BATON ROUGE:
TUESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1865.

Our Agents in New Orleans.
Messrs. Gardner & Co., Newspaper Advertising Agents, No. 5, Commercial Place, New Orleans, are the duly authorized Agents in that city for the Gazette and Comet.

We had the pleasure of meeting with Ex-Gov. R. C. WICKLIFFE and Dr. SAMUEL CHOPPIN, of New Orleans, on Sunday. They were on board the steamer Gen. Quitman, which stopped at our landing on her way down. Both those gentlemen seemed to be enjoying fine health.

Gen. MAURICE GRIVOT, for many years Adjutant General of this State, has returned to New Orleans after an absence of nearly three years.

BRIGADIER GENERAL J. G. FONDA.—It affords us pleasure to state, that this worthy officer and gentleman is to remain in command of this post, until further orders. No one could be in command here whose presence would be more acceptable than that of General FONDA, and our citizens generally as also the military who remain here, have reason to be satisfied that he is left in command, and to hope, that as long as we are to have a military commander, he will be retained here by the Government, if it be agreeable to his wishes.

The New Orleans Star comes out in an able editorial favoring the election of Gov. WELLS at the November elections. The Governor consents to the use of his name in this connection. We have heard of no opposing candidate, nor do we think there will be, or that the people of the State generally desire it. Gov. WELLS has made an able and popular Executive.

For the past few days we have had cool, clear and bracing weather, and we may now reasonably hope for a continuance of the same, during October at least. It will be conducive to good health and be apt to enliven matters a little in town and country, where folks have been feeling rather dumpy for a month past on account of the inclemency of the weather and its unfavorable effects upon planting and commercial interests.

Little or no variation has taken place in the New Orleans market rates since our last.

Hon. DAVID G. BERNET, who was the first President of Texas, when that State was a separate and independent Republic—arrived in New Orleans on Tuesday last, accompanied by Prof. FOSBERG, formerly of this State.

Ex-President BERNETT is now nearly eighty years of age and is about to visit Washington for the humane purpose of interceding with President JOHNSON for the release of JEFFERSON DAVIS.

FREEDMEN'S BUREAUS.—We see it stated that Gen. HOWARD, Chief of the Freedmen's Bureau Department at Washington contemplates making a complete tour of all the Southern States during the present month, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the new relations between freedmen and employer can be sufficiently established to admit of entrusting the operations of the Bureau. The Freedmen's Bureau was designed by Congress to be a temporary arrangement to adjust the difficulties arising between the freedmen and their late masters. Under the new order of affairs, and when it shall be found that these two classes, work harmoniously together, the necessity for the Bureau will cease to exist and it will be discontinued.

It is understood to be the desire of the President that such an inspection as Gen. HOWARD is about entering upon shall be made to ascertain definitely, the actual condition of affairs between the freedmen and employers of the South, which will determine whether the business shall be maintained or discontinued.

Gen. HOWARD, is now on an official tour of inspection in Virginia.

Gen. CARL SCHUKZ was on a tour of observation last week in the Attakapas region. He is collecting information in regard to the condition of the country, the feelings of the people and such other facts as may be desired by the authorities at Washington in regard to affairs in Louisiana.

COAL.—Mr. J. M. PETERSON, of No. 164 Gravier street, advertises in the New Orleans Bee a reduction of 25 cents per barrel on his Pittsburgh coal, and proposes henceforth to deliver in all parts of the city, clean coal, screened for family use, at $1 25 per barrel.

Mr. PETERSON is a public benefactor and deserves success in his business.

There were a few days since in port at New York, about eighty vessels—many of them regular packets—receiving cargoes for the South. The New York Commercial Advertiser says, that the Southern business now done by leading firms is very nearly equal in amount to that transacted before the war.

The 118th Illinois having been mustered out of service, left here yesterday afternoon, homeward bound, on board the steamer W. K. Carter.

DIVERSITY OF CROPS.

