FLOESIE BLOSSOM, or whatever her name is, who started the natives of Richmond, Va., with a skirt slit not wisely but too well, can go to Atlanta, Ga., if she so desires and can wear her modern apparel and show her shapely self off all she wants. Mayor Woodward has declared that he doesn't believe it is one of the functions of municipal government to tell women how to dress and that as long as there is no absolute indecency, he proposes to leave it to the women themselves as to how their skirts shall be. "If a woman wants to wear a slashed gown, it may be foolish on her part, but if she can stand it I can," the mayor is quoted as saying, "and I don't think it is any business of the police to interfere." Since the slit skirt style came in, many rather daring costumes have been seen on Peachtree and Whitehall streets, in that city, but they have caused neither riots nor insults to the wearers. Atlantians are more or less accustomed to spectacular dressing, and if the Venus de Milo herself were to come to life in a modern skirt and slash it to her knees, it is very doubtful if Atlanta would make as much fuss as Richmond did over Miss Cutie Rosebud, or whatever her name was.

NEAR Ashland, Lydia Bailey, aged six, was shot to death by her sister, only seven years older, with a gun which she did not know was loaded. But the question arises, what right has a thirteen-year-old child to monkey with a gun loaded or unloaded? The trouble is, people are too careless about leaving weapons around and in many cases have more of their means invested in guns than they should have. In some portions of the mountains we are informed that there are men whose investments in "shooting irons" far exceed that of their household goods and kitchen furniture. And we might add that right here in this glorious blue-grass section—the garden spot of the world—there are many people whose homes much more resemble an arsenal than that of the abiding place of peaceable, good citizens.

UP in Ohio the father of a young bride has deposited a bond forfeitable to her father-in-law if she doesn't carry out her wedding agreement in good faith. The groom's father has deposited a similar bond which will be forfeit to the bride's father if the young man dares with any woman except his wife; loaves, drinks, gambles or plays pool. The chances seem to favor a close watch over the doings of the young folks. Each father evidently has faith in his child, while he wouldn't risk the $700. Whether the bonds given by the fathers will make the bride and groom behave is a question. Young people are independent and sometimes might resent having somebody stand sponsor for them. If both of them were to kick over the traces the bonds would be exchanged and neither father would be out or $700.

The Climax is proud of the dignified, clean campaign its former editor, Mr. A. D. Miller, is making for Representative. But it is just what the paper might have and did expect of the splendid gentleman. His opponents have been treated with the utmost courtesy and consideration and we do not believe he has by word or deed taken advantage of them. That he has made many friends by his good conduct, there can be no doubt, and at the wind-up of the campaign which will come Saturday, whether he is the victor or the vanquished, he will have the satisfaction of knowing that he is much closer to the people of the county than when he announced for the office he seeks and that he has made a many race, giving to the gentleman who oppose him the very best that is in him.

BOSTON'S maidens are to use whistles to attract attention—no, not quite as bad as you think. It is to attract the attention of the cops to the "mashers" who abound on the street corners. However, the samples of the Boston women that we have seen could attract a great deal more attention were they supplied with bells or whistles, or something else to make a noise with. Certainly their personal charms would not attract very much.

COMMENTING on the claim that Secretary of State Bryan does not make enough out of his office to live on, a Florida exchange suggests that after Congress is over the capitol be converted into a moving picture concern and the proceeds divided between the members of the cabinet. This will be all right with the Commoner if he were given the lion's share.

A RICHMOND, Va., photographer, who was right there on the scene and ought to know, says that Flossie Blossom, the young woman who was fined $25 for appearing on the street in a slit skirt, made quite a show and attracted almost as much attention as a circus parade. The pictures he took of her went like "hot cakes."

UP in Vermont that call President Wilson a "nice, simple-looking man," and down here in the South we speak of them as "shrewd," discerning Yankees. Environment and location make wonderful changes in feelings and things generally.

The fact that the Japanese minister received such an ovation on his arrival at the Mexican capital shows conclusively that the little Jap has more than the ordinary commercial interest in the Mexican republic.

A PITTSBURG, Pa., arbiter of fashion is authority for the statement that men will soon be wearing slit trousers. A great many of the poor devils, who have nobody to sew for them, are already wearing "slit" ones.

EDITING a newspaper is a nice thing. If we publish jokes people say that we are rattle brained; if we don't we are fossils. If we publish original matter they say that we don't give them enough selections; if we give them selections they say we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church they say we are heathens, if we go we are hypocrites. If we remain at the office we ought to be out looking for news items; if we go out then we are not attending to business. If we wear old clothes they laugh at us; if we wear good clothes, they say we have a pull. Now, what are we to do? Just as likely as not some one will say that we stole this on an exchange, and sure enough we did!

