Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

Last Thursday evening the first number of the lecture course for the season was given at the court house in the shape of a lecture by A. G. Van Haften, a native of India. The subject was "Fakes and Fakirs" and was handled by the speaker in a most interesting manner. He is a man of unusual ability and education possessing a brilliant mind and able to impart his knowledge to others, so that those who listen to him do not fail to understand him. He has the rare gift of holding the interest of his audience from the beginning to the end of his discourse. Many things were explained in the lecture which has often mystified the mind. His statement that there is not anything in the universe contrary to physical law explained a good many things in a nut shell. He also made some interesting statements concerning hypnotism and gave an illustration of his own power along that line. The house was well filled and the audience expressed themselves as well pleased with the first number of the lecture course.

Here is an actual incident which was told the Belleville Telescope by a business man of the town. Recently a well-to-do family moved to Belleville; an article of merchandise was wanted whereupon the head of the family looked through the local papers to see what dealers in town handled the desired article; nowhere could it be found though he was sure it was kept in Belleville, but did not have time to run over town to find the dealer. He did know where it was handled in Kansas City and sent there for it.

Henry Starr and Frank Beckman, of near Abilene, are visiting old friends and neighbors at Trego Center. These men took homesteads here in 1878 and stayed with them until 1884. They note many changes in that time. Mr. Starr formerly owned the farm now occupied by George Deines. He says that John Weckel, the first treasurer of Trego county, is still living at Abilene, but getting old and quite feeble. Weckel owned the place now held by Mr. Schemm, better known as the Morgan farm.

F. M. Hatch, who lives near Bosnapostoffice, had some friends visit him from Colorado some time ago, and the following story has just reached this office that Mr. Hatch and his friends had a very narrow escape from losing their lives. The story runs like this: The party started out to hunt prairie chickens with a complete camping outfit. When about two miles from home they discovered that the rear of their spring wagon was on fire. They called a halt instantly and commenced to fight fire with a vengeance, as they wished to save their chuck, etc. The first thing they did was to pull the bedding out, jerk off the cover of the wagon, and found the endgate of the wagon on fire. They fought the fire until they were tired out, and finally they thought of their wet goods, (which consisted of 2 bottles of 2 per cent), which they broke open and poured the contents on the fire and put it out.
