Miss Maude Barnett, principal of Sayre College in Lexington, who was toastmistress at the Alumnae banquet given at the Millersburg College Saturday, returned to Lexington yesterday. In the Centenary Drive at the Methodist church Sunday for the purpose of raising funds for the missionary movement, the sum of $5,000 was raised. The solicitors have yet to see a large number of the congregation. Mrs. C. H. Carrington left Saturday for Camp Taylor, Louisville, to join her husband, Mr. C. H. Carrington, who will be mustered out of service in a few days. Mr. Carrington landed in New York from France about a week ago. The W. C. T. U. District Convention will convene in Millersburg on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 27 and 28. A brilliant program will be the order of the occasion. Hon. George W. Bain, of Lexington, will deliver an address on the evening of the 28th. The Centenerian drive of the Methodist church, was made Sunday. A large sum was realized. The captains, conducting the drive were as follows: First, Mr. A. S. Best; second, Mr. J. H. Stewart; third, Mr. M. E. Pruitt; fourth, Mrs. A. S. Best; fifth, Mrs. Allie H. Miller. Each of these captains had a number of workers under them. See our splendid assortment of coffee. Prices are right. R. M. CALDWELL. The commencement exercises of the M. M. I. opened Thursday morning at 9:00 o'clock, with the annual competitive drill at 8:00 a. m. The Cadets met the band at the train, going in parade from the depot to the college grounds. The day was beautiful, the crowd fully up to the average, and all the exercises of the morning compared favorably with former years. The medal in the manual-arms was won by Cadet Carey, of Lexington, and Company A carries the flag next year, winning over Company B. In the afternoon at 2:30 was an interesting ball game between the M. M. I. and old Cadets. Another large crowd was in attendance, the score standing 15 to 8 in favor of M. M. I. at the close of the game. Owing to the Cadets having been quarantined on account of the "flu" conditions, until last few weeks, they have played no games this season, except among themselves. From their brilliant playing Thursday afternoon they demonstrated the fact that they have a good team, and had they had an opportunity might have won many laurels for themselves with all of our surrounding teams. At 8:15 p. m., Thursday, the M. M. I. Cadets put on a minstrel at the Drill Hall. They were greeted with another large audience. The cast was large and well-staged, and in their solos and choruses were the recipients of many encores. Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. a large audience assembled at M. M. I. Auditorium to be present at the commencement exercises. At the appointed time the class of 1919, fourteen in number, headed by Col. Best, marched into the hall, taking their places on the stage. After the splendid musical program, a brilliant address was delivered by Dr. Fortune, of Transylvania University, of Lexington. The address was in keeping with the times and the occasion. It was both powerful and simple. It was one that everyone could carry home, and was certainly calculated to inspire all ambitious young men. At the close of the address Col. Best, in an appropriate address, awarded the diplomas. Class honors were won by Cadet Yates, of Virginia, while the highest average of the school during the year was won by Cadet Van Meter, of Winchester, after which the officers for the coming year were announced. At 11:30 a furlough to the M. M. I. Cadets was granted until September 10, most of the Cadets leaving for their respective homes in the afternoon and evening, the remainder Saturday morning. The commencement exercises of the M. C. opened at 8:15 p. m. Friday with a brilliant recital in the M. C. Auditorium by the advanced pupils in music. Notwithstanding the threatening weather a large audience was in attendance. The exercises were good. The young ladies were at their best. A laughable farce, entitled, "The Broken Engagement," opened the exercises and made a most pleasing beginning, and was followed by a number of good vocal selections, solos and choruses, and also pantomime work. Saturday at 10:30 a. m. the biennial meeting of the M. F. C. and M. C. was held at the M. C. Auditorium. Quite a number of the Alumni were present from all the surrounding towns, and a few from other States. The address was delivered by Rev. W. E. Ellis, of the Paris Christian church. At noon a delightful banquet was served in the college dining room, at which a number of toasts were responded to, and in the afternoon an informal reception was held in the library and parlors of the college. At 8:15 p. m. Saturday another large audience assembled in the M. C. auditorium, at which time the young ladies of the college put on a two-act play, entitled "The American Girl," which was good and well rendered. The work was also largely made up of solos and choruses, and everyone went home well pleased. Sunday at 10:45 a. m. the Methodist church was filled to overflowing, at which time the Baccalaureate sermon was preached by Dr. H. C. Morrison, of Asbury College. Preceding the sermon was a good and well-selected musical program. Dr. Morrison did not come to us as a stranger, therefore we knew what to expect, but he gave most of us more than we expected. He took for his text, "What Doth It Profit A Man If He Gained the Whole World and Lost His Own Soul." Many believed that they were going to listen to an evangelical sermon, but this, however, was not true. He launched out into the problems of to-day, and his sermon was one that will always be remembered by those who heard him. See next issue for a continuation of commencement exercises.

