LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A Nuisance.

The citizens of the First district living out on Common street and its vicinity, are complaining loudly of a serious nuisance, caused by the nightly custom of the managers of the St. Charles and City hotels, in emptying the contents of their privies into the gutters, and washing the filth down Common street. This habit has been customary for years, and all attempts to have the evil corrected have been defeated. As a general thing, the street commissioner has a gang of men at work early every morning, cleaning out the gutters, and forcing these hotel excrescences through by the back part of the town, but sometimes the men so employed have other duties to perform, or are late or negligent, and at such times the effluvia arising from the gutters is intolerable. There have been frequent instances of their neglect of late, and any early-rising pedestrian on Common street, from Basin to Baronne street, where the ground is lose, on the time in question, will bear evidence to the terrible stench of the gutters. Anticipating, as we well may, more or less sickness this summer, the authorities should be brought to understand the nature of this nuisance, and should be required to correct it before it is too late.

Coroner's Statistics.

From Coroner Delery's official report it appears that from the 16th to the 31st of May, in this city, four persons were accidentally drowned, one was killed by a crate, one by the blowing down of a building, one by the accidental discharge of a revolver, one committed suicide, and six white persons and eleven colored died from various diseases without having medical attendance.

German Protestant Asylum.

The new German Protestant orphan asylum, located at Bloomingdale, a short distance above Jefferson city, was inaugurated Sunday evening with appropriate ceremonies, Reverend Mr. Heintzer officiating. The inaugural poem was read by Mr. Gustave Kriebbe, was spoken by Mr. Strumeyer, secretary of the association. Success to the German Protestant orphan asylum.

Suicide by Morphine.

A woman named Hannah King committed suicide, Sunday, at No. 745 Perdido street, by taking morphine. She was about twenty-two years old, and had been living a dissipated life. She is said to have come from Marietta, Ohio. The coroner will hold the inquest to-day.

Deaths during the Week—Increased Numbers.

The total number of deaths in New Orleans during the week ending Sunday morning, as reported by Dr. Dirmeyer, secretary of the board of health, was 111; of which number 1 died from burns or scalds, 12 of consumption, 2 of small pox, 2 of delirium tremens, 5 were drowned, 1 died of old age, 6 were stillborn, and the balance died of various ordinary diseases; 36 were under one year, 12 between 1 and 10, 5 between 10 and 20, 12 between 20 and 30, 15 between 30 and 40, 2 between 40 and 50, 8 between 50 and 60, 4 between 60 and 70, 2 between 70 and 80, and 8 whose ages were not stated; 49 were natives of the United States, 19 of Ireland, 4 of France, 4 of Germany, 2 of England, 2 of Spain, 1 of Prussia, and 39 whose nativities were not reported.

Loungers on the Levee.

Captain Blonk, of the river police, in view of the numerous complaints made concerning the number of idle persons who lounge about and obstruct the foot of Canal street, has issued stringent orders, by which this annoyance will be stopped.

On the Levee.

Yesterday morning a disturbance took place on the levee among the hands employed on the steamboat Silver Spray. The chief of police was promptly notified, and by the aid of the police force, together with a detachment of the First United States infantry, order was restored. A negro named Eugene Vinegard was arrested and locked up as accessory to the disturbance.

Ex-United States Marshal in Court.

The suit before the Fifth district court, instituted by Mrs. A. C. Rains and her daughter, Louisa Rains, against J. H. McKee, late U. S. Marshal, for damages, was submitted to a jury. Mrs. R. claimed $50,000 for unlawful possession of her furniture and occupying her house, and Miss R. claimed $1500 for an illegal seizure of her person. The jury found a verdict in favor of plaintiffs, allowing Mrs. R. $7500 and Miss R. $1000.

Cut with a Razor.

Officer John Hogan has made an affidavit that on the night of the 1st instant he was assaulted and cut with a razor, in the hands of Taylor Bright, who is a colored soldier and drum-major of the 34th infantry. The affair occured in St. Thomas street. The recorder has directed that the military authorities be notified of the affair, and has fixed the case for the 11th instant, under bonds of $500.

Funeral Honors to a Police Officer.

The funeral of Officer M. Welsh, late of the First district police force, took place from his residence, 257 St. Joseph street, yesterday morning, and was numerously attended by his late comrades. The police force made a handsome display. A finer looking set of men, physically, rarely get together in the community, while the soldierly bearing of the "new appointees" attracted general remark.

Attack Upon a Soldier.

Corporal Jones, of company I, United States infantry, was brought to the Third district station, about 2 o'clock Monday morning, having been found at the corner of Independence and Love streets. He says that a gang of six men attempted to kill him without any cause, and that the assault occurred near McCarthy's plantation. He was sent to the barracks.

