Political Gathering. The Republican meeting at this place Saturday evening was a success, notwithstanding the non-appearance of the Hon. John Feland, who was advertised to address the people.

While Mr. Feland's absence was regretted our people viewed the matter philosophically and at the last moment arrayed for substitutes in the persons of Mr. William E. Bourland, of Dixon, and Mr. W. F. Burr, of this city, our honorable mayor. Both of these gentlemen warmed up the boys on the issues at hand. The crowd was fair and the enthusiasm at a good pitch.

Make Yourself Strong. If you would resist pneumonia, bronchitis, typhoid fever, and persistent coughs and colds. These ailments attack the weak and run down system. They can find no foothold where the blood is kept pure and full of vitality, the appetite good and digestion vigorous, with Hood's Sarsaparilla, the one blood purifier.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache.

Barnesley's New Church. It is rumored that Barnesley, our near neighbor, is soon to erect a house of worship. Strenuous efforts are being put forth by the good people of that village, to this end, with Rev. J. W. Dunning in the lead. John is a go-ahead man - a real good fellow - a Christian gentleman, and we feel assured the project will receive his undivided attention until completed. This is an enterprise in which every liberal-minded person should feel an interest by practically aiding in the work. If there are any people on terra firma to-day who richly deserve the encomiums of their fellow men, it is these same "horny-handed sons of toil," who have so bravely weathered every gale for the past decade.

The necessity of this matter arises from the fact that there seems to be a continual "clash" between the school and church, the building now used having been originally erected for school and church purposes. Whatever the differences may be, or who is to blame for the existing state of affairs, we will not now discuss. Suffice it to say, these good people have decided to erect for themselves a distinct house of worship, and will appreciate any assistance rendered, thus enabling them to expedite the work.

If Trampled With Rheumatism, Read This. ANAPOLIS, Md., Apr. 16, 1894. - I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism and found it to be all that is claimed for it. I believe it to be the best preparation for rheumatism and deep seated muscular pains, on the market, and cheerfully recommend it to the public. Jno. G. BACOCK, dealer in boots, shoes, etc., No. 18 Main St.

ALSO READ THIS.
MECHANICVILLE, Md., May County, Md. - I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm to a man who had been suffering with rheumatism for several years. It made him a well man. A. J. McGUIRE. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Mortons Gap; George King, St. Charles.

Small Favors Thankfully Received. Foreman Tombs, with a detachment of his crew, "filled a long-felt want" in this community, by "spanning" the chasm between the school house and Methodist Hill. While the structure erected does not begin to compare with the great Brooklyn or London bridges in architectural design and general utility, yet an emergency is temporarily met, and the people are happy, especially the school children, and those Methodistists from the "hill country." Let us patiently wait and still hope for a better bridge in the near future.

The Darlington, Wis., Journal says editorially of a popular patent medicine: "We know from experience that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is all that is claimed for it, as on two occasions it stopped excruciating pains and, possibly saved our town from an untimely grave." We would not rest easy over night "without it in the house." This remedy undoubtedly saves more pain and suffering than any other medicine in the world. Every family should keep it in the house, as it is sure to be needed sooner or later. For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington, Ben T. Robinson, Mortons Gap, and George King, St. Charles.

A Severe Pounding. It isn't often that the clergy getting a pounding, and especially as severe a one as that administered to Rev. G. M. Burnett, at his residence on McEuen Avenue, from 7 to 8.15 o'clock, last Tuesday evening. According to a pre-arranged plan of the membership of the M. E. Church, together with a number of our open-hearted, liberal-minded citizens, of other denominations, a generous donation was presented to the Brother as above stated. Many who could not attend, very generously sent in their donations, while a godly number were present and enjoyed the kindly greeting of the pastor and his estimable lady. Many of the temporal wants of the recipients were thus supplied, both in money, provisions and clothing, which will forever enshrine the donors in their affections.

The hour for departure having arrived, the pastor, in broken English, attempted to speak the gratitude that was welling up in his heart, but found words inadequate to express himself. However, we are willing to accept the will for the deed.

If you have tried many remedies and many doctors and are still debilitated and weak and discouraged, try Dr. Sawyer's Ukatine, and you will be cured. St. Bernard Drug Store.

A Halloween Social. A most pleasant and satisfactory meeting of the Christian Endeavors was held on Tuesday night. Mr. Fred A. Wallis of Hopkinsville, was present, and gave an interesting account of the live movements along Endeavor lines in this State. The reading by Mr. Wallis of letters from various quarters was a feature of the evening.

It was determined at the meeting to have a grand social time, at the Rink next Tuesday 29th inst. - a Halloween Social, it may be termed - and interesting features will be introduced. It is thought that all who come will be entertained and well satisfied with the results of the evening.

