NUMBER 6.

Sanders Announces for the U. S. Senate

Yielding to the solicitations of his friends in every section of Louisiana, Governor J. Y. Sanders of Bogalusa tossed his hat into the ring last Sunday and officially announced that he would be a candidate at the primary in September for the toga of Senator Gay, who is also expected to announce his candidacy for re-election at an early date. Donald Caffery of New Orleans, also a supporter of Governor Sanders in the recent gubernatorial contest, has announced, and one or two other candidates will likely enter the race before the contest is well under way.

In making his announcement on Saturday night, Governor Sanders said:

"Within a few days I shall return to Washington to be present when the conference report on the railroad bill is brought in. Before leaving New Orleans I want to announce that I have been receiving from every section of the state letters and telegrams urging me to make the race for the United States senatorship, and that I have decided to do so. I will be a candidate for the United States Senate at the September primary. I have served four years as a member of the House of Representatives, and the connections, friendships and acquaintances I have made at Washington lead me to believe that I can serve my state to better advantage in the upper chamber."

OUR CITY NEEDS GOOD CLEANSING

Bogalusa is in for a thorough cleaning up and the back alleys, the overflowing garbage cans, the trash, etc., is to be moved right away and the city placed in a perfect sanitary condition.

Mayor Sullivan stated Tuesday evening that the city was badly in need of a cleaning up and City Engineer Willis promised to be on the job bright and early Thursday morning and expected to have a "spotless town" by Saturday evening. Mr. Willis stated, however, that he was handicapped by the lack of trucks to do the work as fast as it should be done, whereupon the Mayor stated he would supply trucks from the Coast Southern.

If you have any trash in your back yard, get it to the alley, as the garbage can will be coming your way in a few hours.

"Hearts of the World" Is Program Saturday

D. W. Griffith's great production, "Hearts of the World," proclaimed the masterpiece of this genius of the motion picture, will be the attraction in the Magic City Theater Saturday, February 7, 8, 9 and 10 p. m. Matinee prices 15 and 35 cents. Night 25 and 50 cents, plus tax.

From all accounts this latest of the Griffith super-pictures far exceeds in point of drama and spectacle with his "Intolerance" and "The Sign of the Cross," two of the greatest productions in the history of entertainment.

The fact that "Hearts of the World" required more than eighteen months in the making indicates that Mr. Griffith has prepared an unusually interesting and absorbing story. The producer himself is anxious to have it understood that "Hearts of the World" is not a war play, but a love story amid the picturesque villages of romantic France, showing the everyday life in the country, along the silver streams, under the blossoming trees, over the hills where the legions of Caesar marched to conquest, and where the story of Navarre whispered his love under casement windows. It is true that the recent world war is shown in all its many phases, but this part of the story is reserved for the last and is made merely a background for the romantic and appealing story of a pure love and a whole-hearted romance.

Mr. Griffith's production is one of great historic value, for not only does he show such world figures as David Lloyd George, former Premier of England, Winston Churchill, General Joffre, the British House of Parliament and the French Cabinet in session, but he brings every important event of the war in bold relief and accurate reproduction.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferrand of Des Moines, La., were Bogalusa visitors last week. Mr. Ferrand is an attorney and is visiting the South for inspiration. He was favorably impressed with Bogalusa.

PHONE LINDSLEY IF YOU SEE HOGS OUT

The hogs are loose again—or yet. They are going to be kept up, as well as the goats. Several years ago an ordinance was passed to keep hogs and goats off the streets. Since that time there has been a continual stream of protests to the city officials that the ordinance was not being enforced. Hogs have been roaming the streets as much freedom and liberty as the children. No one yet has been able to see that the ordinance was enforced. Tuesday night a prominent merchant stated that garden-making time was here and that unless the officials would give protection from the hogs and goats that many people would not make a garden, just for the benefit of the hogs and goats.

Commissioner of Safety and Health Lindsley announced that his department would see that the goats and hogs were picked up as fast as they appeared on the streets and he requests that in the event you do not get service in this department that he would appreciate your calling him personally.

Bogalusa Woman Dies in Kansas City

Miss Beatrice Hennick, for a number of years employed at the Bogalusa Stores and one of Bogalusa's most estimable young ladies, who left here last July to make an extended visit with her sister in Kansas City, was a pneumonia victim, the end having come last Monday.

