Andrew Jackson, president of the Baton Rouge police jury, has resigned because of the pressure of private business.

It is estimated that the amount due the newspaper publishers of this country by delinquent subscribers would pay the public debt.

A farmer in Ohio county, Ky., sold 103 hogs for $1,900. Fifty-three of them averaged 325 pounds, and the remaining 50,300 pounds.

The Governor has endorsed himself. In other words, the Governor appoints police juries, the police juries appoint delegates, assemble and endorse the Governor.—Free Press.

A Charlottesville, Va.., printer has written 3452 legible words on a postal card with a lead pencil, reserving in the centre of the card a space the size of a gold dollar.

Memphis Avalanche pithily remarks: "The Southern farmer will be a rich man when he has his corn-crib and workshop on and near his farm. He will continue to be a poor man on the average so long as he keeps one in Kansas and the other in New England.'

A curious Chinese delicacy is pickeled eggs that have been buried for years, that their flavor may, like wine, be improved. A similar custom prevails at Manilla, where duck's eggs are brooded until the young is formed, and then are boiled and sold in special stalls, as are oysters here.

It is said that some of the best English jockeys are women; daughters of farmers, or of country squires, who have lost their fortunes. They have been accustomed to ride to hounds from their childhood, are perfectly fearless, and their light weight in the saddle makes them desirable as jockeys.

We had the pleasure yesterday of meeting Major Robert Strong of New Orleans, traveling freight agent for that portion of the Texas and Pacific railway extending from New Orleans to Shreveport, who came here to notify our merchants and planters of a reduction of the railroad freight tariff. The Major is a most genial gentleman and will prove a popular official in any branch of service to which he may be assigned.—[Chief

Experience proves that a mixture of lime-water and milk is food and medicine both to the young and old when the functions of digestion and assimilation are feeble. A stomach taxed by gluttony, irritated by improper food, inflamed by alcohol, enfeebled by disease, or otherwise unfitted for its duties, will resume its work it is said, and do it energetically, on a diet of bread and milk and lime-water; four tablespoonfuls of the latter to a pint of milk.

Mrs. Annie C. Parham, of Memphis, is to be one of the exhibitors at the coming exposition in Cincinnati. She has has been engaged in silk culture, and has perfected arrangements to show the process from the egg to the silk prepared for the mill, with reels filatures etc. Mrs. Parham is to be a very enterprising woman, conducting all the details of business herself. Space has been obtained her for her exhibits of mulberry trees, all the objects that belong to her complete display.

"A COUNTRY PAPER."

Such is the expression used by the City Item in referring to the HERALD, and censuring as wild and stupid our article of last week wherein we drew attention to the attack made upon a Federal Court by the Times-Democrat.

"A country paper" and thank the Lord for it, if a metropolitan paper is to be controlled by every gust of passion which arises in the excitable and tumultuous portion of the community. Indeed, there could be no better proof of the advantages which the country editor, in many ways, has over his city contemporary, than this spasmodic fit of spleen and abuse which, simply this last judgment of the United States Circuit Court in favor of a venerable lady has created, against a great corporation.

Instead of advising the city to appeal, and the rich property holders to sign the appeal bond, and thus quietly secure the reversal of the judgment so violently alleged to be wrong, a large portion of the American city press have abusively attacked and villified the judge, plaintiff and her counsel.

Such fits of spleen the country press would not fall into. When things irritate us, we generally, before publication day, have time to cool off. In cases of unusual excitement some cool headed friend, planter or merchant, kindly inquires into the matter and by his level head and cooler counsels, keeps the country editor from making a fool of himself, perhaps even preventing his being shot at.

Again, the country paper has no temptation to revive old enmities to the Federal government. Under no possible circumstances would a "country paper" excuse the assassination of a Federal Judge, or threatened lynching of respectable counsel; all from disappointment as to the result of a law suit.

And yet these things found voice in the city press as just consequence of a judgment against [illegible] circumstances, we [illegible] in the humble sphere of editor of a "country paper" much to be thankful for, and only with sincere regret do we notice these exhibitions of madness in some of our city contemporaries.

How little these city papers, in this, would seem to represent the real sentiment of the people of New Orleans is forcibly shown by the latters response to the published call of the mayor to them to sign the necessary bond of appeal to suspend the decree requiring a levy of a tax.

Though the amount required is only fifty thousand dollars, yet, including over $10,000 signed by city officials, only some $41,000 was tendered at the meeting. The balance, however, was subsequently raised, as it would appear, through the personal efforts of the mayor.

At a dinner given the Continentals, by the Boston Lancers last week, Gen. Butler, of Massachusetts, delivered a speech which was responded to by Senator Marston of Louisiana. We have little sympathy with Butler, remembering as we do his infamous deeds while New Orleans was under his control, yet we feel that the people of Louisiana are in a measure avenged when Butler is compelled to sit quietly and listen to a long-winded speech from Marston. Butler was a sore affliction to Louisiana, Marston must have been equally so to Butler. "The mills of the gods grind slowly." This is what we call retributive justice.—[Baton Rouge Truth.

"Infamous deeds;" We have yet to hear of a single authenticated "infamous deed" perpetrated by Gen. Butler while in New Orleans, unless the cleaning and improvement of the streets, the feeding of the hungry, the protection of the people in all their rights and the honest administration of city affairs by a Federal officer may be called by that name.