We have taken occasion to speak in former numbers of our paper of the adaptability of our soil and climate to the culture of mixed crops, and have urged the subject upon the attention of our agricultural friends, believing it to be in consonance with sound views and susceptible of practicable and advantageous results. The very questionable expediency of circumscribing the labor and skill of the agriculturist to any one particular species of product is becoming every day more apparent. The venerable one-ideaism which absorbs itself year in and year out in doing service to "King Cotton," regardless of minor details in the vast arena of vegetation, is giving way before the lights of experience and the circumstances of the times which necessitate a change in the old routine of things.

Independent of the uncertainty of labor, there are so many contingencies hazarding the safety of cotton in the various stages of its growth, in this latitude, that planters have to consider more seriously than ever the importance of devoting their attention to a more promiscuous range of culture. There are many products of the field, the nursery, and the garden, which can be raised in this region with comparatively little labor and with much greater assurance of success than cotton, and from the demand and ready sale which they meet with in our own and neighboring markets, there could be no fear of an adequate return of profits for the labor and capital they would require.

Were it possible to overcome the many natural drawbacks which attend the cultivation of cotton, we should by no means attempt to dissuade planters from bestowing upon it that care and attention which has been so unreservedly extended to it. Nor would we, under any circumstance, save that of total loss, advise a practical abandonment of the staple. Our aim is now as heretofore, to encourage the adoption among planters of a system of culture not limited to any one single product in the main, but to a variety, whereby they can reap surer profits, live more largely in themselves, and contribute more largely to the home wants and necessities of the people.

But for the large outlay required for machinery, and the absence of a proper system of hand labor, sugar planting, would be, from its greater security against the casualties of the seasons, more desirable than cotton, and, at prevailing market prices, equally profitable. A clubbing together on the part of neighborhoods to purchase the requisite machinery and to establish mills in common, would obviate the necessity of any serious expenditure on that score. The control of labor, however, would be an indispensable prerequisite in the effectual cultivation of sugar, as of cotton.

Tobacco, which needs no machinery whatever, in its manufacture, might be raised in this latitude to great advantage, as much so, certainly, as in the New England States, where, in Connecticut particularly, it is made to yield immense profits to the producer. We see it stated that the saving in the matter of revenue in favor of cigars made in this country as compared with those manufactured abroad, is fully five per cent. Freight on leaf tobacco, is $1 49 per one hundred pounds, while on cigars, it is $2 65. In view of these facts, jobbers can save very largely by making their purchases at home. Factories of cigar boxes would also prove profitable investments, to meet the demands for such articles, which would be created by the cultivation of tobacco on a large scale.

The above hints are thrown out in the hope that they may lead to such experiments and trials among cultivators, as will enable them more effectually to reap advantages, which they cannot hope securely to realize so long as they bend their energies solely to the production of any one precarious staple, under the existing drawbacks of the season, the labor system and the "caterpillar."

STATEMENT OF THE PUBLIC DEBT.—Secretary McCulloch, on the 2d instant, published a statement of the public debt, as it appears from the books of the Treasury; the returns and requisitions in the department, on the 31st of August, 1865. The recapitulation is as follows:

Debt bearing interest in coin, amount outstanding.....	$1,108,210,191 80
Debt bearing interest in lawful money, amount outstanding.....	1,274,478,103 16
Debt bearing interest.....	275,208,256 83
Debt upon which interest has ceased.....	1,503,020 69
Total debt.....	$2,761,396,652 48
Interest payable in lawful money.....	$4,500,000 00
Interest payable in lawful money.....	75,321,951 90
Total interest.....	$138,021,951 90
Legal tender notes in circulation, 1 and 2 year 5 per cent. notes.....	$30,024,920 00
United States notes, old issues.....	408,708 00
United States notes, new issues.....	422,500,000 00
Compound interest notes, not of March 2d, 1865.....	16,770,000 00
Compound interest notes, not of June 30th, 1864.....	202,020,160 00
Total.....	$684,128,950 00

As contrasted with the statement of the public debt, published on the 31st of July, the principal has been increased only $426,305 99 within the last month, while the interest on the debt has decreased nearly $1,281,000. Legal tender notes have been reduced $1,697,000.

