MISSISSIPPI GAZETTE & COMET, Newspaper Advertising Agents, No. 4, Commercial Place, New Orleans, are the only authorized Agents in that city for the Gazette and Comet.

DEATH OF EMILE HIRIART.—We regret to hear of the death of this gentleman, which occurred in New Orleans, on Wednesday evening last.

Mr. HIRIART was a native of West Baton Rouge where he was raised. He possessed many excellent qualities and fine talents. His editorial connection with the New Orleans Press, (having in times past edited the La. Courier,) was characterized by signal ability. He will be greatly lamented by a large circle of friends.

The friends of JOHN F. MCCA, Esq., have brought him out as a candidate for Representative from this parish for the Legislature. His long identification with the interests and the people of the parish, his private worth and intellectual and legal qualifications eminently fit him for the position.

Henry W. Walsh Esq., is announced as a candidate for the lower branch of the Legislature. He is a gentleman of fine abilities and popularly esteemed, and would make an excellent Representative.

The city council on the 9th passed an ordinance restricting draymen from charging more than fifty cents a load for any distance within the city not exceeding five squares, and twenty-five cents a load for any distance less than five squares. The penalty for a violation of this ordinance is fixed at five dollars and forfeiture of license.

Also, an ordinance extending the fire limits so as to comprise the area between the river and Church street and between North Boulevard and the northern line of the Corporation.

Also, a resolution authorizing D. C. MONTAN to cast the vote of the city at the election, when ordered, for Directors of the Baton Rouge, Grosse Tete and Opelousas Railroad Company.

Also, an ordinance establishing the office of Auditor of the city, said officer to perform all his duties as Secretary of the Board of Selectmen, and fixing his salary at twenty-five dollars per month.

Jno. H. MATTA was elected to fill said office.

A resolution was also passed, prohibiting the Collector from issuing a license to Bar-room keepers for the month of November, unless a petition shall have been first presented, signed by twelve respectable neighbors living nearest to the applicant, praying that said license be granted. Said petition, once filed, not to be required again.

WEST BATON ROUGE.—Matters are now fully regulated for conducting the business of the Courts, &c., in this parish.

The following officers have been sworn in and induced in their respective branches of the parochial government. They are known to be highly competent gentlemen: O. M. LeBLANC, Clerk; Wm. WHITE, Sheriff and O. BERNARD, Recorder.

It was J. G. TALIAYERRO, of Catahoula, (pronounced Taliver,) who received the nomination of the La. Union Conservative Convention for Gov. Governor, and not ISAIAH GARRETT, of Ouachita, as was mistakenly announced in our last.

STEAM BETWEEN NEW ORLEANS AND LIVERPOOL.—The New Orleans Bee, of the 21st inst., says:

We learn by a private letter that the steamer Alabama was to have left Liverpool for New Orleans on the 25th of September. The letter is from a gentleman who was to have taken passage on the Alabama for this place. If nothing occurred to delay the departure of the steamer, we may expect the news of her arrival off Southwest pass in a few days.

Plakas's Galveston Bulletin of the 5th says:

We learn that the first (loyal) Texas Cavalry Volunteers have been mustered out of service. Gen. Davis informs us that he has received official notice of his discharge. This leaves only a battalion of Texans in the service, who are doing duty on the Rio Grande, under Major Speed. This battalion was recruited for a brigade, to have been commanded by the Hon. John Hancock when raised.

MISSISSIPPI.—The Jackson (Miss.) News says:

Gen. B. G. Humphreys has been elected Governor, probably by 10,000 majority. Hon. Geo. L. Potter is elected Judge of the High Court from this District, by a majority which will probably reach 2500.

COTTON FROM VICKSBURG.—The Vicksburg Journal, of the 5th, has the following: We are under obligations to Mr. Theodore Borden, chief clerk in the Treasury Department, for the following statement of cotton shipped from this port during the month of September: No. of bales shipped, 19,480; No. of sacks shipped, 24; weight, 5,129,631 lbs.

