O. S. L. OFFICIALS

Held Regular Monthly Meeting at Cincinnati Sunday—Change in Schedule May Be Made.

The Directors of the Ohio State League held their regular monthly meeting at the Havlin Hotel yesterday. Matters pertaining to the general welfare of the league were discussed and a couple of protested games disposed of. The league schedule provides for two seasons. The first one will close on July 6. Owing to the mileage, it is possible that a slight change in the schedule may be made for the second season in order to save some of the clubs some mileage that may be omitted by the transfer of a few games. It was also decided to transfer the Huntington-Charleston series of next week, scheduled to be played at Huntington, to Charleston, on account of the mobilization of the state troops at that point, in order to give the soldier boys an opportunity of witnessing some of the games before breaking camp. The following were present: C. L. Barrett, of Charleston; Phil C. Jacks, of Huntington; W. N. Gableman, of Portsmouth; Tom Russell of Maysville; C. W. Hay, of Frankfort; Hogan Yancey of Lexington and Joe F. Carr of Columbus.—Monday's Cincinnati Enquirer.

MEXICAN SITUATION BEYOND MEDIATION

LANSING TELLS LATIN AMERICAN DIPLOMATS—MEDIATOR DOES NOT GET TO POINT OF FORMAL PROPOSAL.

Reply of Carranza to Note Demanding Release of Prisoners Taken at Carrizal Awaited—Expensive Estimates Go Before Congress—President Wilson Expresses Appreciation of Patriotic Men.

Washington, June 26—Efforts toward Latin-American mediation in the Mexican crisis favored by Carranza officials, collapsed today without having reached the stage of a formal proposal of the United States.

It was made plain by Secretary Lansing to Ignacio Calderon, Minister of Bolivia, who called with the intention of asking whether the United States would entertain an offer of services of its southern neighbors to aid in avoiding war, that the Washington Government sees nothing in the situation that would warrant arbitration proceedings.

Mr. Lansing talked with the Minister for half an hour, and is understood to have told him that the blame for the grave outlook rested squarely upon General Carranza. The attitude of the United States was so fully outlined that Mr. Calderon did not mention directly the original purpose of his visit.

House Adds to Army Bill

The House passed the annual army appropriation bill after adding $26,000,000 for emergency purposes during the brief debate that preceded the vote. An urgent deficiency bill carrying $25,000,000 for National Guard pay, equipment and transportation was framed in the committee for presentation to the House tomorrow.

Railroad representatives were called into consultation at the War Department to hasten the shipment of troops and supplies to the border. A definite plan was mapped out under which traffic experts of all lines will work with army quartermasters in routing trains. Special marks will distinguish cars with army supplies, insuring their right of way at all switching points.

Plans for military censorship over newspapers, magazines and other publications, as well as over lines of communication, were talked over. A resolution conferring broad powers in this regard upon the President was framed for submission to Congress.

Draft Resolution Passed

In the Senate the National Guard draft resolution was passed, with amendments which will necessitate its return to the House and possibly a conference before its final approval.

Army officials wait with impatience the authority to grant to consolidate incomplete units of the National Guard. They estimate that when the regiments reach the border under the new orders, some companies will be promptly depleted by the men discovered to be physically unfit on final examination. If they can combine these incomplete units for immediate service and all new companies as recruits are sent South, there will be little delay in getting all available men into active service.

Indications tonight were that 10,000 men additional might reach the border this week. In two weeks probably 50,000 could be transported South and within three weeks the whole force summoned under President Wilson's call might be moved.

President Expresses Appreciation

President Wilson expressed to callers today his appreciation of the announcement of business houses throughout the country that their employees would be permitted to serve with the National Guard without loss of salaries or positions. Several employers have sent such announcements direct to the White House and the President has written thanking them.

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED

P. F. V. No. 3 on the C. & O. was delayed over five hours Monday afternoon on account of the derailment of the engine and eight coaches at Hurricane, W. Va. The derailment was caused by an unequal expansion of the rails. No one was hurt in the accident. The train ran in two sections, the first from Huntington arriving here at 3:39 and the second, or regular train, arriving at 8:45, five hours and fifteen minutes late.

Ike McAllister, one of our well known colored men, was in the wreck. He was cut up considerably but he was not seriously injured. ## BULL MOOSERS BACK HUGHES

Action Taken by National Committee Following Advice of Roosevelt—Radicals Fight Move—Insist on Open Session and Win After Many Members Bolt Meeting.

Chicago, June 26—By a vote of 32 to 6, with nine members declining to vote, the National Committee of the Progressive party today endorsed Charles E. Hughes for President and the Bull Moose party practically went out of existence as a national political organization.

The decision to endorse the Republican candidate came at the end of a stormy day. The fight in the committee for Hughes' endorsement was led by Charles W. Perkins, of New York; James R. Garfield, of Ohio, and Chester H. Powell, of California.

The radical element in the committee, represented by Matthew Hale, of New York; Henry F. Cochems, of Wisconsin, and John M. Parker of Louisiana, vigorously protested against the endorsement of any candidate for President and fought the majority at every step of the proceedings. The minority's first move was to insist on an open session of the committee, and it won this point after a number of committeemen, led by John M. Parker, bolted the meeting.

After Oscar King Davis, secretary of the committee, had read Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's letter finally declining the Progressive nomination for President and urging that Mr. Hughes be supported by members of the Progressive party in order to defeat President Wilson, the committee voted to accept Colonel Roosevelt's declination, and took a recess for luncheon.

Colby, of New York, presented the name of Victor Murdock, of Kansas, chairman of the committee, now on his way to China. This led to a clash between Raymond Robins of Illinois, and Mr. Colby in which the tie was passed. Mr. Robins said Murdock had told him he would not accept the Presidential nomination. The proposition to run a third party ticket was then defeated after a spirited debate by a vote of 31 to 15.

James R. Garfield next introduced a resolution endorsing Hughes for President and directing the executive committee of the Progressive party to cooperate with the Republicans in the campaign.

Henry F. Cochems, of Wisconsin, contended the committee had no authority to endorse any candidate and that its power was limited to the filling of the vacancy on the ticket caused by the refusal of Colonel Roosevelt to run.

Chairman Hale ruled that the motion to endorse or recommend the Republican candidate for President was out of order and a debate of several hours ensued.

Finally James R. Garfield appealed from the decision of the chair and was sustained 33 to 14. During the discussion Raymond Robins indicated he would support President Wilson if the Progressives did not put a ticket in the field.

John M. Parker made a fiery protest against any endorsement. He intimated he might vote for President Wilson.

After endorsing Mr. Hughes the committee unanimously decided that the action should not be binding on any individual.
