A COMPARISON.

The "condensed tragedy" of the Merchant Traveler might be slightly enlarged to read as follows:

A delectable dude. With trousers neat. A beautiful girl. With lips so sweet. The delectable dude. On the sofa flops. And he very soon. The softest paps. Her father, a man. With a No. 12 boot. Made a rush for the dude. As the dude made a screw.

LOCAL NOTES.

Cheap, good goods, at Small's. Martin makes a specialty of clocks. New crop of N. O. Sugar at Williams Bros. Nice overcoats, cheap at J. E. Fogle & Co. For boots and shoe, call on J. E. Fogle & Co. Martin for all kinds of spectacles and eye-glasses. Small's are doing the largest business in this town. Martin has all kinds of silver-plated table cutlery. Who will get the silver wheeled buggy, at Small's. Do not fail to get you a cloak or overcoat, at Small's. Martin for all kinds of fine and cheap rings and jewelry. The infant child of Sylvester Tilford, of Ceralvo, is very low. Martin has just received a large lot of new jewelry. Call and see. Don't forget that Martin has desirable goods at the lowest prices. Who will get the ladies gold watch, at Small's free gift distribution. Martin has a handsome lot of napkin rings, suitable for Xmas presents. Another big job lot of hose and gloves of all kinds, at Anderson's Bazaar. The Grand Jury of Ohio county Circuit Court inspected the College last week. J. J. McHenry is preparing to get out a small lot of county maps on tissue paper. Don't forget that J. E. Fogle & Co., keep always on hand a full line of Cates jeans, yarns, hannels &c. Mrs. D. A. Miller is confined to her room from the effect of a slight stroke of paralysis, sustained last week. Two of Wesley Miller's children, near Rosine, who have been very low from typhoid fever, are improving. I offer a hard-wood bedstead for $3. This style is finely finished, elegant and durable. Call and see them. 48 St. S. A. WILLIAMS. Why pay a profit on hose and gloves when you can have an immense line to select from at cost, at Anderson's Bazaar? A mad dog was pursued to, and killed in Cromwell, last week. The brute had bitten several other dogs before it was killed. Whooping-cough is prevalent in and about Fordville. Six children of Mr. W. T. Johnson are down with the complaint. Mr. Clint Stevens, heretofore residing near the old Fair grounds, has moved to a farm in the Waller neighborhood, purchased by him from Mr. Bayliss Davis.