Oil on the Troubled Waters.

The policy dictated by President Johnson, of "pouring oil on the troubled waters" is very plainly embraced in the sentiments and doctrines he has promulgated in his dealings with the South. In this, he has a right to expect a unity and community of heart on the part of the entire nation, leaving out of course, that radical element in certain portions, which seeks to rule and dominate over the people, regardless of their vested rights and the principles of Constitutional government.

The good men of the country are everywhere, we are pleased to see, coming forward in earnest to the support of the President's reconstruction measures and lending a motive power to the great mission he has undertaken that promises triumphant results.

A political confraternity, irrespective of old party issues and ties is becoming more firmly established between conservative men of all parties in the various sections of the Union, giving hopeful assurances of future harmony and tranquillity. It behooves every honest citizen to aid in fostering and perpetuating this desirable work. It is what the President has a right to expect in view of the high examples he himself has set. It is what the entire country demands in view of the dangers and consequences of past turmoil, strifes and distractions.

Accessory to a more perfect return of inter-sectional good feeling, is that spirit of mutual amity and concord manifested between business men of the North and South in their renewals of commercial and social intercourse, and also between the members of those wide-spread benevolent organizations—the Masonic and Odd Fellows.

A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser writing from Charleston, S. C., and speaking of the manner in which "Southern merchants are treated at the North, says:—

"I queried of the returning merchants on the steamship, how they were received in the North.

"One Charleston man said, 'I asked for sixty days, and got it without a word of objection.' Another told me that he asked for four months, was given three, and treated like a gentleman everywhere.

"Another showed me the receipt for a debt of about fifteen hundred dollars, contracted before the war, which he had paid in full; and he asked for four months on a bill of eight thousand dollars, which was readily given.

"Still another settled his old indebtedness with one-third cash, and eight and twelve months' notes for the balance, while he got ninety days on three-fourths of his new bill. One man said he had many friends in the North, and they all knew he had been a thorough rebel. He expected some taunts, but tried to carry himself like a gentleman, and was courteously received, 'even in Boston.' These are specimens of a score of answers I have received to this question.

We have seen mentioned from time to time, numerous other instances wherein Southern men who had been in business prior to the war, and who, having shown since the close of the war a disposition to meet their honest obligations, have been met by their former Northern creditors in a spirit of magnanimity accompanied by generous proffers of assistance to enable them to resume business.

The Odd Fellows of the United States, through their Committee sent a letter to President JOHNSON, inviting him to be present at their late grand celebration at Baltimore. The President responded in a letter replete with noble sentiments and breathing the most fervent and flattering wishes for the great object sought to be attained by the order in its efforts for sectional reconciliation. He also accepted the invitation, and promised if possible to attend the celebration. He was, however, prevented from doing so on account of pressing duties. His non-attendance was the cause of great disappointment. The disappointment was to some extent modified, when the following characteristic explanation from the President was read before the convocation:

"Gentlemen—I had hoped to be able to accept your kind invitation for to-morrow, but I have found, upon careful survey, that it would be incompatible with existing arrangements. I pray you to believe that I rejoice in the re-union of your Order throughout the United States as an auspicious presage of the restoration of order and complete political harmony throughout the Union. I need hardly say, that in my judgment this is the present moment, the proper aim of true patriots.

"I have the honor to be, very respectfully, 'Your obedient servant,'

"ANDREW JOHNSON."

Thus it is, we find the President solicitous on all occasions for the "restoration of order and complete political harmony throughout the Union," and his praiseworthy examples of "pouring oil on the troubled waters," emulated by the good men of the country in their individual and collective capacities.

It is estimated that fifty per centum of the Southern indebtedness of 1860-61, will be paid, and that one-third of the present business of New York is Southern trade. Boston is, also, beginning to feel the benefit of the presence of Southern purchasers, and this benefit will be increased as our customers ascertain that the ungrudging and prospective feelings expressed toward them by Sumner, Butler & Co., are not entertained by our merchants, who receive them as cordially as ever they did, and extend to them as much confidence and as great advantages.—Boston Post.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—Gen. Cox, the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio, has carried the State by twenty-five thousand majority.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—The election in this city has resulted in a Republican majority. The vote is the largest ever cast, except that for President.