The remains arrived in Bogalusa Tuesday evening and the funeral services were conducted Wednesday, burial being in the Bogalusa Cemetery. The deceased was about 22 years old and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hennick, residing at 606 Avenue D. The funeral was an exceedingly sad one and a large number of friends attended the service.

JOHNSON GOES TO LOOK UP DUTIES

Jess Johnson, who last week was appointed federal prohibition director of the state of Louisiana, left Saturday afternoon for Washington, where he goes to get all details of his work. He is expected to return the latter part of this week and the first of next week will open his office in New Orleans.

As census enumerator of this congressional district, it is expected the job will be completed by the time he returns.

It has been announced that the new job of Mr. Johnson will pay about $5000 a year and traveling expenses. He will have several field men under him who will run down the violators of the prohibition law, but just how many could not be learned. It will require a fairly large force to get New Orleans under control, it is believed, and possibly one man will be appointed for each parish in the state.

On Mr. Johnson's return here the duties and assistance to be given him, as well as the time he will be in office, will likely be announced.

VERY FEW CASES OF FLU DEVELOPED HERE

The influenza situation in Bogalusa remains about the same as last week. A few new cases have developed, while others who were confined to their homes are now out, and physicians announce that there are about the same number of cases this week as last, which is considered very favorable to the city. The damp and disagreeable weather of last week was expected to develop a large number of new cases, and with fair weather promised for the remainder of this week all are hopeful that no new cases will develop.

FIDELAS CLASS ENTERTAINED

Last Thursday evening the Fidelas Class of the First Baptist Church was delightfully entertained by their teacher, Mrs. S. G. Stringer.

Promptly at 7:30 the class met in their class-room, and after a short business meeting games and delicious eats were enjoyed. Those present were: Mrs. T. W. Talkington, Misses Hester Knight, Ina Mizell, Katie Bender, Blanche Johnson, Huberta Bailey, Ethel Hart, Allie Lee May, Emma and Eva Williams, Jessie Pierce, Amanda and Grace Gayer.

Clyde Moore, one of the popular Bogalusa boys who has been away for several months, spent last week about his old haunts.

GOODYEAR BECOMES PRESIDENT OF GREAT SOUTHERN LUMBER CO.

Mr. Cooke Will Be Chairman of the Board of Directors—
New President Coming to Bogalusa for an Extended Visit; Is Well Known to Many Citizens; Has Been Vice-President of Three Bogalusa Companies Since 1912—No Other Changes in Officials.

Walter P. Cooke, who has been president of the Great Southern Lumber Company and the New Orleans Great Northern Railroad Company for five years, and the president of the Bogalusa Paper Company since its organization, has had a very great honor conferred upon him by the financiers of the city in which he resides, Buffalo, N. Y.

About six weeks ago Mr. George F. Rand, chairman of the board of directors of the Marine Trust Company, was killed in an airplane accident in England. The Marine Trust Company is the largest bank in the state of New York, outside of the city of New York. It has a board of directors of twenty-four, and Mr. Cooke was the unanimous choice of the board to fill the position made by the death of Mr. Rand.

The assets of the bank are about one hundred million dollars, and Mr. Cooke felt that he could not give as much time and attention to the details of the Great Southern Lumber Company, the New Orleans Great Northern Railroad Company and the Bogalusa Paper Company as they deserved, neither did he want his associates and the men who have worked with him in making these companies successful, feel that he was giving up his connection with them.

The directors of these three companies made Mr. Cooke chairman of the board of directors of each company and he will act in a general supervising way over the affairs of the companies.

Mr. Cooke is so much interested in the City of Bogalusa and its people that he said had things been otherwise arranged, he would feel like giving up his position with the Marine Trust Company, as he didn't want to separate himself from the people of Bogalusa and their interests. He expects to visit Bogalusa about the middle of February and will be here several days.

A. C. Goodyear, who has been electd president of the three companies, is the eldest son of the late C. W. Goodyear, who was one of the founders of the Great Southern Lumber Company and the New Orleans Great Northern Railroad Company. Mr. Goodyear has been actively engaged in the hemlock lumber business in the North and, up to the year 1912, was very active in the interests that centered around the City of Bogalusa. Since 1912 he has been one of the active vice-presidents of all the Bogalusa companies.

