Debate at Millersville

A very interesting debate took place last evening at the Millersville Acad emy and was attended by a large num-ber of persons. The subject of debate was "Free or Protective Tariff" and the sides were taken by Howard Cecil, of Millersville, and Irving Jones, of Davidsonville. Dr. Fell, of St. John's College and Mr. Robert Moss were the judges of the debate. The medal which was offered to the win-ner was awarded to Irving Jones, he presenting his side of the argument in a pleasing and interesting manner.

Had The Mumps

A marine, who was attached to the U. S. S. Hartford, of the Coast Squadron, developed mumps yesterday morning in a very aggravated state. ron, It was feared that his presence aboard would jeopordize the health of all the others on the ship and the Hartford was headed for the Naval Academy. She arrived here late yesterday after noon and the marine was at once re-moved to the marine barracks. This morning he was taken to the naval hospital in Washington, as it was thought he could better be cared for there than at the barracks. The Hartford left Annapolis this morning to ioin the squadron.

Junior Order of American Mechanics Maké Merry.

One of the most successful dances of the season was given last night by Annapolis Council No. 39 Junior Or-Annapolis Council No. 39 Junior Order of United American Mechanics. The dance was held in Boucher's pavilion, across the Spa, and was a great success in every detail.

Music was furnished by Boettcher's orchestra, a part of the Naval Academy band. The floor was in excellent condition for dancing and the large regard present were good natured, and crowd present were good natured and jolly, and did not in the least mind being jostled in the crowd of dancers. Refreshments were served by the well ketreshments were served by the well known West street confectioner, Gus Cardes. Dancing continued from 8:30 to 113:0. Although the day had been the warmest of the season, there were cool breezes across the Spa, which made dancing comfortable and pleasant. The threatening storm caused some of the dancers to wend their way home earlier than usual, but did not deter the larger number from remaining throughout the evening. Rawlings, chairman; H. F. Letour-neau and E. E. Fieseler. A delightful evening was enjoyed

RECEIVED A FATAL FALL A Workman at Naval Academy

Meets With Injury. William Davis, of Eastport, who has een employed at the Naval Academy or some time in connection with the erection of the buildings was seriously probably fatally injured this morning.

It is feared that his back has been broken and that there is little hope for his recovery. He was at work assisting in the demolition of the old morning. m dshipmen's quarters and was in the basement when a section of the floor above him gave way. The immense weight was precipitated on top of him, crushing him to the ground.

It was with considerable difficulty he was rescued from beneath the debris. Davis was placed in the wagon of the marine barracks and taken to his home. Later this afternoon it was stated that his condition was very serious.

Want to Change Date

And now after it was supposed that all arrangements as to date interment of the body of John Paul Jones had been decided upon in accordance with the suggestion of Governor Warfield, comes Secretary Morton with the proposition to have the ceremonies upon September 23 designated finally. Secretary Morton should know that at that time the midshipmen will be absent, as well as many of the officers will still be away so that the function would be sadly shorn of the pomp and ceremony, simply from a sentimental idea of cleebrating one single one of the great naval victories of the hero, viz: the fight with the Serapis. The President, who is to be consulted, will hardly anticipate the date already deermined upon, which is when the Naval Academy will be in full operation, and the ceremonies may be carried out in a manner proper to the occa-

An Interesting Relic A historic and valuable relic of Gen. Washington has been placed in the man or at Mount Vernon. It is a mahogany shaving stand which was used by General Washington every day he was at home after it came into his possession. It is now in the room in which it was used. This table is in a remarkable state of preservation. It was presented to General Washington by he first French Minister accredited to the United States.

The heirloom was purchased by the Mount Vernon Board of Regents from Mrs. Thomas C. Cox, who inherited it. The stand was willed by General Washington to Dr. Davis Stuart, of Fairfax, Va., whose first wife was Miss Washington. At his death the table was handed down to William Robinson, who willed it to his daugh-ter, Mrs. Cox. The table was made in France. There are three drawers, in one of which General Washington kept his razors and shaving parapher-nalia. Mrs. Cox personally delivered the table at Mount Vernon. While she declines to disclose the price she received for the stand, it is understood to have been $4,000.