Martin has a lot of goods suitable for Xmas presents for the little folks, young ladies and gents, and old folks. Don't forget! Judge F. P. Morgan called our attention last Saturday to the fact that the ground was covered with snow. Thanks Judge. The stock holders of the bank contemplate increasing the bank stock from $20,000 to $30,000. This is a splendid chance for investment. Since man to man is so unjust, I scarcely know which man to trust, I've trusted many to my sorrow, Pay to-day, I'll trust to-morrow. L. F. WOLFE. Smalls have the finest lot of boots and shoes ever brought to Hartford. Do not fail to visit their store, and besides getting cheap good goods, you will get a free ticket. The scripture injunction to clothe the naked, is obeyed in full, and honestly, at T. M. Smith's. His stock of clothing is the cheapest and best in the Green River country. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." Eternal selling for small profits is T. M. Smith's plan with customers who want to invest in his fine line of good, honest clothing. Dagon want a nice sewing machine as a Xmas present for your wife, your daughter, your niece, your sister, your—your sweetheart? Don't let the Christmas pass without doing this. 49 St. S. A. WILLIAMS. The "Golden Rule." "To do unto others you would have others do unto you," is never broken at T. M. Smith's. A large amount of first-class clothing given for the least possible amount of money. Mr. John W. England, of Rosine, was thrown from a mule, about a mile from home, last Friday. Mr. England was considerably bruised on his head and hip. He was painfully, but not seriously hurt. If you want a good, cheap pocket knife, fully warranted, now is your time, they are going fast, don't delay if you want a bargain. Call and see this fine stock for yourselves, at Williams Bros. One of the twin children, of Wm. Moreland, of the Barretts creek neighborhood, died last Thursday morning. It was four months old, and in apparent good health. Death caused by separation of the skull bones. Just step into my furniture warehouse, examine for yourselves, and be convinced that the stock is complete, of the latest patterns, and cheaper than ever before offered in this market. 48 St. S. A. WILLIAMS. Mr. J. E. Rowe has moved to his new residence, and is now comfortably housed for the winter. His house is a cottage built after the modern plan for room, and convenience, and when finished, will present a very pleasing appearance. My furniture is new, elegant and cheap. In proof of this, I offer a neat and finely finished bureau for $7, and a still better one, extra in every way, for $10. These prices cannot be beaten in the Green River Country. 48 St. S. A. WILLIAMS. Mr. A. P. Maddox, of Rockport, called upon us last Monday and renewed his subscription to the HERALD, and also renewed the subscription of his son who resides in Texas. Mr. Maddox has our thanks. We hope several thousands will follow his example. Miller & Westerfield's is the place to buy your Christmas goods. They have all kinds of fire works. They have candy apples and candy fishes, candy dolls and candy dishes, candy rough and candy neat, candy sour and candy sweet, candy low and candy tall, and candy enough for you all. Mr. Johnson Dean, of Rockvale, Breckenridge county, received serious injuries several days ago, while riding, his horse fell with him; in the fall he was caught under the horse, and had one leg broken near the ankle, and sustained other injuries. At last accounts, he was in a fair way to recover. The Court of Appeals recently rendered an important decision on the Prohibition question. Among other things the court held that "the local option law does not prohibit a regular practicing physician from prescribing or furnishing in good faith liquors to his patients, just as he would any other medicine." Don't wait until the day before Christmas to select your holiday gifts, but visit the Bazaar, make your selection and have it laid aside. Nothing is so nice for a child as a nice cloak—nothing so nice for your wife as a nice health rug. Anderson's Bazaar has laid aside several of these, for those who always look out in time. They cost from $1.25 to $7.00. To those who still need a winter wrap, we will say that Anderson's Bazaar has a few newmarkets, and short wraps, left over from the big cloak sale of two weeks ago, which can be bought very low, also a big lot of misses' and children's cloaks, from $1.50 up. These are great bargains, and you ought not to allow them to pass if any of your family will need anything in this line this winter. When cold snaps such as the present one visit us, men will naturally inquire where to get overcoats, what they cost, etc. For the benefit of our shivering patrons and friends, we will say that Anderson's Bazaar has the largest and cheapest stock of overcoats we have ever seen. Why, you can get a Very fair overcoat there for..... $3.50 A good one for..... 5.00 A very good one for..... 6.50 And a No. 1 for..... 9.00 These are big bargains, and if you need a coat, we would advise you by all means to call and see them. Said petitions will be disposed of at the January term. MARCH 19th, 1886. Rev. Dr. W. H. Kirksey, of Dawson, Texas, says: "Collins Ague Cure has beat me out of $200 or $300, I expect." Says I, "How's that Doctor? Well," says the Doctor, "the people here know how a preparation Collins Ague Cure is. They take it when their liver gets out of order, and it cures them, thus you see it beats me out of a doctor's bill, and shuts off my practice to a great extent." For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., Hartford, Ky. 49 3m. Fordville Notes. Dec. 3rd, 1886.—Having heard nothing from this part of the country for some time, I concluded to send you some notes. Some few of our farmers have sold their tobacco. C. A. Shreve has sold his stock of dry goods at Shreve, Ky., and started to Philpot, Ky., this morning, where he will engage in the mercantile business. Jones, of this place, died of consumption the 1st day of December, 1886, at 10 o'clock, A. M. The funeral was presided by Rev. B. P. Jenkins. The funeral was attended by many friends and relatives. She leaves a husband, and one child to mourn her loss. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire county. More when I can think of it. Success to the HERALD, is the wish of REDRAH.
