

The Central Record.

VOLUME IX.

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, OCTOBE, 28, 1898.

NUMBER 49

WEEKLY BY LOUIS LANDRAM.

TERMS: $2.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

The largest and most complete line of

Cooking and Heating Stoves

ever brought to Lancaster including a handsome and well-selected line of Air-tight Heaters.

Our prices can't be duplicated.

Also an elegant assortment of

Bear, Fur and Plush Robes

at Un-Heard-Of Prices.

J. R. Haselden,

HARDWARE STORE.

Col. W. G. Welch, W. L. Williams, Stanford, Lancaster.

WELCH & WILLIAMS

Attorneys at Law,

Lancaster Ky.

All business attended to promptly

BEAZLEY & BAUGHMAN,

FUNERAL DIRECTORS,

ARTERIAL and CAVITY EM-

BALMING a SPECIALTY.

Furniture, Carpets, &c.

Lancaster, Ky.

IN AND ABOUT LANCASTER.

Prettiest shoes at Joseph's. X
Fresh barrel sorghum at G. S. Gaines.
All-Wool Suits for $8.50. J. C. Hemp hill.
See J. B. Jennings' line of new Neck Wear. X
Will pay 12c for fresh eggs. H. B. Northcott. X
Fresh Timothy Seed for sale at T. Currey's, cheap. X
Call and see a beautiful line of Rugs at J. A. Beazley & Co.
Peaches, Grapes, Pears and Fancy apples at G. S. Gaines. X
The best two horse wagon on the market at G. S. Gaines'. X
A full stock of Chinese Sacred Lily Bulbs at J. C. Thompson's.
See Dr. A. D. Smith & Co., now at Mason Hotel until Nov. 1st 1898.
Large line of Dinner Sets and Chamber Sets, just received. G. S. Gaines.
A pretty girl in one of Joseph's pretty cloaks is a sight lovely to behold. X
I voted for free pikes you ought to vote for the bonds to pay for them.
Miss Sallie Tillett has bought half of Mr. Hookout's house for $65.
I would like to do your plain sewing and dyeing. Mrs. Ophelia Dunn.
Fresh Oysters received daily. Served and sold. O. F. Tillett, Lancaster Hotel.
For Sale.
Forty 600 lb. steers, 10 heifers. ep-30 T. M. and W. McC. Johnston.
A number of the young men of the town went chestnut hunting Sunday, they report a good time, but chestnuts were scarce.
Money.
To lend on real estate at 5 per cent; address W. S. Lowwill Attorney, Danville Ky. 11-18-98.
The merchants say Monday was the best Court Day they have had this year. There was a tremendous crowd in town.
During the past few days, the weather has been very cold, but Joseph still has a sufficiently large stock of cloaks to supply the ladies.

Rev. W. O. Goodloe preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday.
Colder weather is coming, so go to Joseph's and get a pair of blankets.
Rev. T. H. Campbell preached his farewell sermon at the Baptist church Sunday.
Some minister from Darville will fill the pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday.
All the latest Novelties in Woollens for men's wear now in, come and see them. X J. C. Hemphill.
The ladies of this section will have nothing but the latest styles in dress goods. That's why Joseph has such a complete stock.
Two more weddings booked for next month. One couple will marry in a church and the other will fool the old folks, but don't tell anybody.
First Snow.
The first snow of the season came down Wednesday. It melted as soon as it struck the wet, muddy earth.
The bond issue will throw some of the burden on the coming generation. They will enjoy the pikes, so let them help pay for them.
The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Batson this week and at that time will pack a box to be sent to the Orphan Home.
The ladies of the Methodist society gave a donation party Saturday evening at the home of Rev. Clark, on Stanford Ave.
Gov. Bradley appointed Mr. T. Currey, of this city, a member of the Pure Food Congress, which meets in Washington January 13.
Nothing catches the admiration of a man quicker than a pretty foot. Ladies, get your shoes from Joseph and you will be in the style.
The Lexington Herald says: "Mr. Cassey Owsley, the son of Judge Owsley, of Lancaster, expects to come to Lexington the first of January to settle here to practice law."
Handsome Team.
Mr. James A. Beazley purchased a team of beautiful dapple grey horses this week to use with his horse. This completes his outfit, which is one of the best in Kentucky.

IN MEMORIAM.

