COTTON FACTOR AND COMMISSION MERCHANT.—We take pleasure in calling attention to the card of Mr. R. PRITCHARD, of the old and well known house of Pritchard & Flower, of New Orleans. Mr. P. resumes business operations with a capacity and prestige warranting success. We commend him and his house to the favorable consideration of our friends and all others in this region having consignments to make to New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS CARPET WAREHOUSE.—Merchants, housekeepers, room-furnishers, etc., will please scan the advertisement of Messrs. BROUSSEAU & Co., of No. 19 Chartres street, New Orleans. These gentlemen, whom it has been our good fortune to know for many years, we can confidently recommend as among the most worthy and obliging tradesmen in New Orleans. Their house is one of the oldest and most extensive and reliable in the city.

CLAIM AGENCY.—Persons having claims against the Government, are referred to the card of E. W. KNICKERBOCKER, Esq., Attorney at Law. That gentleman having entered into the necessary arrangements, is now prepared to undertake the prosecution of individual claims against the Government, and we are fully persuaded that to no one could business of the kind be entrusted with greater assurances of success than to Mr. KNICKERBOCKER.

PROFESSIONAL.—By noticing the change made in the law card of our fellow-citizen, J. O. FEUVA, Esq., it will be seen that he is now associated in the practice of his profession, with J. G. KILBOURNE, Esq., of Clinton. If genuine personal merit and high professional qualifications are a guarantee of success, then these gentlemen are on the road to realize the same in the fullest sense of the term. They have our best wishes.

Gen. Sherman says—"I always travelled with a copy of the census in my saddle-bags. I could tell how many inhabitants, how many cultivated acres, how many head of cattle and horses, how many bushels of grain each county possessed at that time, and so, approximately, how many there would be now, and how long it would subsist my army."

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH IT?

It can hardly be forgotten by the readers of newspapers and things that a short time ago a lot of honest, clever and intelligent gentlemen were engaged for a season at a very great sacrifice of their own time and pecuniary interest in making a new Constitution for the State of Louisiana. These gentlemen—in convention assembled, embraced much of the patriotism and a fair portion of the wisdom of the nation at large, and now that their labor is over and the result is before the people in well-bound volumes of debates and resolutions with foot notes and marginal references, it seems, from the tone of the press, that it will not do—that it does not suit, and another is talked of. Some of the political nondescripts and antiquarians complain and say "that we, the people, are hard to please and do not know what we want; that in less than a dozen years we have had three Constitutions," and they do not believe "that any frame-work of this kind can be put together to suit us." But they are forgeries—very old; some of them bald-faced and many of them bald-headed. They lose sight of the progressiveness of the age and know nothing of the truth and beauty of the lines, "Westward the star of Empire," etc. "What's the matter with the new Constitution?" We have no time, space or inclination to answer this question. The people say they do not like it. This is sufficient and the reason of their dislike may very well be embodied in the distich of Quintus on Doctor Fell:

"I do not like you Doctor Fell,
The reason why, I cannot tell,
But this I know and know full well,
I do not like you Doctor Fell."

Some think the Constitution did not cost enough to be good; others think that it cost too much and ought to be taken down and put up on a cheaper plan. One thing, however, is very plain. It does not suit, and then comes the question, "What shall we do with it?" Can it not be swapped or exchanged by giving boot? Could it not be extensively advertised and puffed by the press like Hostetter or J. Bull's Bitters, until Arkansas, Idaho or Mississippi be induced to take it? They all want Constitutions; besides, there are other States coming into the greatest and best government with the handsomest flag out; and none of them can be expected to exist a day without a Constitution. Mississippi would no doubt pay liberally for it in that "cotton money" of hers, and it would be a good investment, because the cotton is there.

Where "nobody" is authorized to speak, this newspaper is always heard. Hence, may we not with propriety enter into negotiations and sign a treaty? Will Mr. King, of the Times please consider the matter and let us know what he will give a column for, for say six months, with a fresh puff under the head of "special notices," daily? We mean to dispose of the new Constitution to the best advantage, and before incurring the expense of advertising, will say to Idaho or our sister of Kansas, we'll give a great bargain in it. Either one of them may have it for half the prime cost. Can reasonable people ask for anything more reasonable?

DEFERRED TELEGRAMS.

Mutiny of Soldiers in South Carolina.

New York, July 24.—The Charleston Courier of the 18th says the 15th New York Volunteers' Zouaves, removed to Morris Island for taking part in the disturbance in the city, have exhibited a mutinous spirit since their removal. Gen. Gilmore sent an order demanding the colors of the regiment, but the Colonel refused to give them up. He was placed under arrest, and the colors demanded of the soldiers in command.

He too refused, when General Hatch explained that his conduct would be mutiny, while the Colonel's would simply be disobedience of orders, he promised to deliver the colors. When the delivery was made it was found that only the staff and rubber colors had been delivered.

