Wait For The Curtain. "The show at the opera house is never over until the curtain falls," said Manager Baxter to me. "Sometimes we have more than three reels and those who leave before the curtain is lowered may miss something," he said. Any way it is a good idea not to be in too big a hurry to leave his play house, he thinks.

Every can of Maxwell House Coffee and Ladies Club Tea, guaranteed to give satisfaction. D. B. McKinney.

Makes It Three-Handed. The formal entry of former County Clerk John P. White, of Madison county, into the race for the democratic nomination for Representative in the Legislature makes a pretty triangular contest. The other candidates are Editor A. D. Miller and Green Clay. All are active party men and well "conditioned" for a gruelling race.—Louisville Times.

BIRTHS. A little son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reed, of the Kavanaugh section, on the 11th—Silas Reed.

Eliza Pauline is the name given a little girl which came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lewis.

A beautiful daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Weaver Wednesday, weight 12 pounds, and she has been named Dorothy Brown, in compliment to the mother's sister, Mrs. Annie Brown.

Ninety-Fourth Anniversary To Be Observed. Secretary W. S. Broadbush, of Madison Lodge, I. O. O. F., is addressing the following letter to his brother members:

The 94th Anniversary of Odd Fellowship will be observed in our Lodge room on Saturday evening, April 26, 1913, at 7:30 o'clock. It is our desire to make this one of the largest meetings in the history of our Order. We especially urge that you be present and see that your neighbor Odd Fellow comes. The occasion will be observed by the explication of the Initiatory and First Degrees, concluded with refreshments.

Found The Boy. There was sorrow and anxiety in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Congleton for a while last night, but later on joy made up for it all. Their little son was mislaid about six o'clock and a search was made for him: The house was ransacked from cellar to garret and then a visit to the neighbors was made, but all in vain. No trace of the boy could be found. Finally about 10:30, when the family had almost lost hope, some member opened the folding bed and there to the joy of the household lay the little fellow fast asleep. It was a scene that the family will not soon forget.

To My Friends. It is with a feeling of regret and reluctance that I withdraw from the race for the democratic nomination for jailer of Madison county. Many of my friends and other democrats pledged me their support, and for which I am very thankful, but I have been compelled to remain at home so much with my aged and feeble father, Mr. Thomas Cotton, that I have not been permitted to give the race the attention needed. I thank each and every one who has promised to aid me by vote or voice in the race and retire with good feeling for all candidates and every democrat in Madison county. Again thanking them, and with best wishes to them all, I am very truly, N. C. CORROS, JR. Kirksville, Ky.

As Their Names Will Appear. Under the State primary law the candidates for county and city offices will draw lots for the position of their names on the ballot, but the arrangement is entirely different for State offices. Under the law they will be placed in alphabetical order for the First Congressional district and each succeeding district the name in the preceding district will be placed on the bottom and the others moved up a name. For instance, if Beckham, McCreary and Stanley were starters in the senatorial race the arrangement of their names on the ballots would be as follows: Beckham, McCreary, Stanley, in the First, Fourth, Seventh and Tenth districts; McCreary, Stanley, Beckham, in the Second, Fifth, Eighth and Eleventh districts; Stanley, Beckham, McCreary, in the Third, Sixth and Ninth districts.

The Melting-Pot.

Miss Jeanie Barrow Hurst, Professor of Expression of Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, will present Israel Zangwill's famous drama, "The Melting-Pot," at Normal Chapel on Wednesday evening, April 23, at 8 o'clock. Miss Hurst's rendition of this powerful play will be one of the rare treats offered to the Richmond public during the year.

CAST OF CHARACTERS: Mendal Quixano—An elderly music master. David Quixano—His nephew. Kathleen—An Irish serving maid. Vera Revendal—Doing settlement work in New York. Quincy Davenport—An American Aristocrat. Herr Pappelmeister—Davenport's orchestra conductor. Baron Revendal—A Russian nobleman. Baroness Revendal—His wife.

SCENES OF THE PLAY. Act I—The living room of the Quixano home in New York. Act II—The same. Act III—Vera Revendal's sitting room in the Settlement House. Act IV—The roof garden of the Settlement House.