Sarah Adeline Walker was born at Lancaster, Ky., more than three-score and ten years ago, and died at Lexington, Ky. at noonday on October 23, 1898. Her father was William Walker, and her mother, Sarah W. Lapaley. The earlier years of her girlhood were spent in Tennessee. Upon the death of her parents, she returned to Lancaster, in May 1847, accompanied by her only sister, Miss Kate Walker, who was never separated from her till death severed the tie. In November 1848 she was married to William Jennings Landram, who had recently returned from the Mexican War, and who afterwards served in the Civil War, retiring with the rank of Brigadier-General, and dying at Lancaster, October 11, 1895. Of this union were born ten children: Martha, who died aged one month; Mary, now Mrs. Richard A. Burnside, of Lancaster; William Walker, who died in the prime of manhood; Addie, Mrs. William C. McFarland, U. S. A.; Sallie Logan, who died at the age of five years; Ella Bardet, Mrs. Woodford G. Dunn, of Lexington; Greenfield Ransom, who died aged one year; Katie, Mrs. Charles McGugin, of Howard, Indiana and Louis, the editor of the CENTRAL RECORD. Twelve grand-children also survive her.
Her remains were taken to Lancaster to be interred in the family lot at the cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. W. O. Goodloe, assisted by Eld. George Gowen and Rev. T. H. Campbell. The pall-bearers were V. H. Wherritt, W. H. Knaird, H. A. Marasbury, D. M. Lanckey, Dr. J. A. Grant and T. W. Reid.
Many offerings of rare and fragrant flowers attested the love and friendship of the survivors. Sacred words and tender songs were offered above her bier.
Mrs. Landram was early identified with the brave little city on the hillside and her ambitious, self-respecting citizenship. Here were born men who distinguished themselves in the army, the navy, the state, and the earned professions. Here the householders were accomplished in the duties and graces of domestic life, diligent factors in the probity and prosperity of a God-fearing community.
The deceased was strongly attached to her home, her husband and her children. To her church she brought the faith of the Huguenots that had been rooted and grounded in her heart by generations of ancestors. Her tastes were simple, and her manners unassuming. Her mind was stored with the best literature of her times, and to the last, the thoughts of great writers, and the acts of our national heroes elicited her attention. Though the vicissitudes of life had cast their shadow, yet there ever came at her call a keen sense of the humorous. Women and men a largely the product of environment. The wife and mother bound to the ever-revolving wheel of the domestic arena, and barred from the diverting avenues of the progressive woman of today, must needs possess an exhaustless fund of reserve forces to rightly balance the law of compensation.
An active brain, a sensitive spirit, and an all-absorbing demand upon her some circle for the reciprocity of a devoted nature, taking irresistibly the deeper tinge from the sorrows common to mankind, reacted upon an enfeebled frame and intensified the gloom. That she was a firm, unshrinking christian was shown in her calm passing into the great beyond. Not a wave of trouble rolled across her peaceful breast. She talked to each beloved one in words that can never be forgotten. To a friend she spoke more than once of blissful visions of her dear ones gone before. These came to her and sat beside her and talked with her. Of her comfortable surroundings, in the city, yet not of it; far away from its noise and dust and confusion, with green trees in sight and sweet fields at hand, and kind hearts to minister to her, she talked in grateful words, and said to the listener: "Wont you write this for me when I am gone?" Her mind was so clear that even as the last faint sigh was heard, a tender word escaped her lips.
During those last days (and they were less than a week) she remembered countless events and happenings among her friends; and her old, generous, whole-hearted hospitality conjured up pleasant pictures in the retrospect. She died amid the fragrance of flowers and tokens of affectionate care. Her nurse, inured to scenes where life-fleeting fever is settled, paid a beautiful tribute in speech and in tears, to the patience and courage of her dying charge. Like the going out of a flame her soul took wing, and her eyes gently closed upon the faces of her children, and of the devoted sister whose whole life had been passed at her side.
If the thoughts and wishes she expressed from time to time could have been embodied in verse, verified as they were in her actual experience of death, she might have said:
Come gently, Death, when, as the close of life,
I draw my latest breath, when my latest friend,
Like some kind friend, who, with a noiseless tread,
And silent voice, draw nigh unto my bed,
So come thou gently, Death,
Oh, let me close my eyes like the one who sleeps,
While 'ere my senses dreamless slumber creep.
While yet my earthly life
With calmly folded hands upon my breast,
Like one who after labor takes his rest,
So let me gently die.
Come like the change which paints the autumn leaf,
And let the parting hour on earth be brief,
For 't is best beneath the stars,
Come gently, Death, when my life's race is run,
When I the victor's feeblest wreath have won,
And close my weary eyes.
A FRIEND.