M. McMichael, Republican, is elected Mayor by over three thousand majority. Handuff is elected Auditor General, and Campbell, Surveyor General.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The President today received the return colored troops, and made them a speech. He urged upon them that it was necessary for them to strive by industry, virtue and intelligence, to show that they were entitled to their freedom. If it should be found, he said, that to free the negroes cannot harmonize with our system, social and political, Providence has provided a way of separation for them, and indicates a "land of promise."

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Herald's Fort-ress Monroe correspondent says Mr. Davis is in excellent health, and pleased with his change of quarters, lately made.

The trotting horse Dexter won the match of $5000 to $10,000, accomplishing his mile in 2 minutes and 18-5 seconds—the fastest time on record.

The Herald's Washington special, speaking of the new political combinations and complications in Louisiana, says it is reported the President is determined to support Gov. Wells, and to tolerate no interference with his legitimate duties.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The latest dates from the seat of war in South America are to the effect that the allied army has gained a decided victory over the Paraguayans, and it was thought that further fighting would be abandoned.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—The Union majority in this city amounts to fifty thousand votes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Messrs. Alex. H. Stephens, ex-Rebel Vice President; J. S. Calhoun, ex-Assistant Rebel Secretary of War, and G. A. Trenholm, ex-Rebel Secretary of the Treasury, have been released on parole, to reside in their respective States till otherwise ordered by the President.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A special commission will soon be convened in Dublin to try the Finians, lately arrested in that city and other parts of Ireland, on charges of high treason.

The Queen's counsel at Dublin, has expressed the opinion, that the Finian organization is an extensive and powerful one, both in the United States and in Ireland.

It is reported in England that 300,000 men are organizing in the United States to carry out the Finian plan.

Platform of the National Conservative Union Party of Louisiana.

WHEREAS, The National Conservative Union Party of Louisiana, (now assembled in Convention in accordance with Gov. Wells' proclamation of election,) believes that the opportune period has arrived when it behooves the good people of this State to come together in a spirit of conciliation, brotherhood and compromise, for the purpose of resuming the relations severed by the secession ordinance of 1861:

And whereas, The National Conservative Union Party of Louisiana desires that our State should resume, as soon as possible, her relation with the National Government, and accept, in good faith, the result of the war as overthrowing all the political theories which led to it; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the National Conservative Union Party of Louisiana pledges itself to support, by all means in its power, the Union of these States under the Constitution of the United States.

Resolved, That this Convention recognize the results of the issues lately dividing the North and South, as final and beyond appeal; and that it proudly hail the restoration of Federal authority over the National domain as a triumphant vindication of our Republican form of government.

Resolved, That the gratitude and admiration of the country are eminently due to President Johnson for his firmness, patriotism, and lofty conservatism which he has displayed in his administration of National affairs; that we regard his reconstruction policy as wise, element and conciliatory, affording the people of the South an opportunity to show themselves prepared to fill the part of good and loyal citizens; and that it now becomes the duty of all so to avail themselves of it as to give him no cause to regret his magnanimity.

Resolved, That the allegiance of every American citizen is primarily due, under the Constitution, to the Government of the United States, and that we repudiate the doctrine that any State can dissolve her constitutional relations to the Union except by successful revolution.

conservative loyal citizens of this State, who desire a speedy restoration of our full rights in the Union of States, to unite with us in the support of the candidates of the National Conservative Union Party.

THEN AND NOW.
BY STANBOLIER.

