Raleigh's Great Work.
H. G. Wells wasn't the first to write the world history of his own conception.
Mr. Walter Raleigh antedated him by several hundred years. Raleigh's
"History of the World" was a voluminous and painstaking work, showing evidences of profound scholarship and research. It was composed while he was a prisoner in the Tower of London, and it was one of the marvels of the time that a man, under such circumstances, and so far removed from sources of research, could have been able to undertake and carry through such a task.

Argentina Not a Paradise.
The distribution of rain seems to be poorly managed in the Argentine if the country is not suffering from drought, it is apt to be complaining of floods, or, in the warmer and more fertile north, of the locusts, which sometimes sweep from the wilderness of the Chaco in such clouds that the project has seriously been considered of erecting an enormous net, supported, perhaps, by balloons, against them.—Harry A. Franck in Century Magazine.

Do You Know Kapor?
The Borneo camphorwood or kaper has a pronounced camphor odor when fresh, says the American Forestry Magazine. It belongs to the Dipterocarp family, nearly all of the trees of which are resinous.

TANLAC PROVED
GLAD SURPRISE

Mrs. Worley Says It Has Entirely Restored Her Health and She Feels Like New Woman

"I have spent hundreds of dollars in all kinds of medicines trying to get relief, but it was only when I got Tanlac that my troubles disappeared," said Mrs. A. Worley, of 111 Fifteenth street, Ashland, Ky.

"I had no appetite and my stomach was in such a bad condition that gas would form, causing a terrible depression around my heart and almost shutting off my breath. I would become so nauseated that I could scarcely retain the little I did eat, and at times I had such awful headaches and dizzy spells I could hardly see.
My kidneys bothered me a great deal and my back pained me so I couldn't bend over without suffering agony.
I was almost a nervous wreck and at night sleep was almost impossible.

"Tanlac has certainly proved a glad surprise to me for it has taken only two bottles to overcome all my troubles. My appetite is wonderful and I never feel a sign of indigestion or gas, my breathing is free and easy and I no longer have those dizzy spells. My kidneys don't bother me any more and my back is entirely free from pain. My nerves are in such good condition that I don't wake up during the night, and I am much better in every way. I simply feel like a new person." (adv)

PARIS PEOPLE FIGURE IN WINCHESTER HISTORY

The tearing away of the old building on Fairfax street, in Winchester, now called Lexington avenue, to be replaced by the new County High school building, recalls some very interesting facts in the early history of that city. The property was built about 105 years ago, and was formerly the home of Hon. Samuel Hanson, who reared his family there, and was modelled in exterior design after the first Clark County Court House.

After the death of Samuel Hanson in 1856, the executor sold the place in 1860, to the late Thornton Lewis, who resided there until his death, and his widow sold it to Major M. F. Lowe and wife, the latter being a sister of Gen. John S. Williams, (the political rival of the Hansons.) Mrs. Lowe left it to her niece, Mrs. Fannie Bean, who owned and occupied it until it was sold to the County High School last year.

Mr. Hanson had five sons. The eldest, Richard H. Hanson, was a noted lawyer, and because of a crippled limb was unfitted for army service. He afterwards moved to Paris, and represented Bourbon county in the Legislature.

Of the four sons, two served in the Federal and two in the Confederate army.

Roger W. Hanson was a noted Clark county lawyer. He served as a lieutenant under General (then Captain) John Stuart Williams, whose company won the heights in the battle of Cerro Gordo, in the Mexican War. He later made the race against Gen. Williams for the Legislature from Clark County, and was defeated.

At the beginning of the Civil War, he made the race for Congress, but was defeated. He entered the Confederate army and became a Brigadier General, and met his death at Stone River.

Col. Chas. S. Hanson was a Federal Colonel and participated in many famous battles, the last being at Saltville, Va., where he commanded the Federal troops, which were ordered by General Burbridge to charge the Confederate troops under General John S. Williams in the trenches on the heights. The charge met with a bloody repulse, and Colonel Hanson fell from his horse seriously wounded when near the breast-works.

Recognizing him, Gen. Williams with his aides and colored body servant, "Rebel" John Williams, who died recently, leaped over the parapets and took Col. Hanson to his own tent, and had him attended by his own surgeon.

Col. Hanson partially recovered, and afterwards practiced law in Winchester. He married Miss Wheeler, of Clark county, and later moved to Paris.

The two younger sons, Samuel and Ike fought on opposite sides during the civil war.

Nothing Known of Its Value.

Cleopatra had a warranted preventive of baldness, or a sure cure. Possibly she intended to employ it to wheedle Caesar or buy off rebellious Pothumus. Perhaps she planned to present it to Antony as a surprise at Tarsus. Possibly she held up the gift in a mode of feminine sleekness, and had it in her reticule at Actium, and through the power of that talkative crew Antony after her in frenzied pursuit, and in ignominious retreat. There is nothing in the discoveries of Egyptologists to warrant belief that Cleopatra's hair restorer had any actual value.—Exchange.

More Light on the Adam Family.

Referring to the recent statement of a scientist that the Garden of Eden was located in Ohio, we are reminded of the Scotch laird who told a famous singer that Gaelic was the language of Adam. The singer afterward spoke laughingly of the claim to another Scotchman, who remarked in all seriousness, "The laird was quite right. Dinna ye ken that the Garden of Eden was in Scotland? Dinna ye ken that Adam's name was McPherson?"—Boston Transcript.

Washington's Religion.

There has been considerable controversy over the extent to which religious belief entered into Washington's character. His own chronicles show that most of his Sundays, except during the presidency, when he felt obliged to set an example, he spent in answering letters, going over his accounts, hunting or doing any business that those with whom he was negotiating had no scruples. In choosing people to work for him he set up no barriers of creed, judging men from the standpoint of honesty, industry and ability.

Her Description.

A bright ten-year-old girl, whose father was addicted to amateur photography, attended a trial at court the other day for the first time. This was her account of the judge's charge: "The judge made a long speech to the jury of 12 men, and then sent them off into a little dark room to develop."

Oil in North America

Oil was known to the Indians and used by them for medicinal purposes. It was first obtained from the surface of creeks and as a product of salt wells. Edwin L. Drake drilled the first oil well in the United States in August, 1859, near Oil City, Pa. The first discovery of oil in Canada was made in 1857 near Petrolia, Ont.

Smells Like Onion.

The kula of the Philippines and Malay Peninsula gives forth a strong aroma of onions, says the American Forestry Magazine, while the peculiar smell of French flint, properly known as garlic wood.

It Will Grow.
Democracy can never be extended by force, as you would fling a net over a flock of birds; but give it a chance and it will grow, as a tree grows, by sending down its roots into the heart of humanity and lifting its top toward the light and spreading its arms wider and wider until all the persecuted flocks of heaven find refuge beneath its protecting shade.—Henry Van Dyke.

Adding to the Dictionary.
New words appear now and then. The old-time real estate agent is now a "realtor," and the one-time undertaker is a "mortician." The other day a hobo came into get a dime and said he was a leisurist. And so it goes.