It was then determined to disarm the whole regiment. Other troops were brought forward, a gun charged with grape and canister and turned on the mutineers, and orders given to fire upon them in case any resistance was offered.

The soldiers seeing all further opposition useless, quietly stacked their arms, and marched under guard to Fort Sumter, there to expiate their crime.

From New York—Gold Mines in Goochland and Louisa Counties, Va.—Two Thousand Miners at Work.

New York, July 24.—A Richmond paper publishes the following extract from a letter from Goochland county, Virginia: Those who returned from the war too late to put in crops are very busy washing gold from the mines. I suppose there are two thousand miners at work getting gold in Goochland and Louisa counties. They average two penny-weights a day to each man. I have heard they are working in Buckingham, Culpepper, Fluvanna and other counties.

The gold mines have not been fully developed. The veins are large and very rich, and would pay well, but not a single quartz mill is working. In the gold districts, in a few places, some are working with stone and iron mortars, and in that crude way do very well. There will be a brighter dawn upon the gold mines of Virginia, before fall.

The Rebellion in Peru—Bloody Battle Near Lima—Rebels Defeated—Mutiny on the Ship Amazon—Admiral General Shot and Hung—Mutineers Capture the Vessel America.

The United States double-ender gunboat Suwanee arrived at Panama with news from Callao to the 6th.

The rebellion in Peru appears to gain ground. On the 25th a bloody battle occurred six miles from Lima, between 12,000 rebels and 6000 government troops, in which the latter were successful, taking one hundred men and twenty-five officers prisoners, besides the killed. A few days afterwards a mutiny broke out aboard the flag ship Amazon, blockading Africa. The mutineers gained possession of the ship, under the direction of the officer of the deck. The Admiral General Panizo was shot in the cabin and afterwards hanged from an arm of the vessel. The mutineers afterwards decimated the Captain of the America on board and captured his vessel. This is the ship recently sent out from England. They also captured the Lumber, leaving Government with only two vessels of real service.

A steamer called the "Dean Richmond" has been completed at a cost of $700,000 for the New York and Albany line of Packets. The vessel is 370 feet long, and can accommodate 900 first-class and 600 second-class passengers.

The New Albany Ledger says that Ned. Montgomery, late commander in the rebel navy, expresses himself as entirely satisfied with the result of the war, having, as he says, salted down one hundred and twenty thousand dollars in gold in England for his own individual benefit and behalf.

Geo. Wilkes, of Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, is making fierce assaults on General Grant. This Wilkes would be glad to perform with his pen as atrocious a deed as that other Wilkes, whose surname was Booth did with his pistol. But we guess that Sherman hasn't looked 3,000 rebel cannon and a 175,000 rebel troops to fall at last before the goosequill of the best or the nearest Wilkes in the world.—Louisville Journal.

GOOD HEALTH.—Such general good health says the Bulletin, as now prevails in Memphis, is exceedingly rare. An old physician states that he has known nothing like it during his residence of eighteen years there.

A bridge to span the Niagara as Buffalo is about to be built. Two million and a half are pledged for the work. That amount ought to build a bridge of size.—N. B. Mercury.

The troubles of the country come from uneasy politicians—its safety from the tranquil masses.—Benton.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Mrs. Fair versus Dr. Pillsbury.

Dr. P.—"Good morning Mrs. Fair, you appear dressed up in a hurry this morning."

Mrs. F.—"Yes, friend P. I am going to Knorr's Gallery to get my portrait taken. Have you got yours yet?"

Dr. P.—"No, Madame, I have no use for such things. I can see my face in the looking-glass whenever I please to look at it."

Mrs. F.—"Yes, Doctor, I'm sure you can see your own image in the glass, but when you take that long, last journey, from which no traveler returns, where will your family and friends find it? Not in the looking-glass then? Tell me, sir, if you have no dear departed or absent friend, whose likeness it you could see at this moment, you would value beyond price? Reflect, sir, at once."

Dr. P.—"I will accompany you Madame, as I understand Mr. Knorr has engaged a very excellent operator—Mr. W. W. GANN—I have seen that he excels in the art. Thank you, I will now"

M. Fabbe Laborde states that he heated to redness one end of a thin iron bar so long that the other end could be held without burning. When the red end was plunged into the water the other end became so hot he was compelled to drop it. The rapid compression of the hot metal, he says, is no doubt the cause of the elevation of the temperature; but he asks if another cause may not be suspected; for instance, the creation of thermo-electric currents.

A LARGE INCOME.—We see it stated that John Perdue, of Indianapolis, reports an income for last year of one hundred and seven thousand dollars. This is said to be the largest income in that city. Mr. Perdue was formerly a citizen of this country, and used to teach school in Plain Township for ten dollars a month! When he first went into that township he was considered so poor that it was feared he might become a charge thereon, and was "warned out" of it under the provision of a law of this State. Now he is the richest man in Indianapolis.—Ohio Statesman.
