KNOTT'S FIRST FAIR IN SEVEN YEARS A TREMENDOUS SUCCESS

Fair Under Auspices of Achievement Campaign Committee.

(To The Citizen)

At a meeting of the Knott County Board of Education to-day, it was jokingly handed out that the people who walked to the Knott County Fair on Saturday last, had to go back by way of the ridges, because the roads were so full of automobiles and horses. Opinions vary as to the number of people present all the way from two thousand to five thousand, most people voting for three thousand. The stores did a thriving business, profits being measured in hundreds of dollars. Francis' cash store took in $451.30 before dark, and the business kept up away after that. Folks from all over the county thronged the stores, the athletic field, the court house and the streets. People began to come into Hindman at seven o'clock in the morning and a steady stream kept up until about eleven when a parade of automobiles, numbering around forty-five, arrived from Whitesburg, headed by a band. The total number of cars in Hindman was in the neighborhood of fifty. The cars were outnumbered by teams and the bed of the creek for a couple of miles, had horses hitched to every available post and tree. The fair was the biggest the town of Hindman has ever known, and it looks as though the benefits derived from it are going to make permanent landmarks of progress for Knott County.

The Fair was engineered by the Knott County Achievement Contest, the Knott County School Supervisors, The Knott County Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Warren, and officials of the Achievement Contest being responsible. The Court House was used for exhibits, and the athletics were carried on at the athletic field. A great many schools were represented, and the day opened with the gathering of all the school children in front of the court house for singing. Some of the school teachers had come from a great distance, bringing all the children of their schools with them.

A special feature was the large number of good speakers. These included Dr. M. F. Wright, of Seco, George Clark, County superintendent of Letcher County, Mr. Frazier, Letcher County, and Professor Baird, of Berea. Senator Smith introduced the speakers. The topic of the day, Good Roads, was so ably presented by the speakers that there is not much doubt in the minds of most of the people present as to the future of the highways and byways of Knott County. A prize of fifty dollars had been offered by the Knott County Achievement Contest for the best piece of road work done by the schools on the road working days, September 27 and 28, when everybody in the county that was able, turred out and levelled up mud holes, cut down hills, drained, ditched, blasted and otherwise turned every stone for better highways. This prize was awarded at the Fair, and was carried off by the Betty Troublesome School, of which E. A. Hammons is in charge. The pupils, teacher and community of this school had had done nothing less than moved a mountain. After that they had ditched, tiled and drained, dug, levelled and smoothed, to such an extent that travelling conditions in the district are quite reversed. All the schools and communities in the county were highly commended on the excellent work they have done on the road problem. Albert E. Smith's School, at St. Nicholas, came a close second for the prize.

At the "Husky Supervisor's Ball Game", in the morning, the Supervisor's team beat the St. Nicholas-Carr Creek team 22 to 11. The players on the side of the Supervisor's were Frank Fairchild, French Maggard, Curtis Martin, Hagar Fugate and Tal Gibson. On the St. Nicholas-Carr Creek side were: Rev. Albert Smith, Mando Kelly, Frank Ashley, Dixon Adams, Spencer Combs, Jr. The ball game was followed by athletics which had been arranged by the School Supervisors Arnold Macgeard, James Ritchie, Denis Stureill, Burleigh Noble, Troy Taylor, French Maggard and John J. Mageard carried off first prizes.

The Home Improvements section and the Junior Agricultural Departments covered a baby exhibit, health, food, needlework and weaving, cooking, basketry and animal and poultry exhibits. Due to the large number of people present at the fair it was natural that there should have been numerous entries, and there were. A great many fine samples of work and produce were shown, and first prizes were taken by the following: Mrs. Jethro Ambroseov, weaving, Marinda Richie, coverlet, Mrs. John Duke, cooking, Mrs. Joe Everage, canning, Mrs. Della Hays, tufted

In the Educational Department, "the little Mullins girl" carried off the county championship for spelling. The prize was a pair of shoes, and she was taken right over to Sturgills store and presented with them. Charlie Collins, of Caney, carried off the first prize for the best relief map. Ida Noble, first for the best map of North America, Mable Stone for the best of the United States, and Nellie Pigman for the best of Kentucky.

County fairs have certainly made a good fresh start in Knott County. The success of this one bids fair to re-establish them permanently.

FOUNDATION SCHOOL

Foundation School enjoyed a rare treat at their School Faculty last Friday night.

Miss Merrow had invited the Foundation teachers and a few others to meet at Country Home No. 1. Most of the evening was given to her sister, Dr. Merrow, a medical missionary located in China. She told of the Chinese people, and exhibited a great many very interesting and beautiful articles of clothing, tapestry, photographs, etc., showing the wonderful handwork of these people.

The Doctor also instructed the teachers in the use of chop-sticks, testing their skill in seeing who could soonest carry the contents of a dish of beans on the chop-stick, one at a time, and place them in another dish on the opposite side of the room. Porter Gray showed most skill in this Chinese art.

Miss Merrow and her girls served refreshments of ice-cream and cakes. All went home feeling that they had a happy and a profitable evening.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

The afternoon was taken for a trip to the hills, where the guests had an opportunity to see a part of the country made famous by Daniel Boone, and to become acquainted with our section of the Dixie Highway. Time was taken at Bristol Taylor's farm to climb to the top of the hill and get the view of Berea with her surrounding hills. The clearness of the atmosphere made this a real treat. Sunner was served on the hill, which, after the ride in the bracing air, was not unwelcome. At 7:30, President Hutchins received the association at his home. The film, "Berea," was enjoyed, as well as two instrumental selections rendered by students of the college.

Saturday morning at 8 o'clock Mrs. R. H. Ridgway, Assistant Librarian of Berea College, gave a paper, entitled "Books for Country Readers," in which she drew a vivid picture of the country home and showed how, by the careful selection of books for the children, the lives of the whole family may be cheered. She also gave helpful suggestions as to choice of books for rural use. This was followed by a short but lively discussion, after which the members of the association attended United Chapel, sitting on the platform as the guests of the schools. A portion of a mountain ballad was sung, followed by a talk by President Hutchins.

At 10 a. m. the final business meeting of the convention was held, at which the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. A. S. Gardner, Scottsville, (formerly Miss Edwards, of Horse Cave); First Vice President, Miss King, Kentucky University; Second Vice President, Miss Tunis, Danville; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Lloyd, Kentucky Wesleyan College, Winchester; Member-at-large, Mrs. Coffman, Georgetown.

At the close of the session, a resolution was passed expressing the gratitude of the association to the library and college for hospitality shown, to the management of Boone Tavern, to the various faculty members, the loan of whose cars made the trip to the hills possible, and for the "unforgettable" supper served at the end of the trip.