LOUISVILLE has a base ball team that is known as the "Kiss-Mes". If it is a female organization and the members of it are not more attractive than the aggregation of "shes" that played Richmond some time ago, they will have to adopt other methods than their name to get their lips smacked.

To The Democratic Voters Of Madison County.

Richmond, Ky., July 28, 1913.
 In my candidacy for the nomination for county clerk, I have tried as best I could to see every Democratic voter in Madison county. My failure to see all is due to the fact that my duties in the office have been unusually confining this spring and summer. The new law with reference to tax receipts has required the county clerk to make out for every tax payer a receipt and a duplicate receipt for every tax bill paid. This has kept me and my entire office busy steadily at work for a period of six weeks, thus making it impossible for me to canvass during that time.

However, it is well known that I am a candidate for a second term and am asking an endorsement. So far as I have been able to learn, it is admitted by everyone that I have made a painstaking, faithful and efficient officer, and that the business of this office has been handled in a manner highly satisfactory to the people. I invite public inspection of the records of my office, and I feel that my familiarity with titles, records, etc., peculiarly fit me for even better service for the next four years. In the office of county clerk not only a single instance can be cited from the beginning of the county's history down to the present time, where any man holding this office has been refused a second term. For more than one hundred years the people have recognized efficiency in this office and have rewarded the same by endorsement and re-election. If there is no reason to deny me what others have had, viz: an endorsement, vote for me, and I shall appreciate it very highly and will continue to attend to the people's business in the same efficient manner as I have in the past.

During the past three and a half years I am, and have been, an active Democrat ever since I became a voter, and have contributed to the success of my party in every battle that has been waged for the democratic ticket myself 28 yrs. to the Democratic party is worthy of consideration. I feel sure that those who know will admit that I have as much to my credit along that line as any Democrat in Madison county.

In making this final appeal, I ask the vote and influence of every Democrat in Madison county.

Respectfully,
 R. B. TERRELL, 87-11

To The Voters of Madison Co.
 I was born in this county 56 years ago on an farm and have since coming to Richmond six years ago. Came from one of the oldest and strongest democratic families in the county, having voted the democratic ticket myself 28 yrs. and voted no other way. You may know I am a candidate for jailer. Just want it as an unfair way. I am for an honest and fair election. I have used no whiskey or money and will not use any. All I ask is a fair election and if elected I promise to fill the office with credit to myself and to the county. I am very sorry indeed that there has been used to see each and every voter as I wanted to but owing to the loss of my horses from a new disease which has been in Richmond, I was knocked out for six or seven weeks and quarantined in. However, I am grateful that it wasn't worse, and I was soon able to be out again mixing with the voters for the coming election. I ask each and every voter to think before going to the polls Saturday, that I am the oldest man on the ticket and never had a dollar but what was earned for honest and honorable, and that I need the office. Thanking you and all for your earnest support and whether elected or defeated, shall be your friend, just as I am today. Again asking the true and honest support of all. While I am very grateful, I remain,
 Yours Very Truly,
 A. J. WILCOX.

Pleasant Occasion.
 The Aid Society of the Kirkville Christian church spent a full day with Mrs. Reuben Baker last week and the members had a splendid time. Plans were discussed for raising money and work generally and this was followed by the spirited auctioning of a quilt that had been made by members of the society. At the noon hour a toothsome meal was enjoyed, of which all partook freely.

Am Still in the Race and Will Be.
 Some one has industriously circulated the report that I have withdrawn from the race for the Democratic nomination for Jailer of Madison county. This is a preparation out of whole cloth and is being circulated to injure me in my race. I am in the fight to the finish and have every reason to believe that I will win. I ask my friends and Democrats generally to pay no attention to such silly reports but to go on in the good work of talking and working for the party.

OLIVE KATBERG, Candidate for Jailer.

They are having a great time and are seeing many of the wonders of that section of the country which is so rich in them. We would like very much to give our readers the pleasure of reading the letter in its entirety, but space forbids. Dr. and Mrs. Logan are located at Elliott, Iowa, where he is not only making good but is one of the most prominent men of his section.

WANTED—Experienced young man and woman for sales people in dry goods stores. Only persons with previous experience and references who are willing to work need apply. Address 1,000 A. Leader office, Lexington. It

Death of Little Pearl Crawford.
 Pearl, the bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford, died at their home on the Four Mile road of whooping cough Sunday morning. She was a bright, pretty little girl of two years and six months and the idol of her devoted parents.

Some Beans.
 E. F. Massie left at this office Monday a bunch of beans that are almost as long as Jack's bean stalk grew tall. They are 28 inches in length. They are known as the Yard Long Pole Bean and are especially good for sections where droughts occur. In fact he tells us that the lack of rain seems to hurt them not in the least.