New Rating In Navy A despatch from Washington says that President Roosevelt has issued an order creating the rating of tailors and assistant tailors in the Navy. Heretofore when a jackie had a suit which did not fit it was necessary for him to get a tailor on shore to have necessary alterations wade or to have necessary alterations made, or to have it done by someone on shipboard. Either way it was an expense to the tailor. The new order provides for sailors on every ship of the navy. On the big battleships there will be several, and at least one on the smaller vessels. The Navy Department has not decided upon the pay of the tailors, but it will probably be $15 or $20

THE MIMIC NAVAL WARFARE

The Torpedo Fleet Making Ready For Coming Maneuvers In Chesapeake Bay.

The swift torpedo boat fleet made dash past Forts Carroll and McHenry yesterday and circled down the bay, and the maneuvers of the swift little vessels came unexpectedly to the sen-tries at the Baltimore forts.

Admiral Dickins' fleet is preparing on Saturday next. In the fleet are the torpedo, destroyers, the battle-ship Texas, the cruisers Atlanta sand Newark, the monitors Arkansas, Nevada, Florida and Terror, the training ship Hartford and the practice ship Chesaneake.

Chesapeake.
The collier Marcellus reached Solomon's Island early yesterday morning. It is likely that the fleet will coal from the Marcellus before proceeding further. Later this week the fleet will be joined, near the mouth of the Bay, by the monitor Puritan, which will convoy the Naval Reserves to Washington. At the Capes the fleet will also be joined by the tiny torpedo heats Redgers, Durant Theoretic was boats Rodgers, Dupont, Thornton and Porter. Maryland's Naval Reserves, on the Sylvia, Hornet and Siren, will leave Friday afternoon with sealed orders.

Just what disposition Admiral Dickins will make of his fleet is, of course, a secret. It is believed that all will combine in the attack on Fort Monroe, but it is not known whether or not he will divide his forces for the attacks on Baltimore and Washington. Whether any more typede. ington. Whether any more torpedo boats or cruisers will attempt to survey the approaching scene of the exercises is unknown, but the dash of the torpedo boats has added to the an-xiety of the defenders of the forts, who will watch night and day to se that no warship approaches without their knowledge. The attempt of Admiral Dickins, through his swift destroyers, to get fresh news from the scene is naturally the first card for a commander to play. When the war with Spain was brewing the Spanish cruiser Viscaya was in New York, as all knew, to be in as close touch as possible with the metropolis of this nation, with the hope of getting information that could be ised later. Officers at the forts fail see what information the destroyers could have secured except to be able to report that the forts were wideawake and always had the "drop" on the warships.

State Board Acts

Owing to the fact that the city au-horities took no action relative to the complaint made by them the Boucher brothers have been forced to appeal to the state board of heath. Some time since they reported to the City Counil that the sewerage from a house adoining theirs was permitted to flow nto their yard and across the side-valk. It was stated by them that the conditions existing were dangerous to healh and asked that a remedy be secured at once. The city has taken no steps in the matter and as a result a quite sick. The state board of health was asked to investigate the matter and it is expected that Dr. Fulton, of the board, will make an investiga

It is not anticipated that there will be any board meetings, but that sever al pardon cases will be considered The Governor will give much of his time tomorrow in looking into the work which has already been done re-lative to the restoration of the old Senate Chamber. The room has been denuded of everything it contained and at present presents a very sorry appearance. Midshipmen Reinstated

At the instance of Secretary Morton the President has signed the orders reinstating Earl Chaffee and John Henry Lofland to the Naval Academy. Both these midshipmen, together with Midshipman Little, were dismissed from the Academy for hazing, and were permitted by an act of Congress to be reinstated subject to an examination. Lofland and Chaffee pas this examination, but Little failed physically. It is thought the physical ailment is so slight he may recover and may be reinstated at a later date.