Report of Arrests in May.

The following is an abstract of the report of arrests in this city during the past month, viz:

	Males.	Females.	Total.
First district	635	137	772
Second district	365	126	491
Third district	140	36	176
Fourth district	93	27	120
	1,233	326	1,559

Robbing a Printer.

As Mr. J. N. Moliere, a printer, was returning home Sunday morning about one o'clock, he was attacked by three unknown white men on Main street, near Burgundy, and robbed of his pocket book, containing $20, a photograph, a gold watch, and knife.

Drowned

George Connelly, a boy about nine years old, was accidentally drowned Sunday afternoon about three o'clock, in a pond at the foot of Market street, while bathing. The body was recovered and taken to the residence of the parents, at the corner of Market and New Levee streets.

Stabbing Affair.

Between 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday, a man named John Pettigrew was stabbed and dangerously wounded in the left side by one Manuel Robie. The latter was arrested, and Mr. Pettigrew taken to his residence No. 469 Victory street. The affair took place in the vegetable market, in the Second district. Both, we understand, are fishermen, and Pettigrew is said to have thrown a hatchet at Robie, when the latter drew a Sicilian knife and stabbed him. The blade of the knife is slightly curved, sharp as a needle, and about a foot in length. Pettigrew was stabbed in the left side, just above the hip, the blade apparently entering nearly three inches. He is not expected to recover. Robie was arraigned yesterday morning before Recorder Gastinel, and, without examination, was committed to await the result of Pettigrew's injuries. In the meantime he will not be permitted to give bail.

Coroner's Inquest.

The coroner yesterday morning held an inquest over the body of an unknown white man, found in the river at the head of Elmira street. The corpse appeared to be that of a man about fifty-five years of age, and had evidently been many days in the water. He had no money and no papers by which he could be identified. He was dressed in a maroon colored sack and gray pants.

Still Another "Negro Riot."

Last evening about seven o'clock as a colored man was passing up Saint Joseph street, he was assaulted by a party of boys between Levee and Tchoupitoulas streets. He retired one and while shaking him a violent assault with clubs and bricks was made upon him by boys and men. He got away from the crowd and went toward Saint Marys market but was followed by a white man who struck him with such force from behind as to fell him to the gutter. Immediately a rush was made by the crowd, armed with sticks and stones crying "kill him," "kill him," but he succeeded in getting up and making his escape through the market. A party of the First infantry stood on the corner but remained inactive, with the exception of one, who made a frantic effort to quell the disturbance by picking up a brick and hurling it at the negro.

Twenty Dollars Stolen

Betsey Mallet, a colored woman, has brought a charge against one Robert Clifford, also colored, stating that a letter containing $20, from her husband, Jacob Mallet, living in Pensacola, was addressed to her in the care of the said Robert Clifford; moreover, that said letter was delivered to Robert Clifford, and he has failed to account for it or for its contents. The accused has been put under bonds of $500 to appear on the 10th inst.

Le Breton Market.

The farming of the revenue of the Le Breton market was adjudicated on Saturday by the city controller to Mr. B. Claverie, W. R. Bell security, at $1400.

Coal Oil Accident.

A colored woman named Clementine Gallope, living at No. 220 Conti street, was badly burned by the explosion of a coal oil lamp early last evening. She is not expected to live.

Baptism at Bayou St. John.

On Sunday last, at quite at an early hour in the morning, large numbers of vehicles of almost every description were wending their way toward Bayou St. John. These carriages conveyed some two thousand people, nearly all colored, to witness or participate in the baptismal services to be performed under the direction of Reverend John Turner, of the African Methodist Episcopal church, who officiates at St. James chapel, on Roman street.

Fifty six candidates for admission to that church were baptized. The ceremony was most solemn and interesting. Mr. Turner was assisted by Deacon Forrest, Deacon Lloyd, of Jefferson (who is pastor of a church there) and Deacon Sampson.

It was not until evening that the religious assemblage dispersed and returned to their homes gratified with and profited by the services of the day.

Police Changes.

The following police changes have been made since our last report:

Appointments—J. A. Martin, P. McCabe, James H. Brown, Charles Erhard, James McGowan, Tim. Ryan, Michael Mullooney, John Keegan, Michael Croman, John Bennett, James White, Michael Powers, J. T. Drummond, Frank Ball, F. G. Jones, John Peplin, George W. Payne.

Removals—John Connors, J. D. Melville, A. D. Turrade, F. Delarme, E. Roubouin, J. Slatterly, J. B. Pagot, C. Johnson, T. Ford, A. Mackey, N. Decan, L. J. Bourgeois, M. Smith, L. Lambert, J. Summers, G. Ross, A. C. Powell.

