Baltimore, C. E. Convent.

Report of the Twenty-third Inter-State Education Exposition Held at Baltimore, Md., July 8-10, 1905.

Dr. R. T. Raiti, Director from Welsh.

Before the opening of the exposition, a delegation of 120 delegates arrived at the hotel. The delegation consisted of some of the leading educators of the United States, and they took an active part in the proceedings. The convention was held in the Hotel St. Regis, and was well attended by the various educational organizations of the country. The convention adjourned on the evening of the third day with a resolution to hold another in two years.

NEW YORK TELEGRAPH.

New York, November 17, 1905.

There is not a suspicious case or a death from the disease reported today. The public knows it is to smoke a cigar and the happiest.
