

Curious Husband

Story of a Wichita and His Life's Mystery.

The Eagle is in receipt of the following. To the Editor of the Eagle: Noting in your paper an article entitled, "A Wichita Romance," a story purporting to contain facts and an expressed desire that there may be a Wichita environment to contribute stories, I wish to relate to you my wife's life, which resembles it.

My wife, to my annoyance, quickly ascertained, I stopped the horse. The woman alighted, took the basket and disappeared in a two-story house, another in a patch of dried sunflowers. I drove away considerably put out. My wife that night exercised a certain decision in her wishes and actions that was unusual with her. I could not understand why she had not allowed me to investigate. The next evening my wife with the same decision, asked me to drive her down the Schweitzer road. She took a basket along. I thought I was going to get at the bottom of the puzzle at last. But when we reached the house my wife placed the basket on the front porch, got back into the buggy and said: "Drive home."

$1 SAVED IS A $1 EARNED

The wisdom of pennies applies just as pertinently to dollars. You can buy any of the following popular novels by famous authors at $1.50 or $1.25 a copy, OR you can embrace the opportunity made possible by the International Association of Newspapers and Authors and secure any or all of these choice works fully copyrighted, and printed from the original plates of the expensive editions.

Bound in Art Cloth Covers: 25c. a Copy.

The great reduction is made for a limited time only. The various authors—not new aspirants to literary fame, but established writers of note—agree with their publishers to waive the usual royalties for the sake of the impetus given to good literature. This is the book-lovers' opportunity. The four new books this week are:

- 21. "Young Blood" By E. W. Hornung, [Author of "The Amateur Cracksmen."] How a "Company Promoter" kept up appearances on nothing a year. Bound in cloth, 25 cents.
22. "The Last Meeting" By Brander Matthews, [Author of "The Secret of the Sea."] Wierd adventures of a New Yorker with an Oriental enemy. Bound in cloth, 25 cents.
23. "Driven Back to Eden" By E. P. Roe, [Author of "Barriers Burned Away."] The modern "Swiss Family Robinson." The book that comes nearest to nature's heart. Bound in cloth, 25 cents.
24. "The Light of Scarthy" By Egerton Castle, [Author of "The Pride of Jennico."] "The Loves of Sir Adrian Landale." This is a thriller among adventurous romances. Bound in cloth, 25 cents.
