

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1895.

NO. 74

BROADHEAD, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Mrs. Robert L. Yeakey will leave us in a few days to make her future home in Indiana.

—The R. R. men have completed the new tank and they have made everything look neat and nice in and about the depot.

—Our sanctified people are still keeping up their prayer meetings. They have one every night. They have a circuit and it takes them a week to get around. They come to the church every Wednesday night and generally have the house full. They claim that they are saved and sanctified up to date.

—Bro. Pike returned from Glendale church in Madison county last week, where he held a 13-day meeting, in which he had 60 additions to the church, 50 of them by confession and baptism. The church was much revived. This is the church to which was added 100 last year and is now one of the best churches in the Tate's Creek Association.

—Mrs. P. Herron and her little daughter, Annie, are very sick. The little girl has been an invalid for more than four years and she can not use anything but milk as a nourishment and has not for months. She has had a hard struggle and has been thought to be at the point of death for some time. It would be a happy exchange for her if she could change her suffering for heaven. Mrs. Herron has been suffering from the effects of a cancer and has suffered for over a year and in all her pain and anxiety she never murmurs or complains. She has manifested the patience of old Job and she will surely have her reward. Uncle Dock Woodard and wife are both on the sick list this week, but are convalescing at this writing. Miss Bertie Hilton, one of Rowland's belles, is visiting the Woodard and Cherry families. She will spend a few weeks with our people. Miss Bertie is an accomplished young lady and our people are always happy to see her come.

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

—Mr. G. M. Freeman was in Louisville Saturday and Sunday.

—A protracted meeting is in progress at the M. E. church this week.

—Last Monday was police court day, but there was not much business.

—Messrs. R. S. Crawford and J. J. Foley were at Jackson, Tenn., attending court last week.

—A little child of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Gross died last Wednesday night of membranous croup.

—A very successful meeting closed at the M. E. church, at Pleasant View, last week with 18 additions.

—Several of our citizens have been out since the frost in search of wild turkeys, which are reported as rather plentiful.

—Hon. Chas. Finley has gone to the city, where he can be in close communion with this remainder of the State elect officers.

—On last Friday a party composed of the following ladies and gentlemen went to Atlanta to attend the exposition: Misses Annie O'Mara, Gertrude Lester, Ruby Gatlin, Rowena Stanfill, Carrie Mahan, Lucy Mahan, Messrs. A. B. Mahan, James Gatlin and Dr. A. Gatlin. They are expected home Wednesday evening.

—Since the election is over everything has resumed its regular course and business is moving on as if nothing of any great importance had happened. The republicans held a rally on the Wednesday night after the election, which consisted of shooting anvils, fire crackers, etc. Bradley's majority over Hardin was 1,849, as shown by the official count.

Ten cents a line straight will be charged for obituary notices to all business men who did not advertise while living. Delinquent subscribers will be charged 15 cents per line for an obituary notice. Advertisers and cash subscribers will receive as good a "send-off" as we are capable of writing without any charge whatever.—South Pittsburg Standard.

Attorney for the defense—now, what time was it when you were held up?

Complainant—I don't know; ask your client—he took my watch.—Chicago Record.

Watts—Do you think a man can be a Christian on $1 a day?

Potts—I don't see how he can afford to be anything else.—Indianapolis Journal.

—There are only two horses in sight that promise to smash records in 1896, and these are Fantasy and Beuzettes, and it is very doubtful if they will beat 2:03.

How to Prevent Croup.

Some reading that will prove interesting to young mothers. How to guard against the disease. Croup is a terror to young mothers and to put them concerning the cause, first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold very easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Stanford, Ky.

KIDD'S STORE.

—How are Arch McKinney and Pete McRoberts since the returns? Alive, I hope.

—Madame Grundy has it that one of our sweetest girls will not adopt bloomers but will set up housekeeping soon for one of the luckiest boys in the world. Guess who?

—In no locality where Hon. J. N. Saunders is known will he receive warmer congratulations on Gov. Brown's rare discrimination in the honor so deservedly bestowed, than at the city of Kidd's Store and vicinity.

—Jesse and Geo. W. Rife, Jr., have been exporting vast quantities of the finest Irish potatoes that were ever grown in this end. George was lucky enough to contract his crops at remunerative figures before the escalator took a tumble.

—Our republican neighbors had a grand old time just outside the limits of our city last Saturday night, but the weather was too inclement for a demonstration who can't boast of feeling particularly well and your scribes didn't venture out.

—The democrats hereabout have no time to talk politics now. The late good soaking rain is a much more entertaining theme, especially as it was the first since the corn crop ceased to be a matter of solicitude and wheat sowing became an item of interest.

—Steve Dye is gifted in a particular style of cordiality that is rather oppressive to a mourner and it isn't comfortable to feel that a friend is not understood by the unsympathetic when he labors to make somebody else smile (at your expense if he can't provoke you to mirth) at your own expense.

—Miss Lizzie Twidwell's relatives and friends of this town take off their hats to Hon. S. W. Fergy in winning a prize, who unavailingly and regretfully made life miserable for many a presuming swain of this vineyard. Despite the scores who would exit in the other fellow's murdering Mr. Fergy, a cordial welcome awaits him in West Lincoln.