Fourth Ward Republicans.

The meeting to-night of the Fourth ward Republican club will be held at the hall on the lower side of St. Louis street, between Treme and Marais streets.

A Dry Goods Swindle.

Sophia Malarme was arrested by officer Barry, at quarter past seven o'clock last evening at the Jackson railroad depot, charged by William Dauphin with swindling and obtaining goods under false pretenses. The dry goods lady was locked up at the First district station.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The managers are entitled to great credit for their efforts to cater to the public taste as they are successfully doing. The ballet "La Bonquetiere," in which all the female stars appear, songs by Eva Brent and Madelaine Hardy, games of strength by the Bubslays, personations by Macarthy, and Ethiopian eccentricities by Carter, Gerrard, and Schoolcraft, are followed by "Love in the Mountains" and "The Secret Lovers," in the bill for to-morrow night.

THE OLYMPIC MUSIC HALL.—A large crowd attend nightly the Olympic. Excellent and unequaled variety is the secret of the success of manager Hart. "Les Abeilles" a beautiful ballet in which the Maylings Louisette, Albertina and Becket appear, is the gem of the evening's performance. "New novelties nightly," is the axiom on which the manager seems to act.

THE RETH.—Mollie Sanderson is still the favorite on the boards of the Reth, and seems to gain a higher place nightly in popular esteem.

THE METROPOLITAN.—Large crowds nightly throng the Metropolitan to witness the comicalities of Clausen and Pell, and watch the graceful Cheville as they glide through the poetry of motion on the "light fantastic toe."

COURT REPORTS.

United States District Court—Hon. E. H. Durell, Judge.

United States vs. 7 barrels and 3 casks rum. Decree of condemnation.

United States vs. 25 barrels rum. Decree of condemnation.

United States vs. 8 barrels rum. Decree of condemnation.

United States vs. 15 barrels and 15 half barrels whisky. Decree of condemnation.

United States vs. 1barrel of whisky. Decree of condemnation.

Naturalized—John Flaharen, John Mc Leod.

Supreme Court of Louisiana.

Dabuc vs. Vass. Rehearing denied.

Marx vs. Knight. Rehearing denied.

Sullivan vs. Sauvtier. Rehearing granted on question of non suit.

Bauer vs. Shackleford. Rehearing granted.

Taylor & Knapp vs. McGee. Appeal from a judgment upon interrogatories answered by a garnishee. Dismissed.

Maurice Schott vs. I. Levy. Motion to dismiss appeal overruled.

Bertoluin vs. Bourgoin. The court decided in this case the citation was improperly issued, not being addressed to the defendant by name. Judgment reversed and cause remanded to be issued in accordance.

Bayley vs. McKnight. An appeal from an order of seizure and sale. The errors assigned were that the curator did not give evidence of his letters of curatorship, nor were the promissory notes, the evidences of indebtedness, stamped according to the revenue law.

The court decided the notes were given to secure a mortgage in the hands of the holder of the notes and letters of curatorship were not necessary to be shown and the notes need not be stamped as they were executed prior to October, 1863, affirming Bauer vs. Shackleford. Judgment of the lower court affirmed.

William Mithoff vs. Byrne, Vance & Co. The defendants sold to plaintiff one hundred bales of cotton at a specified price, the sale evidenced by a written contract which recited that the cotton was that of Levin & Elliot, planters, and spoke of delivery if sellers could ship it. Defendants contended the cotton was sold by them as agents of Levin & Elliott and offered parol evidence to prove it. The court below ruled out this parol evidence as tending to vary the written contract. The supreme court held it was admissible. The word "sellers" was ambiguous, and parol evidence could be admitted to explain, but not vary, the written contract. Judgment reversed, and cause remanded for a new trial; the rejected evidence to admitted if offered anew.

Converse, Hardinge & Co. vs. Blum, Kahn & Co. Motion to dismiss the appeal, on the ground that the bond on appeal was insufficient. The amount of the bond was fixed by the court, and did not exceed by one half the amount of the judgment. It is not good for a supersedeas appeal but is good for a devolutive one. The motion to dismiss was overruled.

succession of John Crusius, opposition to homologation of the tableau of the executor on the part of the State. The heirs are residents of Bavaria in Europe, and by the treaty of 1845 between the United States and the kingdom of Bavaria, no tax was to be paid by any heirs residents of Bavaria of inheritances in the United States. The State tax upon the heirs in succession must yield to that treaty. The judgment of the lower court homologating the tableaux of the executor without providing for the payment of the State tax was affirmed.

Riggins vs. Merchants' Bank; action to forfeit the charter of the bank on the ground of non-payment of its issue. The bank failed to answer, but no default was entered and judgment was rendered. This was error. Judgment rendered, and cause remanded to proceed according to law.

