SOME of the newspapers throughout the Eighth District persist in making the statement that the CLIMAX will oppose the candidacy of Governor McCreary in the event of his announcement for the U. S. Senate. This idea is erroneous, as the CLIMAX has, heretofore, and always will under the present management, support a Madison county man against outsiders. There has never been any cause why this paper should have been classed against a home man for any office.

HONORS are coming to Col. W. P. Walton of Lexington, thick and fast. Only a few weeks since he was a hot tip for postmaster of his city and now comes the news that he is to serve on the reception committee at the inauguration of President Wilson. The appointment came from Thomas Nelson Page, the author, who has been a life-long friend of Col. Walton. They were born in the same Virginia county and courted together in the long ago.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Clay are visiting in Cincinnati.
Miss Carey Rice spent Sunday with friends in Lexington.
Miss Lee Soper has been quite ill at her home on Broadway.
Mr. Willie Henderson, of Clintonburg, is attending Berea College.
Mr. Reed Jones spent Sunday with his home folks in the country.
Mr. Samuel Bennett, of Lexington, is visiting relatives in the city.
Judge J. C. Chenault left Sunday for a business trip to Pittsburg, Pa.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Griggs have returned from a visit to relatives in Mt. Sterling.
Mr. Thos. Buckman, of Louisville, was the guest of Miss Mary Hammons last week.
Miss Elsie Smith, of Frankfort, is visiting Misses Mary and Carrie Allan, on Collins street.
If you have a visitor, or contemplate a visit out of town, phone the CLIMAX so we can make mention of it.
Judge and Mrs. N. B. Turpin left last week for Jacksonville, Florida, where they will spend the winter.
Mrs. Mary McKee and Mrs. R. J. McKee and son, R. J., Jr., left Sunday for a visit to relatives in Lexington.
Mr. Ed Golden, of California, who has made his home for nearly twenty years, is back in Madison county on a visit.
Mr. and Mrs. James C. Wilson, of Louisville, have been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Harman, in Harmanwood.
Miss Velma Guley, of Lexington, who is matriculating at Eastern Normal School, is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. George Hale, at Gypsy Camp.
Mrs. Frank Trevitt, Miss Hattie Steves and Mrs. K. L. W. Hampton, nieces of Mrs. Henry Hargis, of Winchester, attended the funeral and burial of their relative this city Saturday.
Mr. J. T. Ferrell returned last night from Louisiana, where he went a week ago in company with Messrs. Lee Congleton and James Church prospecting Messrs. Congleton and Church went on for a visit to Texas.
Prof. C. D. Smith, of the Eastern Normal, left today for Jarvin county, where he will meet Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman, and do some work along the line of organizing that county into a fruit growing one.
Mr. Emory Deatherage's many friends will be glad to know that he has made good with Mason & Hanger Co., with whom he has been for two years. He has been offered and has accepted a splendid position with a firm of contractors at Columbia, S. C., which he obtained through the recommendation of his former employers, Hanger Co. A recommendation from this firm, knowing them as he does, speaks volumes for Emory's ability and faithfulness in the discharge of his duties.

Narrow Escape.
Lewis Baldwin, of this county, had a narrow escape from instant death in Lexington Saturday evening. He was standing on a platform in the Union station and in some way lost his balance and fell in front of an incoming train. The train was running slowly when Baldwin fell from the platform and the engineer was able to bring the engine to a stop within about two feet of the man, while a large number of spectators stood behind the railing separating the tracks from the waiting rooms, expecting every moment to see Baldwin crushed beneath the wheels of the engine. However the presence of mind of the engineer in manipulating his brakes saved his life. Baldwin was assisted off the track by a number of bystanders.

At Normal Tonight.
Levers of the best in music will have the opportunity of hearing at the Normal Tuesday evening, January 28, two artists who occupy a high position among the ablest living virtuosi. Mr. Jules Falk, violinist, and Mr. Arthur Fischer, pianist, his co-partner on the program. Press notices from the leading papers of the various large cities of this country and of Europe bear testimony of the appreciative attainments of these two young artists, and the school considers itself most fortunate in being able to present them to the Richmond public. This number is not included in the regular lecture course. Admission 50c. The concert will begin at eight o'clock.

Tobacco Market Still Booming.
The receipts of tobacco on the local market is as strong as ever and both the Madison and Farmers Warehouses are selling to capacity floors daily. The offerings are in better condition than during week or ten days ago and as a result advance in prices. The trouble during the rainy spell was that tobacco was either wet or in two high case and the buyers were afraid to take on too much while it was in this condition. While the tobacco houses are both busy the risk of ten days ago is about over and tobacco wagons do not find it necessary to remain outside the sheds for any length of time.

The Only Way.
Editor Jim Allen, of the Cynthia Democrat, gives the following valuable tip to postmasters in his "pert and pertinent column":
"Under the parcel post rules, the only way apparently that a postmaster can dispose of a bottle of whisky found in the mails is to drink it. He is forbidden to deliver it, destroy it or keep it in the office, as intoxicating liquors cannot be sent through the post, he cannot forward it to the dead letter office."

Our Sentiments!
Buy at home and try at home
To give the town a show;
Live at home and give at home
And help the town to grow.
Mark your spot the nearest spot
That's under heaven's dome;
Just buy a bit to brighten it—
And be sure to buy at home!

Excellent Show at Opera House.

"Hoey's Musical Comedy Co.," headed by two exceptional comedians, Ed. Smalley and Dave Meyers and backed by a bevy of pretty chorus girls, the play made good from the start. These two comedians with their grotesque actions started the ball rolling and kept the audience in laughing mood all the time, their dialects are perfect, their sayings are witty and parody singing received many encores. The chorus is one of the best dancing choruses seen here in many days and one that is worthy of a big production. The costumes are very pretty, many songs are introduced during the action of the piece and the foot work of the chorus found especial favor with the audience, leaving the chorus little to kick about in the matter of applause. Tonight they will present "A Day at the Races" with an entire change of musical numbers and dances.