—Notice! Missing from his accustomed haunts of the past forty years, since last Wednesday, Nov. 6th, after he had heard from Waterloo, John Dye, one of the most faithful democrats and chairwarmers that Hustonville ever boasted. If alive and able to grin, any information to that effect from a reliable informant will be more gratifying to his thousands of sympathizers than the discovery of the fellow who actually struck Mr. Patterson.

—Hearsey testimony doesn't go and I have already poached sufficiently on another's domain without repeating what I heard of the jollification at Hustonville. Our delegation of participants gave such rosy description of the details that I shall always wish that the occasion had been one of old time democratic jubilation, and I had been there to enjoy it. Capt. Joe Huffman outdid the late emblem of the coon in his graceful gyrations, amid fleecy clouds, and Bob bittonian rhapsodies, "dipped on daddy's woodpile," and George Davidson ripped great holes in the atmosphere which can never be artistically patched—they say.

No Place to Move to.

The following is an old, old story, but it is perfectly applicable to Kentucky democrats just now:

"There lives out in Joe Cannon's district in Illinois, an old farmer who is a zealous republican, one of the red-hot partisan strips. When he heard of Cannon's defeat he said to his wife, who is one of those women who obey their Lord and Master blindly:

"Mary, pack up everything, I'm going to move."

"Why?" asked Mary.

"Because Joe Cannon is beat and I want live a democratic district."

"Very well," said Mary, with a little resigned sigh.

Then the old man went to town to sell his farm. There he heard all of the election news. He returned home, and entering the house said:

"Mary, you can quit packing up. I ain't going to move."

"Why?" inquired Mary.

"Because," he replied, sadly, "there ain't no place to move to."—Washington Mirror.

—It is said that, notwithstanding his promise to keep hands off in the Senatorial race, Governor-elect Bradley is opposed to Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter and for Mr. A. E. Wilson. They are said to have had a serious row during the campaign.

—Col. Bradley's plurality in Louisville and Jefferson county is 4,029. Capt. Irwin, for railroad commissioner, carried the city and county by 2,941.

—Over 4,000 miles of railroad was constructed in Europe during 1894.

The wife of Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there, sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain having left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Craig & Hocker, Stanford, Ky.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—The trial of A. B. Brown, Sr., and James Hardin that was set for Tuesday, 19th, has been postponed for 10 days.

—The Teachers' County Association will meet to-morrow week, Nov. 23rd, at Graded school here. Visitors are invited.

—There will be a dedicatory sermon held at the laying of the corner stone of the new Methodist church on Saturday, Nov. 16th.

—Mrs. Mary Cunningham's new house on Depot street is about completed and when ready for occupancy will be quite a convenient residence.

—Miss Mary Smith, of Stanford, is in Lancaster soliciting orders for ready-made dresses from Cincinnati, Louisville and Lexington houses.

—Mr. Newton Broadus, of McCreary, has bought out the livery stable of Rice George. He with his family will move into our midst soon and become residents.

—Mr. C. D. Powell, of Stanford, who expects to locate in our city the beginning of the new year to engage in the mercantile business, has rented the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Scott for $150 and will occupy it with his family.

—Elder Jessie Walden is at home from a two weeks' protracted meeting he has just held at Worthville, Carroll county, where he had the gratification of taking 40 confessions, thus increasing the membership of the church at that place greatly.

—Mrs. Stewart, of Knoxville, is in our city endeavoring to establish a circulating library. $1.50 will be asked for membership should one be organized. It is hoped the undertaking will prove a success for it is a thing greatly needed in Lancaster.

—The alarm of fire on Wednesday drew a very large crowd in the direction of the flames. It was soon discovered to be the stable of W. H. Kinnaird. The fire had already gained such a headway that it was impossible to save it. By the strenuous efforts of willing workers nothing else caught from the flying sparks.

—The article that appeared in both the INTERIOR JOURNAL and Courier-Journal several weeks ago about the Garrard county farmers cultivation of coffee has brought several communications, one from the "Sunny South," wanting the address of the farmer, hoping thereby to realize a profitable thing from the growth of the product.

—Invitations have been received by friends and relatives here to the marriage of a former Lancaster boy at Thomasville, Ga. William Simpson Elkin, oldest son of Capt. T. A. Elkin, of this place, will be united in marriage to Miss Goodwyn Sapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Madison Sapp, on Wednesday evening, November the 20th, at 8:30 o'clock, in Saint Thomas' Church, Thomasville, Ga. Will Elkin, as he is known here, in his old home, has been living in Atlanta, for the past 8 or 10 years and has been engaged in the drug business and won a reputation for himself as a fine pharmacist and a young man of exemplary habits. [His sisters, Sallie and Mattie Elkin will attend the wedding.

