Died, at his home in East Missouri, Jan. 13, Morris Donahoe, after a long illness.

Logan Hunter has gone to Burton, Mo., to act as agent for the M. K. & T. R. R.

Charles McKiernan has purchased Dr. Smith's property north of the new livery stable.

Miss Anna Neighbors has gone to Weatherford, Texas, to visit her sister, Mrs. Dan Heartnett.

Emery Cutler returned to Kansas City last Sunday where he will complete his course in dentistry.

The board of trade of this city gave their first annual banquet at College Hall last Monday evening. A sumptuous supper was served after which a number of toasts were responded to by prominent members of the board.

The billiard and pool rooms were opened and the people told to enjoy themselves. It was a success and everybody reports a splendid time.

Shaw.

Shaw, Kans., Jan. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Colaw entertained a number of their friends at dinner on the 17th.

Mr. Haskinson organized a camp of Modern Woodmen here last week. The camp elected officers and applied for a charter.

Dave Shull and H. C. Dryden returned from Topeka Saturday. Mr. Shull took sick while away and is still confined to his room.

Thayer.

Thayer, Kan., Jan. 22.—The first snow of the season in this vicinity commenced falling the 19th and has covered the ground with its beautiful white mantle to the depth of four inches.

The moist weather of the past week has put the roads in very bad condition making traveling very uncomfortable.

Samuel Morse, a veteran of the late war and an old resident of Chetopa township, died at the Soldier's Home recently of cancer of the stomach. The remains were received here Sunday and buried in Harrison cemetery.

The new officers of the G. A. R. post here were installed on the 9th. Commander, J. E. Payne; S. V., G. S. Elliott; J. V., Phill Osborn; Chap., D. U. Commons; O. D., W. W. Lewellyn; G. Jas. Adair; Q. M., A. Whittaker; Adj., C. H. Ryder.

Memorial day services by the Thayer Lodge of Ancient Order of United Workmen, which were held at the opera house on the 18th, was largely attended by an appreciative audience. The program consisted of music, recitations and short talks. Remarks appropriate to the occasion and complimentary to the order were made by Master Workman P. Monyham. It was expected that an address would be given by a noted guest, who was unable to come.

Pursuant to the advertised call, the republican patrons of the post office at this place assembled in the G. A. R. hall, Saturday, Jan. 16 and made the necessary arrangements for an election at which to select a candidate for appointment to that office whenever a vacancy occurs either by resignation or the removal of the present incumbent. The call for the meeting was signed by a large number of such patrons, but the inclemency of the weather interfered with the attendance. O. B. Lukins and E. L. Payne were announced as candidates. Thos. McNulty is a candidate for the office, but proposes to make his efforts for the appointment in some other manner. It therefore remains to be seen whether the desires expressed by the republican patrons, through an election will be heeded, or other influences prevail. The election will be held at the opera house on February 6th, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Vilas.

Vilas, Kan., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Addie Mathews, who has been visiting relatives and friends at her old home in Illinois, returned home last Saturday.

The snow arrived today.
