NEW RULES GOVERNING THE PRIMARY ELECTION

Would Be Well For Voters and Election Officers To Take Heed.

Some important changes in the primary election law of the State were made by the last Legislature, and all persons of all political parties desiring to vote in the coming primary the first of August should read them. Section 19 of the Primary Election Law, acts of 1914, under the heading of "Qualifications of Electors," reads as follows:

Before a person shall be qualified to vote in the primary election hereinafter provided for, he shall possess all the qualifications now prescribed by the Constitution and as are now required of voters in regular elections. Except that in the case of women electors the qualifications shall be as prescribed in Chapter 47 of the Acts of the General Assembly of 1912. He shall, in addition to said qualifications, be a member of the party for whose nominees he intends to cast his vote, and shall have affiliated with said party and supported its nominees, and no person shall be deemed to have affiliated with the party in whose primary he seeks to cast his vote, if he voted against the nominee or nominees of such party at the last general election. Said qualifications shall be determined as of the date of the primary, without regard to the qualifications or disqualifications as they may exist at the succeeding regular election.

In order to determine in case of doubt any of the qualifications above mentioned, the judge of the election shall have power to and he shall swear any person offering himself to vote as to any of said qualifications, and when so sworn the judge shall direct the clerk to, and the clerk shall, write upon the primary stub bearing the voter's name, the words, "sworn as to qualifications." And any voter making a false statement as to any of his qualifications shall be liable to indictment and conviction for false swearing.

Any judge of an election knowingly receiving a vote of any elector who is not qualified as provided in this Act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, shall be fined one hundred dollars for each offense; and any person so voting, knowing that he is not qualified as provided in this Act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined one hundred dollars for each offense.

DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE HITS CITY OF HENDERSON

Henderson, Ky., July 16.—The business section of Henderson was swept by a cyclone at 6 o'clock this evening, killing two, doing damage that will run close to $150,000, putting the city in complete darkness and practically wrecking both telephone systems.

The storm broke with great fury from the South, catching a number of people on the streets, who had narrow escapes from serious injuries from flying signs and boards from roofs and buildings.

The dead: Mrs. William Sewell, Bonnie Prior, aged fourteen. Mrs. Sewell was the wife of a prominent contractor. A three-story brick building was blown over on her residence, and she and her nephew were caught under the ruins. Father Lynch, a Catholic priest, crawled under the ruins and administered the last rites to Mrs. Sewell and her nephew.

Among the injured was David Banks, cashier of the Union Bank and Trust Company, who was riding a horse at the time of the storm. He was thrown on the pavement and sustained a scalp wound and fractured ribs.

Mrs. R. G. Whittedge was injured when a tree fell on her.

Accidental Hanging.

The Owensboro Inquirer of Monday says: A gruesome death snuffed out the life of Miss Mary Clary, the 17-year-old daughter of W. M. (Shug) Clary, who resides about eight miles southwest of Owensboro, when the girl accidentally got her head caught and fastened in an opening over the barn door and slipped, causing herself to be hanged. Exactly how or when the horrible accident occurred is not known to anyone, for the girl at the time was at the barn alone, having gone there with her father who returned to the house for some purpose and left her by herself.

The young lady was weak-minded and was being temporarily housed in the barn.

STARVED LITTLE SON TO DEATH, SHE ADMITS

Philadelphia, July 18.—A woman who declared that she had deliberately starved her 4-year-old son to death four years ago, walked into city hall here and asked to be arrested, saying that her conscience had so troubled her that she was unable to stand the strain any longer and wished to be punished for her act.

She said that she was Mrs. Azalea James, of Bala, Pa., and that she was 29 years old. In November, four years ago, she said, she was living in Bala with her husband when their 4-year-old son became ill. A doctor was summoned, she continued, and prescribed three different kinds of medicine for the child, giving instructions as to what he should be fed. Instead of obtaining the medicine, the woman said she ignored the physician's advice and gave the boy neither food, drink nor medicine. He suffered terribly for a week, the woman said, losing weight until he became almost a shadow. On the following Sunday he died of starvation.

A PETITION FILED FOR LOCAL OPTION ELECTION

In Owensboro and Daviess County—Election Set For September 21.

The Owensboro Messenger of Sunday says:

A petition will be filed in county court on Monday morning, asking for the calling of a local option election in Daviess county for the purpose of giving the voters an opportunity of voting on whether or not vinous, spirituous or malt liquors shall be sold in Owensboro and Daviess county. The petition will ask for the calling of the election for September 21.

It is required that twenty-five per cent of the voters in the last regular election sign a petition for the calling of an election. At the November election, 1913, 5,805 votes in all were cast. In the Presidential election in 1912, a year previous, 7,800 votes were cast in the county. It was stated on Saturday that 1,452 names are required to be signed to the petition asking for the calling of the election. It is claimed that already the petition has 3,300 names signed to it, and that the prohibition leaders hope to have 3,500 names by Monday morning.

After the petition has been filed it will lay over until the next term of county court in August, when final action will be taken by County Judge Lancaster.

OLATON.

July 20.—The long drouth was broken last Thursday and Thursday night with a very hard rain—not a gully-washer, but a ground-soaker which was badly needed. The rain came too late to save some of the early corn, but has done late corn and potatoes a lot of good. With another rain or two there will be plenty of corn raised in this vicinity to supply all needs and some to spare.

Rev. Vanhook filed his regular appointment here Sunday night. While he was in the pulpit preaching there were some parties out near the church trying their guns. I suppose they were trying to see which one could make the loudest report. If there is any place in Ohio county that an officer is needed it is certainly at Olaton.

Jeff Johnson and family, George Canan and family and Carson Duncan and family went to N. T. Boswell's last Saturday when the married their luck fishing in old Caney creek. They report a good catch of the finny tribe.

Jake Oller, of Grayson county, has rented the old water mill here and takes possession at once. He has plenty of water to grind with now.

Chester Lyons and family went to Louisville last week.

E. M. Hoover went to Owensboro Thursday to buy goods for his store.

Ford brothers have set up a saw-mill here. "Quite a lot of logs are on the ground to be cut into lumber. This gives us three mills at this place—steam flouring mill, saw-mill and the water mill. Olaton is on a boom, don't you think?"

The primary election seems to be very quiet. Don't hear any talk about it here.

They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers. (Advertisement.)
