

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mailable matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.

Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, JULY 14, 1883.

Please bear in mind that the blue pencil mark X on your paper indicates that the time for which you have paid has expired and you are requested to call around and settle.

Want to buy any blackberries?

Blackberries are ripe, and are already in the market in abundance.

Mr. Thos. B. Ford is remodeling and modernizing his residence on the corner of Washington and Broadway.

Miss Bettie Brooke Conway, niece of Mrs. Dr. Wm. Morris, of this county, and a young lady who has many friends in this section, died at her home in Owensboro on the 7th inst.

Col. Dave Moore, of this county, is said to be the best man in this section in a calf trade. He can buy finer ones for less money than anyone else, and as a judge of those animals he can't be beat. It would pay some of our cattle dealers to interview him on the subject.

The parties who took the trouble to go into the engine house of Messrs. Jones & Hudson, on Friday night of last week, and unscrew all the taps and bolts of the engine are notified that they are known, and that the next time such a joke will be rather expensive to them.

A German carp eighteen inches long was found in a small pool in a branch on the premises of the Feeble-Minded Institute, one day the first of the week. It was washed out of the pond a short distance off by high water. There was barely water enough in the pool to cover it, but it seemed to be getting along all right.

The latest thing out is the sunshade hat at Harris & Herrmann's. It is made on the order of a ladies parasol, and has a light frame work attached to a band which rests on the head so that the air can pass all around under it and keep the head perfectly cool as well as shade the face. It is just the thing for fishermen. Call and see it.

Mr. Joe LeCompte opened his bottle of pills, about which there has been so much guessing, Tuesday morning, and counted the number contained in it, when it was found that there were 1,572 pills. Mrs. John Will Johnson took the bottle of cologne offered as a prize to the lady guessing the nearest the number, her guess being 1,560, and Officer P. F. Smith got the knife offered to the gentleman coming the nearest to it, he having guessed 1,585. Five hundred and thirty-one gentlemen and about two hundred ladies made guesses, and they ranged from 300 to 13,679.

We are informed by the assessor who listed the school children within the city limits this year, that there are in this city from 200 to 250 indigent white children who stay out of the schools for the reason that their parents cannot afford to buy books for them, and it is fair to presume that there are more colored children than white who do not attend school for the same reason. In every other city there is a fund provided by the city to supply books to such children, and it seems to us that our own City Council could not do better than set apart $3.00 or $4.00 for that purpose every year. It is a want that will have to be provided for in time, and the sooner the better.

Sunday afternoon about five o'clock, Squire Henderson, colored, who was under the influence of liquor, went into the establishment of Mr. Dan. Meagher, on Ann street, and wanted whiskey, which Mr. Meagher refused to give him, and put him off in the back yard, telling him to stay there and sober up. In a few minutes after Henderson took out his pistol and began firing through the back door at Mr. Meagher, it is supposed, as he was in range, and fired two shots, one striking the door and the other going into the ceiling. Bob Green, a colored employe of Mr. Meagher, returned the fire, striking Henderson in the left shoulder, and inflicting a painful wound. Henderson then made a dash for the door and as he came in Mr. Joe Lambert, who was standing close to it, caught him, wrenched the pistol out of his hand and knocked him down. As soon as he could regain his feet he retreated to the back yard and remained until arrested by Officer Stephens and lodged in jail.
