A Revengeful Camel. We find this Eastern story illustrating

We find this Eastern story illustrating the camel's malignity and passion—not withstanding his patience and good service when well treated: On one occasion a camel-driver had insulted the animal in his charge. The driver, from the expression of its eye, saw that there was unschief in it, and kept a sharp watch for some days. One night before he retired to rest, he left his cloak spread over the wooden saddle of the camel outside the tent. During the night the camel approached the cloak, and, believing that its master was fast asleep under it, lay down and rolled itself backwards and forwards over the cloak; the saddle broke under its weight, and the animal was evidently much pleased at what it thought was the cracking and breaking of its master's bones. After a time it rose,
