David Craig was here Monday. Several cars of coopers' stuff are being loaded here this week. Jack Teazer of Tollesboro came down Monday with a drove of sheep. Dr. W. H. Outen of Plumville was mixing with friends here Tuesday. Some of our religious people are attending the debate at Augusta this week. There is some talk of a flour-mill being erected here in the early future. Miss Tiptie Jenkins, a bright little lass, is stopping at the Lookout this week. There will be an entertainment at the school building on the 21st of this month. There was a big charivari here Monday night. The boys all behaved nicely. Mr. Neal of Vanceburg is in town, taking views of some of our nice residences. Both the City of Ferry and the Little Bay took stock and passengers here Monday. John Hanna of Needmore was here the first of the week, looking after some fat stock. Ed. O'Brien, our night operator, has gone and a new man, whose name we have not yet learned, has taken charge. In the redistricting and late gerrymandering of Mason county, it is now thought that Plumville will be a Republican stronghold.

WHY HE'S A REPUBLICAN.

Some Excellent Reasons for Leaving the Democratic Camp.

C. A. D. Lynch, proprietor of the Kokomo (Ind.) Boiler Works, has thrown off the mantle of Democracy and crossed over into the Republican camp. Mr. Lynch is an intelligent Scotchman, and has been engaged in the manufacturing business since he came to America in 1870. Of his conversion he has the following to say:

"I have several reasons for this course. In the first place, I have always believed in the principle of protection and that is why I am compelled to be a Republican. Since the recent declaration of the Democratic party at Chicago, no man who believes in the protection of home manufacturers, home capital or home labor can be a Democrat.

"I am disgusted with Democratic papers on the tin plate business. They say tin plate cannot be made in this country. They used to say that steel plate, steel rails and a thousand other things could not be made here, but they were mistaken then, and they are just as badly mistaken now.

"We can make anything in this country that can be made in Europe—except Kings and Queens, and the Lord knows, we don't want them. It is an insult to the intelligence of the American mechanic to say that the ignorant, poorly paid laborer of the old country is more skillful than he is. Under Protection, America has long since passed all countries of the world in manufacturing and our wages are better. Protection shows for itself."

AGNES UNDERWOOD, arrested on the charge of murdering Milford Brown of Catlettsburg has been bound over to the Circuit Court in a bond of $1,000.

CHARLES JOHNSON of Columbia was found guilty of mail robbery in the United States Court at Louisville. He was a mail carrier between Campbellsville and Columbia.

THE base ball magnates at their meeting in New York, decided to continue the twelve club circuit next season. Louisville's club is one of those that did not draw well this year.

W. T. ROLPH, manager of the Louisville office of R. G. Dun & Co., has compiled the statistics of the failures in Kentucky and that part of Indiana tributary to the Louisville office for the first three quarters of 1892. The comparison with the figures for the same period of last year is most encouraging. The failures for 1892 are 124 in number with liabilities $1,383,489, against 195 for 1891 with liabilities of $4,201,313. The number is seventy-one less, and the liabilities are $2,817,824 less.

"I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says George C. Bankston of Mill Creek, Ill. It is the best medicine I have ever used for diarrhoea. One dose will cure any ordinary case." For sale by Power & Reynolds, Druggists.

REVOLVER IN A FLOWER POT.

What the Warden of a Pennsylvania Penitentiary Found in a Present. "Do you know," said a gentleman who is thoroughly acquainted with the Eastern penitentiary to a Philadelphia Telegraph man, "that there are fifty prisoners at Cherry Hill who would commit murder upon the slightest or even upon no provocation whatever? Why, the overseers daily go about the institution with their lives in their hands. Let me give you an illustration of the care that has to be taken. The warden and those about him have to be constantly on the alert. About the time of the last chrysanthemum show in this city a number of chrysanthemums were sent out to the penitentiary to the prisoners. There was one that was remarkably fine, and I was asked to go upstairs to see it. While looking at it the warden said: 'Let us first make an examination.' Then he began removing the earth. Down, down into the pot he proceeded, talking out the earth until he reached the bottom. There he discovered a small revolver. Next he discovered a box of cartridges. Now, the sequel to this was that two men were sentenced to the penitentiary together. One received a shorter sentence than the other. On making an investigation with reference to the plant it was found where it was sent from, and then it was learned that the prisoner who had the shorter term lived in that neighborhood. He had sent it. It had been made up by them that when the latter got out he was to send him the revolver."

"Well, he didn't get it," remarked the reporter.

"No," said the gentleman, "he didn't get it. Everything sent to prisoners has to be first examined before being given to them. It is necessary that such precautions should be taken. If after that there are no objections the articles are given them."

No one is better acquainted with the institution and its management than the gentleman whose narration of the incident has here been given. He stated it was often a marvel to him how things got along so well in the institution. He regarded the overseers as being exposed to more danger than the policemen. The latter, he says, occasionally come in contact with a burglar and assassin, but the former is obliged to be where a large number of such murderous characters are congregated.