Notice.
Taxes past due. Pay before the penalty goes on.
J. B. SANDERS, S. G. C.

For Rent.
Dwelling now occupied by Butler Fox, on Richmond street.
W. J. Romang.

Bourbon Steam Laundry.
Miss Olivia Sweeney is agent for the Bourbon Steam Laundry. Leave your orders at Sweeney's store. If $10.00.

Don't fail to see my Tailor-Made Suit for Ten Dollars. It is All-Wool, and a perfect fit is guaranteed.
J. C. Hemphill.

Just received a beautiful line of Misses and Children's Shoes ever brought to Lancaster. Come in and see them.
J. B. Jennings.

Notice.
If you call for Potts Flour at the leading grocers, and they haven't got it, order direct from H. C. Potts, Back-ky, Ky. Wagon in town daily. 10-21-98

I have decided to locate in Lancaster and will move here, with my family, about December 1st, to practice my profession.
W. BURNETT, M. D. oct-21-98

City Property For Rent.
My home on Lexington street, between College and Judge Hemphill's Full particulars on application to Fisher Herring. Mrs. Susan Fisher. If

Notice.
I will prosecute to the full extent of the law, without distinction to parties, any and all persons caught fishing in the lake on the distillery premises. oct-7 Jno. W. MILLER, Mgr.

Notice.
I will be from home next week, but Messrs E. W. and J. Randolph Harris will wait on my customers. Satisfaction guaranteed.
M. D. Hughes, Agent.

Dr. Goldstein.
This famous optician will visit our city and be at the Mason Hotel, Monday, Oct. 21. This is your opportunity to get glasses properly fitted. Wait for him.

Married.
In Cincinnati October 20th, Mr. Ernest Bohl to Miss Jennie Ferrell. The bride is a native of this county, while the groom is connected with a large grocery firm in Cincinnati.

Removals.
Dr. Wesley has moved his family into Dr. Hood's property on Richmond street. Mr. G. S. Gaines and family have moved into the Weisiger property on Lexington street.

A thief broke into Mr. Solon Henry's residence Tuesday night but was frightened away before any valuables were secured. The thief's track is small and he wore pointed shoes.

Mr. Walter Grant and Miss Annie Bell Wheeler, of Kirksville, were married at the Tillett House Wednesday afternoon by Judge Burnside. As soon as the ceremony was over they drove to the groom's home where an elegant supper was prepared.

Notwithstanding the fact that all the goods boxes and vacant chairs about town are covered with fellows who know how THE RECORD should be run, we could find no one to undertake the task last week when we should have been away every day.

Speaking Monday.
The candidates for congress, Judge G. M. Davison and Hon. G. G. Gilbert, locked horns in joint debate at the Court House Monday. We were unable to attend and the friends of both parties say their man "Et' im up", so we presume both sides are satisfied.

Green Apples.
There is a tree at Dr. Kinnaird's which is full of a second crop of apples. The tree went through a regular course of blooming and leading. The fruit is about the size of a walnut, but Wednesday's storm made it look a little tired.

Card of Thanks.
I take this method of thanking the friends who were so kind to our family during our great bereavement. A assistance rendered in such a timely and a sure indication of true friendship, and words are not at my command with which to express our deep appreciation.
LOUIS LANDRAM.
Miss Dunlap Better.
A message yesterday said Miss Euzenia Dunlap was much better. She is in St. Joseph's Infirmary, Lexington, suffering from a severe case of typhoid fever. Her critical condition prevented her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wood G. Dunlap, from attending the funeral of Mrs. Landram Saturday.

Premiums.
Although our prices are as low as the lowest, to increase patronage, the Howard Tailoring company, of Chicago, will give an American Silver-coin watch, or a high class, handsome umbrella, latest style handle, value $2.50 with each suit of clothes or overcoat, bought of them. This does not change price or quality, and a fit is guaranteed.
M. D. Hughes, Agt.