INSURANCE. Fire, Tornado, Lightning, Automobile and Mail. YERKES & PEED. (Jan 14-1f) STOCK, CROP, ETC. Mr. Walter S. Meng returned Saturday night from Greentown, Ind., where he had been attending a public sale of Duroc Jersey hogs. Mr. Meng purchased at the sale a yearling Duroc boar, a running mate to O. C. K.'s Lad, at a fancy price. BIRTHS. At Lair, in Harrison county, to the wife of Mr. Stanley Richards, of Paris, a son. YANKEE MINSTRELS TO-DAY The Yankee Minstrels, composed of returned soldiers, most of whom were headliners on the high-class vaudeville circuits before the war, will be in Paris to-day for one performance. The company will appear under a tent, pitched on the Wilson lot, on Winchester street, near the Louisville & Nashville passenger depot. They come very highly recommended. A street parade will be given this morning and an open air concert tonight by the 87th Infantry Regimental Band accompanying them.

DEATHS.

KING. The funeral of Mrs. David King, aged twenty-five, who died of pulmonary tuberculosis at her home near Jacksonville, was held at the Silas Church, Friday afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. John B. Jones. The interment followed in the Jacksonville Cemetery. Mrs. King was formerly Miss Snapp, of near Paris. BURNS. While preparing for church Sunday morning while visiting relatives in Georgetown, Mrs. Mary Deignan Burns, aged sixty-five, of near Centerville, was stricken with heart trouble and died in a short time after being carried to an adjoining house. Mrs. Burns had accompanied relatives to the church to attend early mass. Just as she entered the church door she fainted, and was carried to the rectory adjoining. Physicians were summoned and restoratives were applied, but to no avail, death ensuing in a short time. Mrs. Burns was the widow of Thos. Burns, a prominent farmer of the Centerville neighborhood. She was a native of Ireland, where she was born sixty-five years ago, emigrating to America when quite a young woman. She is survived by two daughters, Misses Anna and Catherine Burns; four sons, William, George, John and Thos. Burns; three sisters, Misses Katie and Lizzie Deignan, and Mrs. Frank Hillner, of New York; and three brothers, George, John and Bernard Deignan, of Fayette county. One daughter, a nun, at Nazareth Academy, recently died. The body was taken to the family home. The funeral will take place at nine o'clock this morning at the Catholic church in this city, with services conducted by Rev. Eugene DeBruyn. The interment will follow in the Paris Cemetery. The pallbearers will be John Welch, James Welch, D. Frederickson, M. J. Lavin, Ed Burke and Dennis Furlong. MATRIMONIAL. A marriage license was issued from the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton to William Parker, 40, and Mrs. Sarah Shea, 32, both of Millersburg. A marriage license was issued yesterday from the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton to a colored couple from the city, with the notation, "Please Don't Publish." Pearce says the limit has been reached. AZZOLI—HOWARD. Paris relatives have received information of the marriage in Brooklyn, New York, last week, of Mr. McVey Howard, of the United States Marine Corps, and Miss Lina Azzoli, of Brooklyn. Mr. Howard has been a member of the Marine Corps for over a year, and it was while in the service that the romance began. He is a son of Mr. Wm. Howard, Sr., of Richmond, and a brother of Mr. Logan Howard, of Paris, and Mrs. Taylor Chandler, of Covington, and Mrs. Brutus Clay, of near Paris. ADAMS—CLAY. Mr. Douglas Clay, of Paris, and Miss Jane Adams, of Frankfort, were married in Shelbyville Friday leaving shortly after for a trip to Louisville. The information of the marriage came in a telegram from Mr. Clay, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Clay, of East Paris, which stated, briefly: "Jane and I were married to-day. Will be home soon." Mr. Jos. W. Davis, Jr., of Paris, was an attendant. News of the wedding of these popular young people came as a surprise, although it was an open secret that they had been lovers for many months. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Adams, of Frankfort, and is a very handsome and attractive young woman. She has frequently visited in Paris, and has a host of friends here who will give her a royal welcome as Mrs. Douglas Clay. The bridegroom, who has recently returned from overseas, where he went as a member of the Barrow Hospital Unit, is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Clay, and is a social favorite in Paris and vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Clay, will, for the present, make their home with Mr. Clay's parents, in East Paris.