—Miss Lena Archer, of Danville, is here visiting her friend, Miss Ellen Owsley. Mrs. Rosa Crow, of Louisville, is here the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Brown. Burdette Powell, of Hustonville, visited Lancaster friends the first of the week. Mesdames W. O. Bradley and Malcolm Gill were in Cincinnati Wednesday shopping. Mrs. Stewart, of Knoxville, is the guest of Miss Martha Tillett. Miss Bessie, Barnside left on Thursday to visit friends in Lexington. Miss Fannie Frazier, of Maysville, is being entertained by her aunt, Mrs. H. C. Jennings. Mrs. S. P. Grant, of Danville, is with her mother, Mrs. H. A. Price. W. I. Williams is at home on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Williams, of Campbellsville. The following Lancaster people leave this week to attend the exposition at Atlanta: Mrs. Mattie Price Frisbie, Miss Ida May Grant, Mrs. Jas. Robinson and niece Miss Mariah Cooke, R. E. Hughes and wife, Misses Mary and George Miller, Misses Sallie and Mattie Elkin, Mrs. A. H. Price, Misses Altie and Bessie Marksbury, Miss Fannie West and Letcher Owsley. Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Gaines visited friends in Danville this week. Miss Thurmond, of Stanford, was a visitor in our city last week.

The Louisville Times makes the following good suggestion: Gov. Bradley ought to lay down in his inaugural address an outline of his policy. Let him name the State office he desires abolished or the State office the salary of which he thinks ought to be reduced. He was very vociferous in that line some weeks ago.

—From the official returns at Frankfort from 116 counties Mr. Bradley's plurality is expected to be about 8,400. Both gubernatorial candidates out ran their running mates. The populists polled about 16,000 and the prohibitionists not quite 4,000.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Dr. Flannigan, of Junction City, has located at Wolford's store, which property he bought from Coley Snow.

—If the republicans had only kept their ticket for town trustees in the field it would have been a sure winner.

—Where are the prophets that predicted a majority for Hardin from 10,000 to 40,000? Who is Hardin, anyway?

—The first sale of new tobacco that we have heard of is that of Walker Rount's crop to Mr. Boazley, of Paint Lick, at 9c.

—A man in our community achieved greatness at the late election and doubtless is not himself aware of it. He is the single, only man who voted the populist ticket here.

—The remains of Jonathan Russell, lately of Burgin, formerly of this place, were buried here Monday. Mr. Russell had many friends here and was quite a character in his way.

—B. B. King, our representative-elect, has not fully recovered from the terrible fall from his horse he received on election day. He thinks he has a couple of broken ribs as the result of it.

—Mr. Butler has been laid up for a week with a very painful rising on the bottom of his right foot. He says he has not enjoyed anything so much since he was a boy and had stone bruises on his heel.

—Last week Dr. Pat Humphrey cut a pistol ball from the hand of Isaac McCormack, colored, which he received in a slight misunderstanding with John Abe Jones, also of color, at Milledgeville a month ago.

—Mr. John Dinwiddie, while hauling a load of fodder from his country place last Thursday, fell from the load, striking upon his head and shoulders and inflicting painful but not dangerous wounds. He is all right now.

—The following invitation explains itself. The bride is a grand-daughter of Mrs. Milly Morsland, of Moreland Station: "Mrs. Hart Thompson requests your presence at the marriage of her daughter, Emma Shelby Thompson, to William R. Callen, Monday morning, Nov. 11, 1895, at 9 o'clock. Residence 505 Sixth street, San Antonio, Texas." The young couple will be at home after Nov. 20, at Ardmore, E. T.

—Ursah Dann came home from the South in time to vote. Ed Owens is visiting relatives here. James Bernaw and wife and little son, Miller, of Carlisle, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wheeler. Mr. Bernaw is one of the most popular notions salesmen on the road. He represents a large Cincinnati house. Will Castle, of Somerset, who formerly lived here, is visiting friends in this community. Will's friends here note with pleasure his evident prosperity. Carl Wheeler left Monday on a visit to Mayslick and Richmond.

—The following notice of a popular lady was sent us by friends: Sad were the hearts on Saturday last of the friends of Mrs. Crane, of Indiana, as the train sped out of our midst and bore her from us. The last we saw of her was her bright, sweet face, smiling a sad good-bye. How fully we realize that it is our dearest, and best loved friends that leave us. Many were heard to say, "How is it she is always so bright?"—those who knew her, can readily answer—because of her amiable, unselfish, sunny, Christian character. All wish her a long life and a speedy return to her friends here.

The republicans are pretending to think they have a general warranty deed to Kentucky. Their title is no better than the democrats had to Massachusetts when Russell was elected, than they had to Maine when Garcelon was elected, than they had to Pennsylvania when Pattison was elected, than they had to Illinois when Altgeld was elected than they had to Iowa when Boies was elected. One swallow does not make a summer.—Louisville Times.

—A prize fight between Billy Murphy and Jack Dougherty was fought at Lexington and in the opera-house, too, in spite of telegraphic instructions from Gov. Brown to have it prevented. Murphy won in 10 rounds.

—A man giving his name as C. Schuler murdered his wife and child at Laredo, Tex., and being surprised by the police committed suicide.

—The daughter of a poor Philadelphia gardener is the sole heir to an estate of $15,000,000.

Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result every thing else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured.