All of the men who have been in the employ of the companies some years are well acquainted with him and they are all delighted to have him president. Mr. Goodyear may depend on having the hearty co-operation of all the officers and employees of the companies, as well as all of the citizens of Bogalusa. He has just returned from overseas service, where he was a colonel of artillery. After the signing of the armistice Mr. Goodyear was made one of Mr. Hoover's principal aides in Europe, having charge of the distribution of coal in all the Central European countries. In connection with his active work under Mr. Hoover's department in Washington, there is a picture of Mr. Goodyear in the Saturday Evening Post of January 31, in connection with a long article covering Mr. Hoover's activities abroad. If any of our readers haven't the pleasure of knowing him and want to see his picture, it can be found in that magazine.

Mr. Goodyear will arrive in Bogalusa the last of this week for quite an extended visit. We want to take this opportunity of welcoming him again to the City of Bogalusa and we hope that under his direction the companies will be as prosperous as they have in the past and the many plans that have been made in a tentative way for bringing other industries to Bogalusa will be carried out.

There are no changes in any of the other officers of the companies.

Have You Sent Check to M. Marx

If you have not sent your check to M. Marx, treasurer of the Jewish Relief Committee, do so at once, as several hundred dollars have been allotted to Bogalusa to raise in this drive.

It is understood that no one will canvass the city in behalf of the drive as everyone who will give willingly will do so without being solicited. A number of firms have mailed their checks to Mr. Marx and a large number are yet expected. Think of 800,000 children who have not had a full meal in five years, who know of no home, no father or mother, who when sick must wander about. Suppose that just one of these 800,000 was your little darling, suffering from hunger day after day. Think of those hours, days, weeks, months and even years of suffering. Surely you will not let an opportunity like this go by without digging deep into your pockets. You can possibly save a life for $10—that amount will keep a child for a month. There is no need of thinking it over, just grab that check book and send it in right now to Mr. Marx.

HI-Y CLUB PARTY

The Hi-Y Club was host to the High School girls in a most delightful party at the Y. M. C. A. building on Saturday night. Interesting games had been arranged and plenty of chocolate and cake was on hand and the girls were impressed that the boys are good entertainers and the future mothers-in-law of Bogalusa girls are good cooks.

MRS. BELTON ENTERTAINS

Mrs. E. R. Belton entertained the members of her bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Avenue B. The first prize was won by Mrs. W. S. Hanley, while the second was awarded to Mrs. Hutchison. A delicious salad course was served after the games.

PLENTY OF FUN OVER $150.00 SCHOOL BILL

Should any money of the school fund be expended for athletics? Commissioner of Finance E. R. Cassidy thinks the school finances should not be used for such purposes, and when a bill was paid last fall for a trip to Bay St. Louis he registered his objection. At the meeting of the Commission Council Tuesday night another bill for $150.23 was presented. Mr. Cassidy objected to the paying of the bill.

Commissioner of Education Starns thought that athletics should be part of the school work. A warm discussion followed.

"Childless men like you and myself can't appreciate the necessity and good of such work," said Commissioner of Safety Lindsley to Commissioner Cassidy. The Mayor winked, the spectators laughed. The discussion continued and City Attorney Talley took a swat at the claim. Anyway, it was an enjoyable argument.

Finally Mr. Lindsley stated that he was of the opinion that a certain amount of the school fund should be budgeted for athletics and that a few hundred dollars would do much good. That did not pay the bill. It was finally decided to pay the claim out of the city entertainment fund, and all sides won the fight.

Who Will Seek Seat in Congress

The announcement that Governor J. Y. Sanders has entered the senatorial race will open a field for aspirants to a seat in Congress and already speculation has begun as to whom will succeed to the place he will make vacant. State Senator Delos R. Johnson of Franklinton is of congressional caliber and has a record that will make him one of the leading features in the contest. The fact that he was nominated for the state senate without opposition in a recent primary proves his popularity and ability to represent this district when it comes to lawmaking.

Amos L. Ponder of Amite and Harvey Ellis of Covington are also among those mentioned. The nomination will be made at the September primary at the same time the senatorial and judicial race will be made.

