

STOP AT THE GALT HOUSE

WHEN IN LOUISVILLE

EUROPEAN PLAN

Good Rooms for $1.00 per Day.

Fine Dining Room, Excellent Service, Low Prices.

Free Auto-Bus Meets Trains Turkish and Electric Baths

Write For Reservations.

EVERYTHING IN

ROOFING

Asphalt, Gravel, Rubber, Galvanized and Printed.

Also Elwood and American Fence.

Steel Fence Posts

DEHLER BROS. CO.

Incorporated

112-116 East Market Street, Between First and Brook

Louisville, Ky.

"Largest in Dixie"

W. J. Hughes & Sons Co.

Incorporated

Louisville, Kentucky.

WHOLESALE

Windows, Doors, Blinds, Mouldings, Columns,
Stair Work, Brackets, Etc. Write for our Catalog

Knifley.

Rev. Oscar Capshaw filled his regular appointment at Parnell's Chapel last fourth Sunday.

Mrs. Fannie Tucker and children visited her father, John Arnold, from Friday till Sunday.

Harry Perkins, who was seriously stabbed, is improving nicely at this writing.

A. C. Wheeler raised a pear on a two year old tree that weighed one pound. Who can beat that?

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bault and daughter, Ora Mae, spent last Sunday at W. E. Bryant.

The relatives and friends of Mrs. J. R. Pike, who lives in Russell county, gathered at her old home place, the 3rd of October, and set a dinner in honor of Mrs. Pike's eightieth birthday. There was everything good to eat. There was a large crowd and everybody reported a nice time, and we hope Mrs. Pike may live to see many more birthdays.

Several from this place attended the spelling at Hovious schoolhouse last Wednesday night.

Married, on the 30th of September, Mr. David Irvine to a Miss Burton.

REGARD FOR THE LAW.

Ignorance of the Law is no excuse and disregard of the Law is a crime. When Laws are so obnoxious as to afford excuses for non-compliance they should be changed, and the people have this right. "If your right hand offend you, cut it off," was no idle injunction, but means the offense should be removed rather than the mutilation of the member.

Our Tax Laws are distasteful and detrimental, but the remedy should be to amend them instead of allowing them to undermine the morals of the people by openly disregarding them.

The successful evasion of one Law may encourage the violation of others and in time breed a contempt for all Laws.

While every citizen owes obedience to the Laws, the Laws should be made fair and equal to every citizen.

The Tax Laws are neither fair nor equal and are productive of deceit and dishonor and if for no other reason than this should be changed.

UNIFORM TAXATION.

Property differs so greatly in character and earning power it has always been impossible to tax the various kinds uniformly. Every attempt to tax movable property the same as immovable property has failed and will always fail. "Two wrongs do not make a right," and when assessors find it impossible to discover the ownership of movable property and undertake to square things by lowering the assessment of immovable property, there is no right or justice in it and everybody suffers in mind and matter. The more stringent the Law to uncover movable property the faster it moves and hides, and this fact is so well established the assessors in most counties let movable property go by default. So-called Uniform taxation is a delusion and a snare. It may suffice to fool the ignorant, but the knowing ones just laugh at it. This is rough on the poor man whose all is in sight and immovable, and is also tough on the rich man who defies the law and hides his wealth from the assessor, for he knows he is doubly guilty in saving himself at the expense of his less fortunate neighbor.

EQUITABLE TAXATION.

The differences in property call for differences in taxation just as "one star differs from another," and yet all the stars and all the property serve their purposes. The man who puts his money in Securities issued on property already taxed and paying more taxes because of the improvements justified by the man's money, is just as useful a citizen as the man who puts his money in lands and houses; but when the first man objects to giving up the greater part of the earnings on his securities, issued on property already taxed, he is looked upon as a tax dodger, and the man with the houses and lands who cannot so readily escape denounces a tax system which seems so unfair. Ask this man to surrender a half to three-fourths of the income from his houses and lands and there would be another tale. The revenue of the first man is limited, while that of the other is unlimited, and yet there are people who cannot see the distinction. Equitable taxation is based on the earning power of all property, in just proportion, and if any partiality is shown it should be in favor of the man who risks his money to improve houses and lands owned by others, which may depreciate, but cannot fly away.

TAX AMENDMENT.

The Tax Amendment was carried by thirty thousand majority two years ago, but because the Secretary of State failed to advertise it ninety instead of sixty days before the election, as the Constitution requires, it must be voted on again at the November Election. The welfare of the State demands the re-adoption of this important measure and every fair-minded citizen should vote for it.