R. B. Todd Assassinated at Irvine.
 R. B. Todd, a prominent merchant of Irvine, was shot and instantly killed in his store at that place Saturday night. A woman named Maude Tipton was suspected of having the right arm cut off between the elbow and shoulder. He sustained other injuries that may cause his death. He was taken to Pattie A. Clark Infirmary, where every attention possible is being given him.

Slept on Track—Lost an Arm
 George Brim went to sleep on the railroad track near Zaring's stable Saturday night and was run over by a train. He came home with his right arm cut off between the elbow and shoulder. He sustained other injuries that may cause his death. He was taken to Pattie A. Clark Infirmary, where every attention possible is being given him.

Local Singer in P. A. C. Benefit Concert.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Panther, who will give a concert at the Normal Chapel, Tuesday evening, are already feeling regret that the time is drawing nigh when some of them will return to their work, sadder but wiser and poorer men. It is for these that we already feel sorry and to whom we are already feeling sorry and to whom we are already feeling sorry.

Bear With Them!
 Bear with the candidates, dear people. You have stood them for the past 18 or 24 months and certainly you can put up with them three or four more days. We have kindred grown used to them, having lived with us so long, and regret that the time is drawing nigh when some of them will return to their work, sadder but wiser and poorer men. It is for these that we already feel sorry and to whom we are already feeling sorry.

Opera House Tonight.
 Entire change of program tonight—three new pictures and Stewart, Compa, of Wednesday night. The Reliance 3-reel feature, "Half Chance," a magnificent production, from the famous novel by Frederick Lehman, and by special arrangement with the Bobbs-Merrill Co., with Irving and the excellent Reliance company. Thursday night an American 2-reel feature, "Ashes of Three," by Stewart Edwards. The Reliance 3-reel feature, "Derelict," a thing without honor among men; finds the vital spark within him ignited by a mother's love—a masterpiece by a great author. Saturday night the greatest of them all, the Kay-Beo headliner, "The Boomerang," which is the greatest war picture ever made in three reels of thrilling and sensational climaxes.

Must Be Twenty-One.
 Unless you are twenty-one years old you can not legally participate in the primary of Saturday. In other words those males who would reach their majority by or before August 2 to January, will be ineligible. Number election were privileged to vote the primary previous but not so under the new election law. You must be twenty-one on or before August 2 to January. And you must vote with the party that you have heretofore affiliated with. In other words, a voter who cast his ballot for the Republican or Progressive party in November last and has heretofore done so can not vote the Democratic ticket under the promise to support the nominee. If he has decided to change his party affiliation he must wait until the November election to do so.

Buying Blackberries.

Kellogg & Co., wholesale grocers, have bought hundreds of gallons of blackberries in this county this season. They have shipped them to several markets. Their big auto truck has been used to haul them to this place for shipment.

Secretary Albright Remembers Us.

Editor E. S. Albright, of the Mt. Vernon Signal, who is also secretary of the Mt. Vernon Fair, which will be held August 6, 7, 8, remembers us with a complimentary note. He has asked us to further honor of writing us a letter insisting that we come to the exhibition, which will doubtless prove a creditable success. He has asked us to send him a complimentary note and we shall certainly accept his invitation.

The Proper Action.

The good people of McCreary precinct have taken proper action, in their warning to those who would use unfair tactics in this campaign. They have formed a vigilance committee and decreed to enforce the law and prosecute to the limit any candidate or voter who willfully or otherwise violates the election laws—by buying or selling votes. They are to be congratulated on their stand for law, order and decency. Every precinct in the county should follow this example and thus forever put an end to one of the most infamous customs of this State.

James B. Walker, candidate for county clerk, is one candidate who has made a straight out-and-out fight for a fair election by election by the county clerk. It is a duty they owe themselves as well as him.
 We buy all kinds of country produce, pay the highest market price. Give us a call. Covington Thorpe Co. 57-11.

Many Thanks, Mr. Fish.

The Climax is under obligations to Secretary E. T. Fish, of the Berea Fair, for a complimentary note of the foreign mission work of the Southern Presbyterian church in this county. There are many here who look forward with pleasure to the Berea fair and these and many others will attend one or more days. The fair begins tomorrow and continues over Friday.

Didn't Make Good.

The musical aggregation that was to have held the boards in vaudivelle at the opera house the first three nights of this week did their stunt last night, but it was so disappointing that Manager Baxter asked them to cut out the other two nights. They reluctantly did so. He has secured for tonight and tomorrow night the good tenor, Mr. Stewart, and he will appear for the first time this evening.

Back On The Job.

Old Sol is back on the job again and we are having some torrid weather. In fact many complain that the heat of the present spell is more intense than that of last summer. It is "hot" all summer time, "none" who have to work for a living will gain, and those of us who put in 12 to 15 hours per day will have to sweat it out. Many are willing to wear at the hot weather, so unobscurely hot it is.

