Overcome by Heat on Monday
While in Conversation With Friends in His Store

Our city was thrown into a fit of excitement on Monday when the news that J. B. Bishop, a popular merchant of this city, had been stricken suddenly with a severe attack of the heat stroke, carrying him off to his eternal reward.

In relating the occurrence, Mr. Crannell said, Mr. Bishop had been much better for several days and that he had been advising him to go off and rest for a few weeks, when he replied very quietly that he could not do it as his post office duties at this time, and the very next moment, jumped up and rushed out of the store. He had been shot and that some was thrown into confusion.

Mr. Crannell rushed to him while he was running down the street, and as he passed his head on his shoulder like a frightened child. He was at once moved to his home and his condition improved, but later he died, as was his aged father and family at Sturgis. Two physicians were called at once at his side, who after a long time quelled his sufferings, but who, at a moment again, in Sturgis.

However old the mind with as clear as ever, despite the fact that he had been impaired from sun stroke, the report there is no question.

Rev. Bishop is a good honest Christian gentleman, one of the most highly honored fathers of the church, and his life long friends will be proud to honor his memory. He has been spared, when for a time there was no hope.

HOME BURNS

The home of Mr. Jno. Glass in East Marion burned Sunday morning during the Sunday School hour. The fire was in the kitchen. We understand there was but $250.00 worth in but was worth much more than that amount. Very little of the household belongings were saved.
