HOW IT IS PUT.

Dean Brown, of Yale, puts it this survived by his wife and three so way: "The Interchurch World Movement was a noble dream which became a nightmare, leaving a dark brown taste in the mouth of Protestant Christianity in this country."

Likewise the Baptist Western Recorder thus places itself. "Our opposition to this octopus was based on a knowledge of its deadly nature. We were against the movement; we have been in 1728. The college did not believe it was of the Lord, the oldest institution for the edu and if we have contributed anything to its collapse we count it to our eredit."

LIKE OUR OWN.

We believe that few people in this country fully realize that the people of Ireland have set up a republic that is functioning much more compleiely than the British Government there.
