FUNERAL PROCESSION

Twenty-Five Thousand Miles Long—From the Mississippi Valley Every Year

STRING OF HEARSES WOULD SPAN THE EARTH

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 11.—A funeral procession 25,000 miles long, winding its dreary way entirely around the earth; an army of 500,000 pale, emaciated soldiers, a pyramid of coffins three times as tall as the tallest of the giant piles that have made Egypt famous. These are only a few of the reasons for the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis, which meets here on Sept. 29th and 30th and Oct. 1st. They are "real" reasons too, that anyone will understand when it is pointed out that each year in the Mississippi Valley, 100,000 men, women and children fall victims to tuberculosis, sometimes known as consumption or the "white plague." Could these 100,000 funerals be held at one time, the string of hearses, carriages and pall bearers would make one gigantic, awe inspiring cortege, long enough to reach entirely around the earth and some to spare.

Anti-Tuberculosis workers estimate that there are now living in the Mississippi Valley at least 500,000 persons now afflicted with the disease and that the coffins filled each year by the victims of this preventable malady would make a pile higher than any known structure of ancient or modern times.

For the purpose of co-ordinating the forces that direct the crusade against tuberculosis in the Mississippi Valley, and these agencies include state and city health boards, sanatorium heads, visiting nurses, newspaper men, club women and representatives, of anti-tuberculosis societies, more than 1,000 delegates from eighteen states will discuss the topic "The Best Tuberculosis Prevention" for three days at the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis which meets here Sept. 29th and 30th and Oct. 1st.

There will be sub topics of course, but the general theme of the Conference will hinge on the old adage "An ounce of prevention is worth pounds of cure." Headquarters for the Conference have been opened at 210 Public Savings Bldg., this city, and any person in the Mississippi Valley interested in the prevention of tuberculosis, and the affairs of the coming meeting, is invited to communicate with the secretary at that address.

"TIN LIZZIE" A LIBEL, SAYS FLIVVER OWNER

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 11.—City Courts must decide whether a flivver is a "tin lizzie," or not, or vice versa, and if it's an insult to call one 't'other, which is insulted, if not both.

It all arose when J. T. Jasper came into court to complain that neighbors across the street annoyed him by calling his car a "tin lizzie."

"I don't object to 'flivver'" said Jasper.

WHAT HARD COAL MINERS DEMAND

Big Anthracite Agency Uses Union Demands, as Advertisement

One big anthracite coal agency in this city has placed a curious advertisement in the Coal Trade Journal. It consists of a front page setting forth verbatim the demands made on the anthracite operators by the United Mine Workers of America, to become effective April 1, 1916, when the present agreement expires. Not a word of comment accompanies the Union document. Presumably the advertiser chose this method of intimating to its customers that stocking up against the possible shortage of next spring might be expected to be in the near future and that it might be as well for them to cover their requirements early.

A LITTLE LIKE SUNRISE

Courier Journal

The confession and conviction of "possum hunters" at Hartford has inspired among the law-abiding and wide-awake citizens of numerous counties in that section of the State hope that at last organized violence is at an end and progress has an opportunity. In several counties indictments were hard to procure a short time ago, because of the timidity of the grand jurors, or their sympathy with outlawry, and where they were returned it was not expected that prosecutions would be successful.

The situation in the "possum hunter" section looks now a little like sunrise. A Hopkinsville dispatch to a Nashville newspaper is in part as follows:

"While this immediate section has been almost entirely free from such disturbances since the quieting down of the night riders under the influence of Gov. Willson's troops, there have been wholesome outbreaks in some of the adjoining counties, and it is figured that the Hartford results cannot help but have a most salutary effect upon the trials that are to be held in nearly all of these counties upon indictments which have already been returned."

The sway of "possum hunters" indicated a lamentable social state of which ignorance of the importance of law and order in its bearing upon the value of the property, as well as the safety of the law-abiding element, was a strong feature. Actual perpetrators and supporters of crime were in a decided minority, of course, but the majority was timid, negligent or mistakenly sympathetic.

If the optimistic forecast of the Hopkinsville correspondent proves accurate the regeneration of the section will be worth millions to the owners of property in a part of the state where organized violence is exotic and imitative rather than native to the soil.

THE AMERICAN LABORING MAN AND THE SALOON

What Should be the Attitude of Labor Toward an Industry That Destroys Always and Never Produces?

They say that the liquor industry demands raw material giving employment to labor in manufacturing and distributing its product, and is, therefore, "good for business."

The San Francisco fire and earthquake created a demand for hundreds of dollars' worth of material and labor. Thousands of skilled workmen poured into San Francisco to rebuild that city. Business in some lines boomed.

Of course, therefore, the San Francisco earthquake was a fine thing for business. Would it not be a good thing for us to burn down all of our cities? Just think of the demand for labor and raw material which would result!

This is foolish, of course, but to support the manufacture and sale of liquors because it consumes some raw material and employs some labor is just as foolish as to advocate the burning of Chicago because the rebuilding of the city would require billions of dollars' worth of material and hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of labor.

The necessity of rebuilding a burned city imposes upon the country a tremendous drain of resources. All the people must be taxed to make good the worth of every day of labor and every bushel of grain used in the manufacture of liquors.

The laboring man cannot afford to ignore longer the fact that every dollar which goes into the saloon still represents an absolute and total economic loss of labor and material. Upon the working man is thrown the great part of the burden of making this good.

We would be fortunate if labor and raw material constituted the entire loss to America because of the liquor traffic. But we must not forget the lost wisdom, the lost sanity, the lost health, the lost efficiency which follows the dollar across the bar.

TRAVELING MEN'S DAY AT THE FAIR

Much Enthusiasm Over Gathering and Big Delegations Will be Here.

Knights of the Grip are Exploiting the Fair All Over This Region

Saturday, October 2., will be Traveling Men's day at the Pen-nyroyal Fair and big preparations are being made to have that one of the biggest successes of the entire fair. There are a large number of traveling men who reside in Hopkinsville and they are all enthusiastic over the proposition. But the matter will not end with them, for other traveling men all up and down the road will be enlisted, and as many of their customers as possible, to be here on that day and enter into the festivities.

All sorts of advertising will be done for this feature of the fair—Lithographs, banners and stickers will be left in every hotel, prominently displayed throughout this section of Kentucky and Tennessee, so as to attract the attention of all traveling men and other people as well. Stickers will be affixed to grips and trunks as the traveling men are at depots and hotels and they will put in every opportunity to pass the news along by word of mouth.

On that day it is expected that not less than two hundred traveling men will be here to take part in the gala occasion. These will meet at Hotel Latham on the morning of October 2, and at 10:30 they will form in line and headed by the Third Regiment band they will march to the fair grounds. Each traveling man will be appropriately tagged and at the fair grounds space will be reserved for them in the grandstand and every possible arrangement looking to their pleasure and comfort will be made.

Saturday will be the concluding day of the fair which is always one of the most popular days, it will be Derby Day and with Traveling Men's day added it is assured that one of the largest crowds ever known here will attend.

A committee to perfect arrangements for Traveling Men's Day has been appointed as follows: J. W. Robertson, Guy Champion, Mr. Utley, Alex Boulware, L. H. Davis, F. K. Yost, Edgar Wyatt, F. H. Mason and Garner Dalton.