The Committees of the Endeavor Society will be organized shortly. The Chairman of the Committees are as follows, with the names of Committee each represents: Social, Miss Bettie Hopper; Music, Mrs. B. W. Robinson; Prayer Meeting, Mrs. M. B. Long; Look-out, Miss Minnie Bourland; Visiting and Library, Mrs. W. F. Burr; Press, Mr. Charles Cowell.

The Chairman of each committee will select the workers to aid in the duties of the committee. The names of these helpers will be announced in the near future. It is hoped and believed that better work will be accomplished in the future than in the past.

Money and experience cannot improve Dr. Sawyer's Ukatine, which is for weak and debilitated persons and those that are run down from over-work. St. Bernard Drug Store.

COUGHED DAY AND NIGHT. These years ago, I was so sick I could not sleep at night, or get up in the morning. My weight had reduced from 150 to 120 pounds. The first night I was laid out for four hours one time, was after that I had four hours more. My doctor gave me Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first dose gave me relief, and the second dose gave me a good night's sleep. I have since used it every day, and I feel like a new man. My weight is now 180 pounds, and I can do all my work. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine I ever used. It is sold by all druggists. L. & N. W. B. WRIGHT, Agent.

Y. P. S. C. E. NOTES.
Last Sunday's meeting of the Christian Endeavor was largely attended, and the interest in the cause is on the increase.

Those who failed to attend the Endeavor meeting last Sunday, missed a rare treat, indeed. The President of the Society, W. F. Burr, delivered a most excellent address on "Christian Patriotism," and we regret that we can not produce it in full.

Everybody should attend the Society's meeting held each Sunday evening between the hours of six and seven o'clock. They are not held in the interest of any particular denomination.

Miss Lucy Crenshaw was the leader in the exercises last Sunday, and it is a pleasure to note what an interest is taken by the young folks in these meetings.

Miss Alice Bourland will lead next Sunday, and an interesting meeting is promised.

A business meeting of the members of the society was held Tuesday night at the home of W. F. Burr, the object being to perfect plans to extend the social features of the society.

Mr. Fred A. Wallis, of Hopkinsville, was again in town on Tuesday. To the disappointment of all he said he found he could not make it convenient to attend the services of Christian Endeavor next Sunday. It is hoped in the near future we may have Mr. Wallis with us at one or more of our meetings.

To Ye Good People of Ye Upland Calling Yourselves
Ye Christian Endeavorers, and To Their Fathers, Mothers, Sisters, Brothers, Uncles, Aunties and Cousins

GREETING.
Come one and All to the Halloween Social to be Holden Tuesday Night at Ye Rink Building.

Down in the Mines.
The St. Bernard Coal Company are determined to lead all other competitors and are sending out their calendars, upon which they have a neat advertisement.

The Hecla Coal Company, like all other companies in this county, are doing a good business, and since the new opening was first made, their capacity for producing coal has steadily increased, and they are now able to load eighteen or twenty cars daily.

The St. Bernard Company have lately put another engine at No. 9 mine, which will be undertaken, he used to facilitate the handling of the empty cars in the mine by the use of a tail rope.

Secretary Platt informs us that he is now rushed with orders for coal. He claims to have some of the best coal put on the market.

If the present drought should continue much longer, it is feared that business at the St. Bernard saw Diamond mine will suffer, as water is becoming quite scarce there.

Miners here seem to be taking more interest in the production of coal than in politics, but they should remember that good laws are only kept on the statutes, and others made by the sending of good men to represent them.

As there seems to be considerable talk about gold in the Southern States, we reproduce an article which casts some light on the subject. "The paper on gold mining in the Southern Appalachian States, read before the American Institute of Mining Engineers, in Atlanta, is the most exhaustive that has yet been prepared on the economic feature of our Southern gold-mining. Its authors are both men familiar with the matters they have written of, and for this reason their conclusions, which are given with an abstract of their paper in the letter from our Atlanta correspondent, are of particular interest and value.

The present conditions of gold-mining in the South are well set forth. The authors state that while big bonanzas may not be expected, there are undoubtedly many properties there, with the improved processes in use today, operations can be carried on at a profit. There has been much foolish speculation in Southern gold properties, considerable Northern capital having been invested. The paper referred to is, therefore, most timely, and may, on the one hand, save some unprofitable transaction, and on the other, increase interest in profitable propositions."