Just Received

A line of Ladies Tailor-Made Suits. New and Nobby Styles, and Prices Very Reasonable. Also just received a Second Shipment of Ladies' Capes and Jackets.

We have had splendid trade on Jackets and Capes and have had to duplicate several styles. Our Low prices make them popular Sellers.

Cloak Department

Give us a look through our Cloak Department before you buy.

Logan Dry Goods Co.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

COME and SEE

—OUR—

ALL WOOL SUITS AT $5

Better ones at $7.50. All the novelties of the season in suits at $8.50, $10, $12 and $15.

Best line of $7.50 Overcoats in the market.

See our Top Coats at $8.50

Also New York Box Coat at $12.

A Beautiful Line of Boys and Childrens Clothing

Buell Bootes. If you want comfort try a pair. Men's High-top Shoes from $2. to $3.50, made by the best eastern factories.

All the latest style Toes and Lasts in Ladies Fine Footwear. The latest patterns in Neckwear. Come and see what we have in Gents' Underwear at $1. a suit.

A new line of Stiff Hats just opened. Best Alpine hat in Central Ky., for $1. Some beautiful things in Gentlemen's Umbrellas.

Give us your order for a nice, Tailor-made Suit

LOGAN & ROBINSON.

LOGAN & ROBINSON.

LOGAN & ROBINSON,
Lancaster, -- Kentucky.

Call from Mr. Gilbert.
We had a pleasant call Tuesday from Hon. G. G. Gilbert, democratic candidate for congress. Mr. Gilbert is a polished gentleman and his company is exceedingly enjoyable. He is closely related to Dr. Dave Logan, dec'd., and that agreeable, social nature, so characteristic of the Logans, comes out strongly in Mr. Gilbert.

The Second Kentucky.
The boys of the Second Kentucky are certainly a devil-ridden set of fellows. They have had nothing but hard luck since they began organizing. If ever a lot of boys deserved sympathy these surely do. They were ordered to return to Lexington last Tuesday week, and every man able to do so was on hand promptly. They found to their amazement, that no provision whatever had been made for their coming, and they were turned loose to roam about the city and root hog or die. Some succeeded in getting into hotels and boarding houses, but we saw a great many wandering a messily about the streets with no overcoats, blankets or money with which to get a meal. It was Wednesday before they secured tents and these had no flooring. No one seemed to know who was to blame and the boys cursed everybody from the President down to company cooks. Whoever is to blame for this outrage should be ridden on a rail. The men are now in quarters expecting everybody to be mustered out.

Good Work.
Some one has been stealing Leslie Herndon's corn recently and the latter "paid for" the thief Monday night. About two o'clock a gentleman of African "scent" appeared at a shoe and Les turned loose his shot gun. The hide of the thief was pretty well perforated and he swore to Les he would intrude no more. He was permitted to go.

Kindly Remember.
That J. Randolph Harris is collecting for THE RECORD, and if the amount due is not paid him, he will continue to call until he is paid, or the debtor made to wish he had never been born. He means business, and we trust you will mean the same. To those notified through the mails, we wish to say Mr. Harris is looking after this part too, and will keep up his efforts until the debt is settled.

Rev. Peter Vinegar.
Rev. Peter Vinegar, a colored preacher with quite a wide reputation, delivered several sermons at the Court House last week, closing Sunday night. His first subject, "A Darned Night Day" drew quite a crowd. We could learn nothing from those who heard it, as to Bro. Vinegar's application of the rather peculiar subject except that those who go through life disregarding God's Word would find exceedingly warm weather in the place prepared for sinners. One of his other subjects was "13 Footmen Walking Down the Road," and another, "Is there any Man in Heaven or in Hell that Left the Earth? or Feed that 'thresher'."

All Honor to Supt. Hood.
Supt. Hood, of the K. C. division was here last week on business connected with the road. He expressed himself favorably toward giving our people a sight of the depot, and a petition has been prepared and sent him asking that this be done. It is out of the question to suppose that people would stand in the cold and rain waiting for these trains, and Mr. Hood, always looking out for the comfort of the patrons of the road, will see that the waiting room is kept comfortable and have a man there to sell tickets, receive baggage and look after the wants of passengers. The night trains furnish excellent facilities for travel and the people are delighted with them, as

