

Your Last Chance for Cheap Lands!

To Dickinson County People:

There will no doubt be a number of you look for a good investment in cheap farm lands. I have given the matter of cheap farm lands considerable attention in the past two or three years and have had the opportunity of visiting a large territory in the southwest. I have never found a place equal in conditions and future to that around Plainview, Texas, at the present time. The land is reasonable in price, as good as anyone would want, and as fine and healthy a place to live as anywhere in the United States. I have been at Plainview almost a year, and during that time have been studying the country and conditions and find them equal to the best in all respects. I have options on a few of the best bargains in the Shallow Water Belt, and if you are looking for a good investment either in loaning money or buying land, or a good home, write me and I will be pleased to answer all questions that you want to know.

They raise here, wheat, oats, corn, kafir corn, alfalfa, millet, and in fact, everything along the general farming line, and some of the finest hogs, cattle and horses are raised here.

Do not be mistaken, but go direct to Plainview, Hale county, Texas, over the Santa Fe, and I will be pleased to give you all the advantage of my observations and assure you that I will treat you right. Let me hear from you.

WEDDED AT SALINA.

J. A. Hollinger Married to Miss Ida Adams.

Tuesday, at noon, at Salina, Miss Ida Adams was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Allen Hollinger, of Chapman, by Rev. F. C. McKean.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Adams, in the presence of relatives and the intimate friends of the bride.

Preceding the ceremony "O Promise Me," was sung by Miss Helen Leaf, and as she closed Lohengrin's wedding march was started by Miss Nora Eberhardt. Beta Hollinger, a cousin of the groom, was flower girl; the bridesmaid, Miss Ethel Hollinger, a sister of the groom; George Gross, of Abilene, groomsmen.

The bride's gown was made in Paris and was of Venetian point lace, with underdrills of chiffon and taffeta. She wore a veil and carried bride's roses. Her maid was gowned in white with underdress of pink silk, and her hand bouquet was of pink roses.

Many beautiful presents were received by the bride. Among them being the bride's wedding gown, a chest of silver and an upright piano, from her relatives, also an immense Japanese parlor cabinet, hand carved, from the groom's relatives. The bride presented the young ladies who assisted her each with a pink and white hand painted fan.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollinger left on the afternoon Union Pacific train for a honeymoon trip of two weeks in Colorado. They will be "at home" to their friends in Chapman after October 1.

Came Here to Wed.