INCOME TAX NEWS YOU WANT TO KNOW

In order to clear away misunderstandings as to what constitutes dependency, in connection with the additional exemption granted income taxpayers, Collector of Internal Revenue Rufus W. Fontenot today gave out the following statement:

"For 1919 a taxpayer may be allowed a credit of $200 for each person for whom he is the chief support. But it must be remembered that he can claim this additional exemption only with respect to children 17 years of age or younger and persons mentally defective, cripples, and persons old enough to be, without question, physically incapacitated for self support.

If the taxpayer contributes to the support of some relative or other person who is over 17 years of age, in fair health and still active, he cannot be allowed the additional $200, even if he is furnishing the chief support.

The very different requirements of the two exemptions ("head of a family" additional $1000; dependent additional $200), must not be confused. To be the "head of a family" the person whom he supports must be a close relative, must live with him, and he must be such relative's sole support. To be entitled to exemption for "dependent," the person whom he supports does not have to be a relative, but can be any child or any cripple or defective; the child or incapacitated adult may live anywhere; and it is necessary that he furnish only more than half of the support.

The chief difference is that for "head of a family" the restriction is to close relatives, the evident object of which is to promote the home; for "dependent" the restriction is to children under 18 years of age, or persons mentally or physically defective, the object of which is to recognize material assistance given to those who cannot help themselves.

A son, who has left home, but who still sends to his mother more than half of her support with enough regularity that she may depend upon it, can be allowed the additional $200; provided, however, that the mother has become sufficiently aged to be

Four Fires During the Past Week

The Bogalusa Fire Department justified its existence last week by making four good runs, but in each instance the fires were beyond control, or the alarm was false. Where there was a blaze it was held to one place and no spreading was allowed.

The most serious fire was on Wednesday, when the store and market owned by Bob Carson in Jewtown was completely destroyed with all its contents. Just how the fire started is unknown. The building was valued at $1500 and the contents at $1500, making the $3000 loss complete. Both the building and contents were covered by insurance.

A four-room house, belonging to E. J. Dreyfus and located in Jewtown, was destroyed with all its contents. The family occupying the place were away at the time and the fire evidently started from within the building and was so far advanced when the alarm sounded that nothing could be saved. Mr. Fitch and family, newcomers to Bogalusa, lived in the house.

A four-room house located on Long avenue, in Richardsontown, was burned to the ground Sunday night. It was the property of M. R. Dorsey and was unoccupied. The fourth alarm came from Richardsontown also. A colored woman overdone the matter of starting a fire in a fireplace by the use of coal oil, and the blaze ran so high from the chimney that a neighbor sounded the alarm. No damage was done and the fire boys did not even connect the hose.

Pleasant Hill Will Get Concrete Walks

A large part of the Pleasant Hill section is to have concrete walks and work is expected to be well under way by the middle of March. Bids were ordered advertised at a meeting of the Commission Council held last Tuesday evening.

A petition was presented at a meeting the first of the year praying that the city place concrete walks in that section of the city, but no action was taken at that time in order that any who were opposed to the improvement could appear and state their objections. None appeared at the meeting Tuesday night and the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids.

Breland to Defend Southern Title

Atlee Breland, the Magic City-South's champion runner, will defend his title in the seven-mile Carnival race in New Orleans on Saturday, February 14. The Bogalusa boy captured the title last year from a large field of entries and holds the Southern record for the distance by several seconds.

Now that Breland is in better shape than when just discharged from service, no doubt Bogalusa can claim a new Southern record through the ability of this lad.

There will be lots of competition this year and for sure it will take a speedy runner to win. Chicago Ill., will be represented by a good man; there will be one from someplace in Canada, but just like the magic of Bogalusa, Breland will step to the front and take first honors, to be sure.

Leroy Moore and Louis Gayer are two others competing from Bogalusa and will no doubt make good. This being a handicap race, they ought to have no trouble taking the handicap medal, while the champion gets the time cup.

without doubt physically incapacitated for self support. Otherwise, the amount contributed must be considered as a gift, not deductible as an expense and not entitling him to the additional exemption, regardless of the amount.

A father may claim the exemption for every child under 18 years of age, but if one of his children receives from some estate, or otherwise, sufficient distributed income to provide for the expense of his support in the station of life in which he is placed, the father cannot claim the exemption with respect to that child, for, although the child is legally dependent upon him, he is, in fact, financially independent.