MILLERSBURG TEACHER GOES INTO NEW WORK.

Miss Folsom McGuire, formerly a teacher in the Paris City School, and at present principal of the Millersburg Graded School, will not be an applicant for that position when the election of teachers take place. Instead she has accepted a position with the University of West Virginia in the Extension Department with headquarters in Parkersburg, W. Va. She is a graduate of Kentucky University. Miss McGuire has a number of friends in Paris who will be pleased to learn of her appointment to such an important position. Her home is in Lexington. Her salary will be $2,000, it is said.

TAKE EXAMINATIONS.

Six young women, Misses Nora Hudson, Julia Calnan, Jane Leach, Grace Kiser, Allie McCord and Mrs. J. A. Bowles, have successfully finished the examination for certificates for teaching in the county schools. The examinations were conducted before County Superintendent of Schools J. B. Caywood, and County School Supervisor, Miss Nannie Clay. Examinations in the course in agriculture for all teachers of the county schools were held Saturday afternoon under a new law now in effect. No person will be allowed to teach in the county schools of the State until he or she has qualified as a teachers of agricultural subjects.

RELIGIOUS.

William Kennedy Evans, the eldest grandson of Mrs. William Tarr, united with the North Middletown Christian church Sunday. "As in everything else, our county has gone over the top." This was the substance of a telegram sent Sunday by the officers of the Paris Methodist church to Mr. W. W. Ball, at Maysville, regarding the Paris church's participation in the Centenary Drive for funds to be used in missionary work. Bourbon's quota had been placed at $11,000. When the tellers finished their count they found the congregation had oversubscribed the quota by $3,600. A telegram indicating the oversubscription, was sent to Mr. Ball, who replied, "The Paris church has won the honor flag of the Kentucky Conference." MONEY RIGHT IN YOUR HAND FOR EGGS, POULTRY AND JUNK. Highest cash price for eggs, poultry, hides and junk. MUNICH & WIDES CO. (11-ft) Eighth Street, Paris, Ky. THOMAS S. RHEA QUILTS RACE FOR GOVERNOR. Thomas S. Rhea issued a statement Friday announcing his withdrawal from the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor. He denies he was forced out and says he retired of his own will and against the protests of his supporters.

GEORGETOWN MAN WINS COLLEGE ORATORICAL CONTEST

First honors in the thirty-second annual collegiate oratorical contest, held this year at Georgetown, was captured by a Georgetown College man, C. V. Mullins, whose subject was "The Verdict of the Hour." M. C. Redwine, of University of Kentucky, was second, with the subject, "A Disentangling Alliance." Other colleges represented were Berea College, by Boyd M. Collins, and Center College, by J. Lee Moore. Judges in the contest were: On composition and thought, Professor W. G. Caskey, Oberlin, O.; Professor V. A. Ketcham, Columbus, O., and Professor H. S. Woodward, Cleveland, O.; on delivery, H. C. V. Bell, Lawrenceburg, Ky.; ex-Lieutenant Governor Carter, Lawrenceburg, Ky., and Superintendent Lee Kirkpatrick, Paris, Ky. J. P. Barnes, of the University of Kentucky, was elected president of the association, and W. H. Peel, of the University of Kentucky, secretary and treasurer. The term of C. V. Mullins, present vice president, has not yet expired. EMBARGO LIFTED. According to information received at the local office of the Adams Express Company the embargo placed on certain express shipments to New York, put into effect about two weeks ago, has been removed. Accumulations of express consignments have been very heavy, and both outgoing and incoming shipments began to go out toward the end of the week, relieving the congestion.