Ah! once I thought my life would glide Peacefully down to the ocean wide; Smiling, 'twould steal on its quiet way 'Neath the sunbeam's kiss and the morn's soft ray, Flowing on through the pleasant lands Till it met the clasp of the sea's white hands, And in the mysterious murmuring Hear afar off, God's angel sing—

To-day—the swollen torrent's wrath Hath less of ruin upon its path! What have I done that my life should be A thing of such passionate misery! What have I done that the summer sky Fillets my heart with the wish to die! The green trees rustle—I see them now! And a little bird sings on the waving bough, While from my sad heart the moan of despair Tells its tale to the summer air.

What is it to me, that that summer sky Smiles in its blessed serenity. What is it to me that the warbling bird Out on the morning breeze is heard, Singing its merrily joy of love, And the murmurous coo of the plaintive dove, For in some green tree's silent nest, Tells its mate its happiness.

I am now no more what I used to be, Sorrows hath wrought the change in me. I stand in the desolate world alone, The Hope and the Purpose of life have flown, And I never dream in the future to hear The beat of their wings in my listening ear!

For I look upon all things wearily, One hath my love that loves not me!

BLAIR ON GEN. LEE.—Washington, Sept. 29.—In his letter, just published, Montgomery Blair has the following about Gen. Lee:

It was the fall of Sumter that produced on the instant the ordinance of secession, and filled Virginia with troops from the Gulf States, to carry it before the people. Its effect upon ordinary men may be conceived by the influence it exerted over Gen. Lee. My father was authorized by the President and Mr. Cameron, Secretary of War, to converse with Gen. Lee, and ascertain whether he would take command of our army in the field. The latter was written for, and he met my father at my house, where they conversed for an hour or more. It was a few days before the ordinance of secession was passed. Gen. Lee concluded the conversation by saying, 'secession was anarchy,' and added, that he owned the four millions of slaves in the South, he would cheerfully sacrifice them to save the Union, but he did not know how he could draw his sword on his State. He said he would see Gen. Scott on the subject before he decided. A committee from the Virginia Convention, while the General and my father conversed, were hunting for him through the city. They met him on his leaving the house. He repaired with them to consult with the Convention, as I have since learned, about some mode of settlement. The fall of Sumter settled the question for him and the Convention."

MORMONS SUCCEED.—Brigham Young lately sent a colony of Mormons to the Sandwich Islands, and had the impudence to ask liberty for his missionaries to spread there what he calls "the true faith." To this request the Secretary of State replies, that the Mormon tenets are subversive of good government and in violation of the laws of the kingdom, and that efforts to establish a colony of the "Saints" will not be tolerated. The letter concludes as follows:

"As long as your friends limit themselves to carrying on their agricultural and mechanical operations they will be protected in their industry, but they never can be recognized here on a footing with Christian missionaries as teachers, as those words are ordinarily understood."

The great captain, the Duke of Marlborough, says Dr. King, "when he was in the last stage of life and very infirm, would rise from the public rooms in Bath to his lodgings on a cold, dark night, to save sixpence in chair hire. If the Duke, who left at his death more than a million and a half sterling, could have foreseen that all his wealth and honor were to be inherited by a grandson of my Lord Trevor's, who had been one of his enemies, would he have been so careful to save sixpence for the sake of his heir? Not for the sake of his heir; but he would always have saved a sixpence." And this is another story to the same point. "What!" exclaimed an attorney, in amazement, as he paused in taking down instructions for a will from the mouth of a wealthy old skinflint, "you leave all this to your nephew?" "Why, he'll spend it in a twelve-month." "Well," replied the old fellow, "I only hope he'll have as much pleasure in spending it as I have had in saving it."

GEN. CHEATHAM'S APPLICATION.—According to a correspondent, Frank Cheatham said in his application for pardon: "You know well, Mr. President, who I am, and what I have done. I am sorry and if you will pardon me I will be a faithful citizen henceforward. And if there is anything to be done, count me in, wherever I may be needed."

Gen. Braxton Bragg yesterday took the oath of allegiance at the Mayor's office, preparatory to applying for pardon to President Johnson. The General is, apparently enjoying excellent health.—N. O. True Delta, 10th.
