INDIANA:

Slate for the Republican Party in November

Speech of Ben Harrison, at Chicago, October 17, 1876.

-General Harrison had been as familiar a name in Indiana as any in the United States. The statement is made that in 1876 he was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He was then introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Jackson party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party.

The Governor then reviewed his own public career. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate

He was introduced to the large audience by the friends of the Republican party and the result was a demonstration of support for him by the party. He had gone to the Confederate