Sometime last spring a stock company was organized at Sebree, Ky., for the purpose of opening up a coal mine at or near that place. Quite a large amount of land was purchased and the option on the land secured, and the work of sinking a shaft down to the coal at once proceeded. As it was the opinion of the company at first that they would reach a profitable vein in a short distance they did not at first bore down to the coal but sunk the shaft for some distance when they concluded that the best mode was first to bore and see how deep a paying vein lay. This was done and the company found such a vein about 175 feet below the surface. A good force of men was then put to work and the work of continuing the shaft pushed with vigor, until one day last week, when the looked for vein of coal was reached most to the joy of the operators. This No. 9 vein, we were informed by one of the company, is about five feet in thickness and a fine quality of coal, and the work of developing the mine will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and soon they expect to put their coal on the market in Sebree. It is thought that for a while they will be unable to supply the home demand and therefore at present no effort will be made to ship coal to other points; but it is the intention of the owners to put in a side track sometime in the future and open up other markets for their product. In the sinking of the shaft two other veins of coal were found. The first was about fifty feet from the surface and it was about three feet in thickness but of an inferior quality; the second vein was struck about 100 feet below the surface and was only about eighteen inches thick. The name of the company is The Black Diamond Coal Company.

One of the latest inventions of Messrs. Ben W. Robinson and W. A. Tombs, of the St. Bernard Coal Co., is an indicator which must prove of great value in the No. 9 mine. This piece of machinery is attached to the shaft of the large drum upon which the wire rope pulling the cars is fastened, and is so arranged that the engineer can look at what he may term a dial plate, and at once see where the cars are that are coming out or going in on a trip. What these geniuses will invent next, we await with interest to know.

Locomotive Blasts.
The pay car passed over the Henderson division Saturday, the 19th inst., with Paymaster Barrett handing out the fifty dollars to the boys.

Conductor Davis has been in charge of the work train, the past week or two.

Of course, you could not make Supervisors Sullivan and Davis believe that they have better track on the St. Louis division than they have, but those who profess to know say that one section over there is hard to down, and that it will push the Henderson division to hold the board this year.

Business on this division continues good, and most of the extra conductors are at work, so numerous are the trains being run.

Agent Steele, we are pleased to note, is again back at work, having recovered from his late spell of sickness.

Foreman Saeger, of the bridge crew, says that the last pile was driven last week, for the rebuilding of the Henderson bridge trestle.

FOREVER - AND A DAY.
"Urge me not, I pray?
All the air is golden -
Every thorny spray
In the sunlight blushes,
And my thoughts are holden
By the warbling thrushes;
Urge me not to-day.
Oh, when winds of May
Shake the boughs with laughter
Till they toss and sway,
Till they kiss and sever,
Speak not of hereafter,
Breathe not of forever -
Give me but to-day!" - J. K. Wetherill.

MARY.
BY J. T. CORLEY.
Sitting at the Master's feet,
Her cup of joy is now complete,
Learning from this man so wise
The royal road to Paradise.
Heading not her sister's call,
Thought of the work she did it all,
To-day she chose that better part,
And from her Lord would not depart.
The Lord commended her for this,
And from him, would not her thumbs,
But kept her closely by his side,
She, who did in him confide.
Oh, what a blessed place to be!
Ever at our Master's knee:
Sweetly confiding, happy and blest,
Tis there the soul finds heavenly rest.
Oh, learn from her a lesson wise,
And turn your thoughts toward the skies
Where Mary's Master lives -
He will receive, accept, forgive.
Then find you ever at his feet
Learning of his ways so sweet:
Basking in his loving smiles,
Knowing that you are his child.

Should the Elder fail to appear from any unexpected cause, Rev. J. T. Cherry, the newly appointed pastor, will conduct the services as indicated. "The mantram attracts more notice than the quiet fountain; a comet draws more attention than the steady star; but it is better to be the fountain than the mantram, and star than comet, following out the sphere and orbit of quiet usefulness in which God places us." - JOHN HALL.

"Remember no one sin that my conscience doth so much accuse and judge me for as for doing so little for the saving of men's souls, and dealing no more fervently and earnestly with them for their conversion." - BAXTER.

"Confess no man for not thinking as you think. Let every one enjoy the full and free liberty of thinking for himself. Let every man use his own judgment, since every man must give an account of himself to God. Abhor every approach, in any kind or degree, to the spirit of persecution. If you cannot reason or persuade a man into the truth, never attempt to force a man into it. If he will not compel him to come, leave him to God, the judge of all." - JOHN WESLEY.

"After long years work is visible. In agriculture you cannot see the growth. Pass that country two months after, and there is a difference. We acquire firmness and experience incessantly. Every action, every word, every meal, is part of our trial and our discipline. We are assuredly ripening or else blighting. We are not conscious of those changes which go on quietly and gradually in the soul. We only count the shocks in our journey. Ambition dies, grace grows as life goes on." - FREDERICK W. ROBERTSON.

"Don't Tobacco Spit or Smoke Your Life Away."