I have never asked for office and have no record in that line to refer to. I want to be given the opportunity of making a record. Will you assist me?
 84-2 Elmer Deatherage.

The Agony Will Soon Be Over.
 Only a few more days and the agony will be over. We won't be wondering who will win this and that race, but will be figuring how such and such a man best will bunch his bid. Next Saturday, we will all know. The candidates are still acting well and there is the best of feeling among them. That nothing will be said or done at this late hour to cause unpleasantness, let us all join in hoping. The reason the campaign has been such a harmonious one is that the candidates are all high-class gentlemen, who do not stoop to un-laboring, but who attend to their own races and let the other fellows take care of theirs. In our recollection, we do not recall a better time of accepting the candidacy of gentlemen seeking to serve their people in the capacity of county officers. We are sorry indeed that they can't all be elected.

NEWS NOTES
 Damage aggregating nearly $10,000 was done by a fire at Adairville.
 Police in London have received information, it is stated, of a suffragette plot against King George.
 A negro, thought to be the burglar who shot a Dunbar, Ga., merchant, was lynched at Dunbar.
 Vice-President Marshall spoke at the laying of the cornerstone of the Moose home, at Moorehead, Ill.
 Richard Beard, a Nashville business man, died of injuries received by falling under a passenger train.
 A second series of farmers' chautauquar for Warren county began in Bowling Green with 1,200 in attendance.
 A professional diver was drowned when he dived off an unfinished bridge into the Mississippi river at St. Louis.
 All the business portion of Smyrna, Tenn., was destroyed by a fire yesterday afternoon, causing a loss of $50,000.
 Testimony for the State was begun yesterday afternoon in the trial of Leo M. Frank at Atlanta, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan.
 Thomas Allen Russell, a school teacher, who bore the reputation of being the only man who ever whipped Cole Younger, the former bandit, is dead at Fulton, Mo.
 Four persons were killed and one seriously injured when a passenger train of the C. M. & St. P. struck a tree blown on the track by a storm at Cable Line, Wis.
 Mrs. Marshall, wife of the Vice-President, is reported as saying that she does not regret the woman suffrage victory in Illinois as presaging extension of suffrage in the nation.
 Twenty-seven persons were injured, six probably fatally, when four cars of a train on the Rio Grande, Boulder & Western overran on the Switzer-land Trail, near Boulder, Col.
 Sylvia Pankhurst led a rollicking suffragette demonstration in Trafalgar Square, London, which ended in the police breaking up her party and arresting Miss Pankhurst and taking her to jail.
 The House Banking and Currency Committee announced that it would call for a hearing on August 11 to consider its report on the Administration Currency bill. The committee adopted a resolution imposing secrecy as to its future proceedings.
 Secretary McAdoo issued a statement charging that the decline of Government 2 per cent. bonds to 95-1/2 cents—a new low record, it is stated—was due to concerted action on the part of New York bankers to influence action against the Currency bill.

Church Notes

The last quarterly conference of the year will be held at the Methodist church Sunday. The presiding elder, Dr. W. E. Arnold, of Danville, will preach. A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend the services.
 Simplicity marks every thing that President Wilson does. His wife and sensible daughters are of like spirit. They have selected as their church home in Washington the Central Presbyterian, a Southern church, and one of the plainest in the city. It has but 320 members, and the pastor, the Rev. Chas. H. Taylor, is not a "D. D."
 According to a report recently submitted, the expense of administering the foreign mission work of the Southern Presbyterian church is 5.04 per cent. of the entire receipts.
 In their foreign mission fields the Congregationalists of the United States have 62 churches and 77,019 members, as compared with 283 churches and 70,000 members of a year ago.
 The Methodist Episcopal church has in the United States 33 colleges and universities and 43 secondary schools, with an aggregate student enrollment of about 40,000.
 The British Wesleyan Methodist church reports for the year just closed showed a decrease in number of Sunday school scholars of 12,841, the total number of scholars being 951,468. Last year the decrease was 12,495.
 John D. Rockefeller has made thru Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, an offer to give $1,000,000 to establish a Christian university in Japan.
 A congregation representing various denominations at the Walnut street Baptist church, Louisville, made farewell Sunday to the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Henry Alfred Porter, who goes to Dallas, Texas.
 Rev. Mr. Grant, pastor of the Baptist church at Catlettsburg and an able and earnest young divine, has been called to the pastorate of the church of that denomination at Stanford. He preached there Sunday, but has not yet well Sunday to the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Catlettsburg some months ago, the writer had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Grant and was deeply impressed with him both as a man and man of God. We hope the good people of Stanford there is a strong and energetic pastor who will secure him, feeling that nothing is too good for them. The Baptist church there is a strong and energetic pastor who will secure him, feeling that nothing is too good for them.