A notice in the Minnesota State Normal says in part concerning Miss Hurst's presentation of the play:

"The characters, both humorous and heroic, were skilfully handled, while the appar of pashos, which distinguishes the play, was voiced with convincing sympathy. The atmosphere of the drama was made very clear and forceful to the audience, while the message of the play was carried over with unflinching truth. The whole was achieved with no apparent striving for effect, yet it was artistic in the extreme."

Returning, the connection is just as good. The fare from Nicholasville to Lexington is 25c.

Back From A Successful Meeting.

Ben F. Hurst, of the Richmond Heating & Plumbing Co., is back from Covington, where he attended the gathering of the Master Plumbers of the State. Some 150 or more of the leading plumbers were there and the meeting was both profitable and enjoyable. Considerable important business was transacted every phase of plumbing and heating was thoroughly discussed. Mr. Sturdine, of Louisville, was elected president to succeed J. J. Fitzgerald, and W. W. White, of Newport, was re-elected secretary. After the business was over a great banquet in Odd Fellows' Hall was enjoyed.

The Bells A Splendid Picture.

The Bells, shown at the Opera House Wednesday night, was one of the best pictures seen in weeks and the acting was probably the cleverest ever shown in motion pictures here. That Simplex machine and good pictures make "movies" worth looking at.

A Climax reader told us the other day to by all means continue the good "sermonettes" that Dr. Barnes is preaching through these columns. "They are fine," said he "and really are about the only ones I get, as my work compels me to put in Sundays at toil." We are glad that Dr. Barnes' efforts are being appreciated and hope he will continue his good work. The Latin phrase, multum in parvo, is applicable to these little sermons.

Contest To Close Tomorrow Week.

The popularity contest being conducted by the Climax will close tomorrow week, the 25th. There is only one more week for the contestants to get in their work and they had better get busy if they are not already doing their best. A $400 Obermer piano would look mighty well in any young lady's parlor and that is what the one having the most votes is going to get. It's worth your while and while to make an effort to secure this beautiful instrument.

The Postmasters Will Have to Work.

Postmaster General Burleson, taking his cue from the way the President works, has announced that appointees to postmasterhips in the Presidential grade must earn their salaries by actual work. That is to say that they will hereafter be required, in addition to the qualifications with respect to ability, character and experience, to give assurance that his whole business time will be devoted to the position to which he is appointed. He further says that if clerks and carriers are required to serve eight hours during the day, the postmaster, who gets the highest pay of all, should at least give an equivalent in time and effort. Such a proposition should admit of no question. It is based on common sense and reason. The postoffices should be placed on a business basis and those applicants who want to do, as most republican incumbents have done, let the subordinate do all the work, while they take their ease and enjoy the emoluments of office, instead of doing what is expected of them, should seek an office in some other department whose head is not so unreasonable as Postmaster Burleson.

It was Grover Cleveland who gave the utterance to the self-evident truth that "public office is a public trust," and who lived up to it. The government official who wants all pay and no work won't find any sailing for the next four years at least. He will have to do something in return for the money paid him, except to attend to his own affairs and log-roll for his party, feeling that he has done all that is expected of him.

One of the reasons that government offices are so sought after is that the belief prevails that they carry big pay and little work. This may have been the case heretofore, but that order of things is to be changed. The man who accepts office under President Wilson has to do like him, render a quid pro quo for his salary. The government is to be placed on a business basis and sinecures abolished. If any democrat is seeking office under the late impression that his heavy-lift will be to draw his salary, he had better withdraw and save himself disappointment. There are to be no doves in the democratic hive and those who are unwilling to work had better stand from under.—W. P. Walton in the Lexington Herald.

The best sold at 88 but few were good enough for this price. Wilk Rogers the Paint Lick horse and stock buyer, gave Hlatz Burge $165 for a nice walking horse here Monday. He also bought a black combined horse from W. P. Kincaid for $135 and a draft horse from J. H. Baughman for $125. Mr. Rogers sold a walking horse to S. H. Baughman for $185.—Interior Journal.