Lallande vs. Ingram, and same vs. Davis. Davis was a subscriber for 1000 shares, $25 each, of the capital stock of the Mechanics' and Agricultural Fair association, but the certificates were never issued to him. He pledged them by a written instrument to Lallande. Ingram sued him and issued execution and levied upon them. Lallande then enjoined the execution of Ingram on the ground these shares were his by hypothecation. The court decided those shares not having been issued by certificates were not the subject of hypothecation, and that Ingram by his execution obtained a superior right to Davis's interest. Judgment affirmed, and amended by striking out the five per cent. interest allowed, as this is not a case for the recovery of interest.

James vs. Fellows & Co. Judgment reserved.

Denton vs. Woods. Denton and Irwin were copartners and purchased real estate, battery property above the triangle building, which stood in the name of Irwin. The latter had obtained against him individually a number of judgments upon which execution was levied upon this and other property, but no sale made. Denton then sued Irwin for partition, and pending this action the property was sold entire on another execution to the defendant Woods. Denton obtained a judgment against Irwin for his undivided interest in the sale, and now has his rights ascertained against Woods, the purchaser of the whole, on the ground that he had notice of Denton's claim by the institution of the original partition suit. The court affirmed the judgment of the court below, decreeing a partition, as Woods could not buy more than Irwin had.

Robertson vs. A. Levy. Motion to dismiss appeal overruled, and judgment for defendant as of non suit.

Bowman v. Gonegal. In this case it appears that Gonegal contracted with Gov ernor Pettus, of Mississippi, to furnish him from New Orleans salt to the value of $5000, and to receive in payment thereof cotton belonging to the Confederate government. Gonegal obtained the money from Bowman, and agreed with Bowman he would not be entitled to the profits of the sale and all other transactions to grow out of these relations. Gonegal never consummated the barter as far as the evidence is concerned, and Bowman brings this action to recover back the $5000. The court held that while as a general rule they would not inquire outside of the evidence and the record into the motives of parties to contracts, yet the illegality of a contract could be shown at the case, and it was in the interest of public justice to permit it. This was a contract to aid directly in furnishing supplies and buying materials from those who were endeavoring to destroy the government of the United States and to disrupt the Union. Such an action cannot stand in our courts, and parties cannot there seek redress for the ill success of their illicit schemes. Judgment that the action be dismissed.

Bounin vs. Elliott. Verdict, $1000 for slander. Judgment affirmed.

Richard Taylor vs. Mohan, controller. The plaintiff is the lessee of the new canal. Prior to its lease a bridge was authorized to be built over it at Liberty street. The defendant, as controller of the city adjudicated the contract and the plaintiff sought by injunction to restrain the city authorities. The court affirmed the judgment of the court below dissolving the injunction.

City Bank vs. Bellocq, Noble & Co. Motion to dismiss appeal as not taken within judicial time. The time is to be counted from the day the judgment is signed, not when entered, but the appellant has lost his rights, otherwise there is no error in the record; judgment affirmed.

Nalle vs. Ventress. Judgment amended to eight not ten per cent. interest; otherwise affirmed.

Hope Insurance Company vs. Succession of Kingsland. Judgment rendered. The Insurance company not liable to pay over the whole amount of proceeds of seizure and sale to await the preferences in the succession; ordered to pay over surplus and give a sufficient bond to refund all legal charges to the succession when collectable.

Addison vs. Stettison. Defense that the notes was given as the price of a slave. Judgment reversed, and judgment for defendant, affirming Wainright vs. Bridges. [Published by the REPUBLICAN a week ago.—REP.]

Grenellion vs. Crossaillac, Tate vs. Fletcher, Austin vs. Sandel. Decided on the principles of Addison vs. Stettson, as above.

LaPlace vs. Heydel. Judgment affirmed.

Meyers vs. Simmons. Judgment affirmed.

Jacobs vs. Mason. Judgment affirmed.

Wright vs. Cummings. Judgment affirmed.

Arsowamith vs. Rappelge. Appeal dismissed.

Succession of Pitkins. Opposition to the homologation of the tableau of the executor on the item of attorney's fees. Judgment affirmed. Peter Marcy v. Merchants Mutual Insurance company. Suit to recover the value of the insurance on the ship Pelagus, destroyed by fire at the wharf at New Orleans on the twenty-fourth April 1862. The evidence showed the vessel was burned by the Confederates under the command of Governor Moore and General Lovell. This was an exception of risk in the policy. The plaintiff urged the fire was the result of general conflagration. The court held that the insurance company was absolved from the risk. Judgment affirmed.