KENTUCKY NEEDS

A good many things to place the State in the rank she deserves in the march of prosperity, but when sifted down the greatest need of all is a new Tax System that will attract instead of repel Capital, which guarantees cheap money for the improvement of farms and development of local industries. Although one of the oldest States, centrally located and with marvelous natural advantages, other and less favored States have outstripped us, and, as someone has aptly said, "Kentucky is an Island of comparative poverty surrounded by a Sea of industrial prosperity." And why? The answer is because of our repellent Tax System. Equitable taxation means cheap money. Easy money means improvement and development. Industrial enterprise keeps the people at home and increases the population. More people means more consumers of our home products. Close markets means good prices, and all of this has been retarded because some wise acres borrowed a so-called Unit

Tax Law from another State which had been striving to get rid of it for forty years and which shows that an intolerant politician may not always be a tolerable patriot, or Kentucky would not have been throttled in the way she has been.

DON'T FAIL TO VOTE FOR THE TAX AMENDMENT

"I Don't Feel Good"
That is what a lot of people tell us. Usually their bowels only need cleansing.
Rexall Orderlies
Will do the trick and make you feel fine. We know this positively. Take one tonight. Sold only by us, 10 cents.
Paul Drug Co.

Rugby.

T. J. Rosson had a severe chill caused by blood and corruption in his body last Wednesday night and is in a critical condition.

Automobiles pass here very often now.

The schools at this place are progressing nicely with good attendance.

Elroy Rupe, of Randolph, Ky., has moved into our neighborhood. We welcome him into our midst.

The meeting at this place closed last Tuesday night with three conversions and the neighborhood greatly revived. There were nine additions to the church. They were baptized at this place Wednesday morning by their pastor, Rev. Pardue. There was a large crowd present.

Molasses making is the order of the day here.

We are having lots of rain here now.

Rexall
Dyspepsia Tablets
Will Relieve Your Indigestion
Paul Drug Co.

Dirigo.

Rev. H. T. Jessee preached an excellent sermon at this place last Sunday.

H. M. Campbell has returned from an extended visit to Illinois.

A fine milch cow belonging to R. G. Murphy died last week. It is thought that she ate buck-eyes.

R. L. Campbell was at the Cumberland circuit court several days last week.

Every body in this section are overjoyed to know that our school took first prize at the School Rally last Friday, and there is not a patron in the district who is not proud of our excellent teachers, and all of the patrons would be glad to know that Mr. Strange and Miss Epperson could be secured as teachers for this school next year. For we are certainly having one of the best schools ever taught at old Independence.

Lucky Accidents.

How to make starch from corn meal was discovered accidentally by Thomas Kingsford, a mechanic. One day he threw a mess of corn meal into a garbage pail. His wife emptied some lye into the same pail, and in the morning when he emptied the pail he was astonished to find a small quantity of starch at the bottom.

Thomas Bolsover, a Sheffield mechanic, was mending the handle of a knife made of copper and silver. He saw these metals fuse together, and the idea of silver plating was born in his mind. He laid a thin plate of silver on a heavier one of copper, and heated them till the edge of silver began to melt.

He took them from the fire, let them cool slightly, then rolled and hammered them to the desired thickness. This was the origin of "Sheffield plate," all of the which was made in this way until electroplating was invented.

Cornelius Dubbel left a bottle of aqua regia (a mixture of nitric and muriatic acids) on a shelf. It fell over; the acid ran down over a window and dropped into a bottle containing an extract of cochineal. This turned to a vivid scarlet. Dubbel found that the acid had dissolved some of the tin of the window casing, and the combination had produced the new color. A few experiments added the most brilliant color to the list of dyes.

People Ask Us
What is the best laxative? Years of experience in selling all kinds leads us to always recommend
Rexall Orderlies
as the safest, surest and most satisfactory. Sold only by us, 10 cents.
Paul Drug Co.

Out of the Ordinary.

A skunk strolled into the First Presbyterian church of Cambridge, O., the other night during choir practice. The meeting was broken up when Thomas M. Lloyd, a prominent merchant, kicked the animal. The auditorium has been renovated.

To please the dying woman, two little parrakeets were officially put to death on Staten Island, N. Y., the other day by the S. P. C. A., and buried with their mistress. When Mrs. William Furst, after a long illness, was near death, she asked her husband to have the birds buried with her, because she was afraid the pets would not receive proper care after death.

More than 1,100 sheep are dead within a radius of three miles from Boyd, Wash., as the result of eating the white camas weed. Crazy by the weed, part of the sheep ran wild through the town until they died in convulsions, while hundreds plunged into the Kittle river and were drowned.

Read Our Liberal Paper Offers