WATER BELOW FLOOD STAGE.
 The river went slightly below a stage of 45 feet Sunday on the Cairo gauge, and Monday the outfit used at Mile Seven, Reelfoot Levee, was disposed of and the long light there completely over. The Steamer Wynoka, a government boat, arrived there Monday evening from Memphis and took in charge the government quarter boat, which she carried back to Memphis. This quarter boat was used to house the labor during the fight there. With the water down now below the foot or base of the levee, the gravity of the situation can be fully appreciated. For nearly half a mile the river bank had caved off to the base of the levee and at two places beyond the crest of the levee, with a narrow strip left at one of these places, each place being about 50 to 60 feet long. Before they finished the work there, they had built a bank quite the entire distance of the caving. Mr. Huffstetter, the government engineer sent here by Major Kerr, of Memphis, handled the situation well and deserves much credit for pushing the fight as he did. C. T. Bondurant, who built most of the Reelfoot levee was on the job day and night for many days, bringing in from Trimble, Tenn., his construction equipment of mules and scrapers, re-inforcing the Rogers levee equipment there, the members of the Levee Board and every planter of this section giving their time and labor to the hard work there. It is thought by the time the river reaches the sand strata beyond the levee that the caving will be much greater, and is now only a matter of a short time until the entire part of the old levee will cave off. But before another year rolls around, or before another flood, the new loop should be finished and, at least, the planters won't face the proposition of caving banks and caving levee again. The fight there was the hardest ever put up and the longest, but also it might be added, that the siege of two months' water was the longest ever known.

OFFICE IN FULTON.
 The Farm Bureau will maintain two offices, with one at Fulton and one at Hickman. This arrangement was agreed on here a few days ago and in order that all farmers may get the benefit of the Bureau the two offices will be maintained, however, as the President of this Association resides in the upper end of the county, much of the work will be directed from there. The Fulton office will be in the Fulton Commercial Club's rooms, while the office here will be continued at its present location. J. W. Mayes has that building rented, using the rear of same for feed and seed, and has sub-rented part of the space to the Bureau and space for the desk of the County Farm Agent. All officers elected several weeks ago will remain unchanged, with the exception of the secretary and treasurer, T. H. McMurry being appointed to fill that office on account of the secretary resigning.
 On Saturday afternoon, from three to five-thirty, Mrs. H. T. Slade entertained at three tables of "500" in honor of her mother, Mrs. Wickersham. After the games a delightful two course menu consisting of salad course and coffee, followed by ice cream, garnished with strawberries, and nabiscoes, was served. A pink rose and branch of honeysuckle decorated each plate. The guests were Mesdames C. T. Bondurant, W. B. Amberg, H. N. Cowgill, Sr., Nim Walker, J. T. Stephens, T. T. Swayne, R. B. Coffee, C. M. Reynolds, J. M. Hubbard, J. Mack Reid and Miss Frank Reid. Mrs. Wickersham, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hade, for the past month, coming here from Lincoln, Nebraska, expects to leave this coming week for her new home in St. Petersburg, Fla.
 Hickman fans will more than likely get to enjoy some splendid ball games this summer, or during the ball season. An arrangement has been made by the Fulton Club whereby the Hickman ball park will be used for Sunday games by the Kitty League. The Kitty League was reorganized this spring and has eight good strong teams, and two of these teams will play ball here practically every Sunday, with week games occasionally.
 On account of the muddy condition of the park last Sunday the game scheduled to be played here between the Dyersburg team and "the Ing Haired Fellows" had to be called off. The games played around this section by these sons of the House of David have been good games.
 Hugh Cooper, of Muskogee, Okla., is here the guest of his sister, Mrs. Margaret Reid. Mr. Cooper was reared in this vicinity and is well known to many Hickman people, but this is his first visit back here for twenty-one years.
 Major Huffstetter, who was sent here from Memphis during the levee fight, is the first aid to Major Ker. Major Kerr is the government engineer in charge of this district.
