

THE FAMILY DOCTOR.

PARASITIC diseases are communicated by imperfectly cooked meat, and especially the flesh of the pig, either fresh or cured.

SUNLIGHT has an important bearing upon health. Introduce it freely into the house, and particularly into your sleeping-rooms.

WHEN the joints are stiffened with rheumatism or a settled cold, the following applications are said to be capital, and enable the sufferer to move with ease: Cut into small bits (or grate) one ounce of castile soap. And a heaping table-spoonful of cayenne pepper. Have these in a small pitcher, and then pour on to them half a pint of boiling hot water. Stir until all is dissolved, and add a little cider, brandy or alcohol when bottling. An application of the above brings the blood in a glow to the joints, and on rubbing a little sweet oil to relax the muscles the patient will be enabled to walk with perfect ease.

THE majority of people are apt to neglect the feet. Frequent bathing of the feet in water in which a small quantity of borax has been placed is conducive to health and comfort. Ammonia and bay rum, though cleansing, have a tendency to dry the skin and close the pores. Hosiery should be frequently changed, and the feet, ankles and calves of the legs anointed with healing oil or salve. Never use cheap or highly-perfumed soap, as it has a tendency to dry and parch the skin, and so close the pores as to prove very injurious to health. Castile, olive-oil and other vegetable-oil soaps are the best for the flesh.

ACIDS and caustics should never be used to destroy moles. They always leave scars, which are often greater deformities than the moles themselves. Besides, the operation is tedious and painful. Warts can generally be driven away in a few days, by wetting a piece of salammoniac and rubbing the warts with it two or three times a day.

CABINET-MAKERS and wood-workers generally are familiar with the uses of glue in dressing tool cuts and other slight wounds incident to their calling. The gluepot is always handy in their shops, and a glued rag answers as well as the best adhesive plaster. In a paper read before the Philadelphia Academy of Surgery, Dr. Hewson recommended the addition of acetic acid to the glue, and a little attar of roses to cover the odor of the glue and the acid. This compound spread on paper or muslin makes, he said, a good substitute for adhesive plaster for surgical use. It is easily and quickly prepared simply by putting into a vessel of boiling water a bottle containing one part of glue to four, by measure, of the acid. Common glue may be used, and officinal acid, to be had at any drug store. The mixture should be kept in a wide-mouthed bottle well stoppered by a long cork, which can always be removed by heating the neck of the bottle. Care should be taken to keep the mouth of the bottle clean by wiping it well with a cloth dipped in hot water. A bottle of this cheap and easily-prepared dressing would be a good thing to have at home as well as at the workshop.

ALBERT OF SAXONY is an odd sort of a fellow. He is a devout Roman Catholic, who rules with great circumspection his seven millions of Saxons, five millions at least of whom are orthodox Roman Catholics. Saxony is a vivid and entertaining illustration of the mercurial motive of mankind. For many more hundred years than the readers of these scraps would be interested in following, Saxony has been the spoil of war, the creature of intrigue, the sport of chance, the plaything of ambitious captains. To go no further back than Frederick the Great, the romantic philosopher, the petulant adorer of Voltaire, the liver of strange lives, Saxony has been the scene of Oriental diplomacy, poetry and song. It was Saxony that gave brain and function to Luther's mighty ravings—an elector of that staid and regulated Gascony gave Luther the arms and the rock that made his salvation, even when the mighty forces of the potent Charles V. stood in his path like the lion that frightened David.

Ventilated Egg Case.
Patented February 15, 1881.
Indispensable to Merchants Shippers And Producers.

The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candled, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case, without rehandling.
For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space.
The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, adding, or breakage, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x14, weighs 20 pounds.

PRICES IN CHICAGO.