Now that Gen. Butler is a Democrat it is about time to stop this nonsensical cry of "spoons," etc. That was all very well while he was a Republican. He now belongs to a party in which no such "deeds" are known, or wherein, if known or practiced, they become virtues. Truth, the editor of which is a shining light in the Democracy of this State, should adapt itself to Democratic systems of logic.

The differences between rice and sugar planters, growing out of the damage done to the latter from rice fields, are numerous and serious. It is extremely difficult to establish a remedy, but the St. James police jury has hit on the following system which may be a good one for all we know. We give it for what it is worth:

On motion, duly seconded, It was resolved that all persons cultivating rice on plantations adjoining other plantations which may be under cultivation either in cane or corn, or both, shall be requested to make and keep open line ditches of sufficient capacity to carry off the reapage or surplus water used by them for flooding purposes. That they shall also be required to build and keep in good repairs strong and substantial levees on lands by them cultivated in rice and along side of said line ditches in order to flood against said levees so as to prevent the water used by them from flooding their neighbors fields. That any person or persons who may be damaged by rice planters in violation of the foregoing ordinances may call upon the Syndic and Road and Levee overseer of his ward who shall notify said rice planter to comply with the above ordinances within three days, and upon his failure so to do shall proceed to close his rice flumes. That any person who shall attempt to open any Rice flume duly closed by the Syndic in pursuance of the resolutions shall be fined in the sum of fifty dollars for each offense recoverable before the Justice of the Peace of the ward where said flume may be located.

As much building is going on in this section, and roofing is an important part of every man's study when building, any new ideas on this subject must prove interesting:

The Philadelphia Record makes mention of one fact that cotton has been manufactured into coarse ducking, and successfully used as roofing material. It is said to be superior to shingles and slate, and is admirably adapted for covering houses, being a non-conductor of heat. The material is stretched upon the roof in a manner similar to placing wall paper in position, and is then coated with white lead and oil. Fire proof paint may also be used upon the material, and it is likely that in the near future, this style of roofing will be quite common. Such quality of cotton goods are manufactured in the Georgia mills, and other manufactures are looking to this quality of fabric with interest.

T. T. Allain of Iberville, was the only colored man, a duly accredit d delegate in attendance at the Levee Convention. He was justly proud of the honor.—[B. R. Truth.

Just like him! The Convention must have obtained much valuable information of a scientific character from the vast brain of this distinguished statesman, as well as been highly edified by his very modest yet courtly bearing. "Sweet Iberville" may justly be proud of the mental calibre and magnificent bearing of her dignified Soulouque.

The Iberville South.

Does it ever occur to our citizens that it costs but little trouble to plant shade trees. A hundred per cent. would be added to the appearance and comfort of the town, were a little attention paid to this decoration."

We have been preaching the same doctrine to our people of Hahnville. Very few, however, have acted on our advice. Mr. McLaren, the surveyor, is an honorable exception. His neighborhood is a perfect park, shady and beautiful.

We are in receipt of H.C. Tunison's matchless historical indexed county and railroad map of the United States and world, with official report of population of every county and state of the Union, compiled from the official census of 1880. Accompanying this map is a county finder or index in neat pamphlet form, designed to accompany the map. This map is very useful and accurate and the low price, $4.00 at which it is sold, places it within the reach of all. Address, H. C. Tunison, Jacksonville, Ill., Cincinnati, O., Omaha, Neb., or 88 Warren st., N. Y.

A young St Louis doctor has adopted the Chinese plan, and has entered into contracts for attending families at the rate of $4 per year for each person, paying one-fourth at the first visit, when date of contract begins. The other quarters are payable at six and twelve months. Confinements and surgical operations are extra. The Medical Society threatened to expel him, but he cited the case of a distinguished physician who has an annual contract with a school, and the society concluded to let him alone. The plan is becoming popular, and the innovater has contracts with 33 families.

A lawyer, while engaged in the prosecution of a wealthy and largely connected individual, was threatened with personal violence by friends of the accused. When the argumentative stage of the proceedings was reached, the situation became critical. The attorney carefully laying a pair of revolvers on the table before him said, "I shall now argue this case," and proceeded through a snorting argument without interruption.

We are receiving each week additions to our list of subscribers, and the former patrons are renewing. This is encouraging to us in our efforts to furnish a good parish and family paper.

Encourage newspaper reading among your children, and you will soon discover what a fondness they will have for their family journal, and how rapidly they will improve. The newspaper is the poor man's library—every family should be provided with a good newspaper.

Chicago merchants have the nerve to advertise, and it is to this fact that they are largely indebted for their success. We give the following instance as evidence. The Chicago Corset Co., about two years ago, began business on $50,000 capital, and the first year put $30,000 into advertising. To-day their sales are over half a million dollars yearly, and they are extending their business rapidly every day, with orders ahead all the time.

Hon. Charles Parlange, who represents Point Coupee in the Legislature devotes his leisure time to bee culture. He now has 300 colonies, after loosing 40 to 90 in the bad winter of 1880 81. He made a $4,000 honey crop in one year, and has sold $25,000 worth of honey in all, although for a period of three years he obtained no honey, from some cause. In 1874, during the overflow, he extracted 100 lbs, of honey in three months, one colony that season giving him 38 gallons! This is the largest yield ever reported east of the Rocky Mountains. He has shipped to New Orleans, New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati, and even Europe, but foreign shipments did not pay. His example has caused many others to commence bee culture, and thus added many thousands to the wealth of the parish.—[Sugar Bowl.
