THE HUDSON river is frozen over, and the ice is from two to eight inches in thickness. Navigation in the Upper Hudson is entirely suspended, and the ice men have already staked out fields for harvest.

THE PRESIDENT has appointed a board to consider the question of sending an expedition to the relief of Lieut. Greely and his party, and to recommend to the Secretaries of War and the Navy jointly the steps the board may deem advisable to be taken for the equipment and transportation of the relief expedition, and to suggest such plan for its control and conduct, and for the organization as may seem to them best adapted to accomplish its purpose.

DR. R. C. CHESAULT, Superintendent of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, has made his first report to Gov. Knott. The total number of patients now under treatment is 643, of which 304 are white males, 257 are white females, 40 colored males, and 43 colored females. During the present year there were received 101 males and 75 females. The number discharged as recovered was 38 males and 23 females. The number who died was 22 males and 24 females, and one male escaped. The total cash receipts of the Asylum were $125,744.45, and the total expenditures were $118,190.34.

Susceptible Women.

If all reports be true, the susceptibility of the average young woman is a thing to be publicly deplored, to be contemplated with fasting and prayer. When one mellow note from a brazen instrument is sufficient to mow a wide swath in the ranks of femininity; when a trill on a trombone becomes as unerring and effective as a volley of musketry, and a young woman of demonstrable spirit and alleged independence is wrenched from her moorings by the seductive strains of "Sweet Violets," or "Now Ever," it is at least time to consider the situation. Prudery and Puritanism are dead, they were long ago decently interred; no sane person regrets their demise, and their resurrection is inconceivable in this age or any that shall come after it. The world is no worse because that which was once done stylishly is now carried on openly and with the utter sang froid that distinguishes the generation in all things.

But there is something infinitely depressing in the selections made by young ladies, who consider themselves free agents, in the indiscriminate reaching out of their affections for everything in sight. The freedom of the American girl is proverbial; her social position is unique, and there is a dignity born of liberty which it should be her pride to maintain; but she refuses to be hampered by personal responsibility and loftily ignores any consideration that interferes with her individual amusement. For an hour's diversion she is willing to make herself supremely ridiculous, and hold the entire sex up to public derision. The pleasure of making a fancied impression that some one else perhaps could not make is her compensation. Whether the game is worth the candle or not is a matter of no consequence whatever. There is something radically wrong with the woman who can lend herself to prop a massive egotism that but for such support must fall by its own weight, who openly announces her preference for a man whose only claim to social consideration is based upon the extreme facility with which he eludes an irksome obligation, whether military or domestic, and the dexterity which enables him to make a toilet inside of three minutes by the watch; who does not hesitate to be seen with a man who daily affronts propriety by promenading the corridors with people whose names she dare not mention, the knowledge of whose existence even she dare not confess.

She meets a dozen merrier fellows on the street any day, whom, from some insane caprice, she refuses to recognize. Perhaps they are not in her set; perhaps she considers their occupation plebeian. They do not blow a "wreathed horn." They have no wives looning in the background to make the situation interesting. They have no piquant biographical incidents in general circulation; and so they enter not into the seventh heaven of feminine approbation. The story of Bunthorne has ceased to be a caricature; that which seemed an extravagance has become a flat, insipid thing that pales beside the reality. The male masquerade, much as he is regretted, is not an abnormal development, a thing for which there is no excuse. He is the natural outgrowth of a vitiated social condition, the essential institution of the women who have made him a possibility; of women who forget their dignity and lay aside their reserve to bestow a gratuitous preference upon some sterile subject that can not even measure their condescensions on.

Gently scan your brother man, still gentler sister woman, pleads the poet, and truly there is no created thing that needs more indulgence or repays it worse.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, General Debility, Catarrh, and all disorders caused by a thin and impoverished, or corrupted, condition of the blood; expelling or blood-poisons from the system, enriching and renewing the blood, and restoring its vitalizing power. During a long period of unparalleled usefulness, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has proven its perfect adaptation to the cure of all diseases originating in poor blood and a weakened vitality. It is a highly concentrated extract of Sarsaparilla and other blood-purifying roots, combined with Iodide of Potassium and Iron, and is the safest, most reliable, and most economical blood-purifier and blood-food that can be used.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured. "AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has cured me of the Inflammatory Rheumatism, with which I have suffered for many years." W. H. MOORE. Durham, Ia., March 7, 1882.

"Eight years ago I had an attack of Rheumatism so severe that I could not move from the bed, or dress, without pain. I tried several remedies without much if any relief, until I took AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by the use of two bottles of which I was completely cured. I have not been troubled with the Rheumatism since. Have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and it still retains its wonderful popularity. The many notable cures it has effected in this vicinity convince me that it is the best blood medicine ever offered to the public." E. F. HARRIS. River St., Buckland, Mass., May 13, 1882.

"Last March I was so weak from general debility that I could not walk without help. Following the advice of a friend, I commenced taking AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and before I had used three bottles I felt as well as I ever did in my life. I have been at work now for two months, and think your SARSAPARILLA the greatest blood medicine in the world." JAMES MATYARD. 520 West 43d St., New York, July 19, 1882.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Itches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.