The amount of coin now in the Treasury is nearly $45,000,000, or about $10,000,000 more than a month ago. The currency now in the Treasury is nearly $45,000,000, as against $21,500,000, showing a reduction of currency in the Treasury, for the past month, of $23,500,000.

The suspended requisitions amounted to a little over $2,000,000.

BY TELEGRAPH.

[From the New Orleans Star, 29th ult.]
MEMPHIS, Sept. 25.—The large jewelry store of J. Merriam & Co. in this city, was burglariously entered and robbed of some $40,000 or $50,000 worth of jewelry. As yet there is no clue to the perpetrators of this very serious robbery.

Messrs. Merriam & Co., offer a reward of $5,000 for the apprehension of the burglars.

The Evening Bulletin of this city contains the following dispatches from New York to-day:

New York, Sept. 26.—The Herald's Washington correspondent states that only one million and seventy-three thousand out of the two hundred million two-hundred forty loan having been taken up, the remaining twenty-seven millions will probably be put into market.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 26.—Capt. J. P. McGuire, a well known individual and steamboat agent, residing at Vicksburg, fell overboard from the steamer Kingsley, on Saturday night, when about twenty miles above Vicksburg, and was drowned. His body has not been recovered.

New York, Sept. 27.—Collector King has issued an order fixing the maximum amount of ammunition to be allowed to be shipped South, by one person. It limits the quantity of powder to five hundred pounds, of shot to five thousand pounds, and of percussion caps to one hundred thousand pounds.

Gov. Ferry of South Carolina, has issued a proclamation, providing for the organization of the State militia for home protection. ["Policy," our blundering dispatches have this last word.—Ed. N. Star.]

A delegation of gentlemen from the State of Louisiana has arrived in Washington and have visited President Johnson, in reference to reconstruction.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—A delegation from Louisiana called on the President to-day. As far as can be ascertained they approve the selection of Gov. Wells as provisional Governor.

New York, Sept. 28.—The Assistant Commissioners of the Freedmen's Bureau from the State of Mississippi report to the Bureau at Washington, that no property has been libelled in that State for confiscation, and that no lands have been appraised to the negroes.

He farther states that he learns of but little trouble throughout the State between employers and freedmen, although the latter are partially armed.

Gen. Sykes has been appointed Direct Tax Commissioner for the State of Mississippi.

MAURICE BARNETT, Sr., aged 59 years and 4 days, and for the last fifty years a citizen of New Orleans, died in that city on the morning of the 26th ult. He was an honored veteran of 1814-'15. "Thus, one by one like Autumn leaves they fall"—those gallant old braves who served under the heroic Andrew Jackson—until soon there shall be not one among them left to bear living witness to the glorious deeds in which they figured on Chalmette's plains.

The Treasury Department has been engaged in counting JEFFERSON DAVIS' specie captured by Gen. WILSON. There are $27,000 in gold, $9,000 in silver and thirty bars of silver. The Richmond banks are setting up claims for it.

POWER OF HUMBOLDT.—An individual who owned a small tavern near the field of Waterloo, the scene of the last great action of Napoleon, was frequently questioned as to whether he did not possess some relics of the battle, and he has invariably and honestly answered in the negative.

He was very poor, and one day while lamenting to a neighbor not only his poverty but the annoyance to which "travelers" subject him, his friend cut him short with: "Well make one help the other. Make some relics!"

"But what can I do?" inquired the poor man.

"Tell them that Napoleon or Wellington entered your shop during the battle and sat on that chair."

Not long after an English tourist entered the tavern, and inquiring for relics, was told the chair story. The next corner was told that Wellington had taken a drink, and the "Wellington tumbler" was accordingly sold. The third arrival gazed with breathless wonder on the nail on which Bonaparte had hung his hat. The fourth purchased the door posts between which he had entered; and the fifth became the happy purchaser of the floor upon which he had trodden.

At the last advice, the fortunate tavern keeper had not a roof to cover his head, and was sitting on a bag of gold in the centre of a deep pit, formed by selling the earth upon which the house stood.

Late papers from France contain information of the death of Gen. LAMOURGNE, and glowing eulogies on his character.
